The Editor's column

MERRY CHRISTMAS to all who read this column — and a double MERRY to those who don't!

1955 has been a great year — so report the businessmen as they count their shekels at the close of the biggest Christmas season in local history.

One of them exclaimed Monday: "There was a great traffic jam on the streets last Saturday, and the greater the jam outside, the more customers entered my store!"

He seemed to glory in the traffic jam inside and outside his store. We're glad, because the advertising department tells us that he did a lot of advertising. This, of course, makes us happy, our employees happy, as well as the people to whom we owe money.

Regular readers of this column will forgive us this week if we extend personal greetings to the unsung heroes of the Paddock newspapers.

We hope that an abundance of Christmas merriment will enter the homes of the 75 community reporters who week after week send us the happenings of their respective towns.

Theirs is not always an easy lot. Their deadlines are as rigid as the editor's. In fact, the editor has it soft in comparison—if he hasn't enough material to fill his column, he can improvise.

But a reporter must have facts to work with or else there's no column. Instead of relying solely on fingers and typewriter to do the job, he must depend upon scores of sub-reporters to collect tidbits for interesting stories.

It's these "unsung heroes" of journalism that we want to wish a special CHRISTMAS GREETING.

While we're passing around the holiday greetings, we mustn't forget the postal employees whose backs ache from lugging around the thousands of cards and notes we've all been mailing and receiving the past 19 days.

They take their job in stride. Perhaps some of them, as they climb into bed after a hard day, are lulled to sleep by the thought that they've played "Santa Claus" to hundreds of families.

Their reward? An occasional cup of coffee . . . a small gift . . . but the gesture that will make them happiest is a cheerful smile and a "Merry Christmas" wish from the households they serve. If any of you have failed to do just that, surprise your mailman tomorrow morning as he drops letters into the mail slot.

The Northwest area can be proud of the Town and Country chorus, which presented Tuesday evening a very worthwhile Yule concert.

It was a program that delighted children as well as adults. The variation in numbers proved provocative for all musical tastes.

The "Night Before Christmas," well known carols, and, of course, selections from the "Messiah" made up the program most fitting for the first week before Christmas.

In behalf of the public we say, "thank you," to the chorus and especially its conductor, Lorraine Dean.

Phone calls to relief officials resulted in happy Yuletime news—there is practically no case load! Supervisor DePue, Palatine, reported Monday that for the first time in history he had no families on relief.

Supervisor Rohlwing of Elk Grove had the same reply, while Supervisor Klehm of Wheeling township—with a population of more than 25,000—said he can count his relief families on the fingers of one hand.

Remember the days when we all contributed to Christmas baskets, giving toys for youngsters and food for the family? We patted ourselves on the back for our generosity. We can still engage in some "patting" if we buy Christmas seals. There is a wide variety of seals, and if you want some—let us know.

The reception extended the Northwest Community Hospital center is proof that our hearts are as warm today as those of our dads and grandmothers, who each holiday season baked extra goodies to pass on to a neighbor. Those hospital contributions are actually insurance; we're buying health welfare protection for ourselves and our community.

As we return home from the special church services this Christmas season, our thoughts are on the real meaning of Christmas. Those who have a prayer of rejoicing to give to Our Savior are getting the greatest joy out of this Christmas of 1955.

The glad tidings of His Birth were destined to go 'round the world . . . to live forever in the hearts of mankind.

As we celebrate His Natal Day, may we all find renewed faith, hope and courage in the inspiration of His Message.

May we all hold steadfast to His promise of a world in which Peace and Good Will shall reign forevermore.

Arlington Teens Aid Youth Rally

Susi Carter, a reporter for the school paper, and Sheila Kutchera, an officer of the student council, represented Arlington Heights high school at the "coke social" which launched the planning program for a second Chicagoland youth rally.

The social, at the Conrad Hilton hotel, was conducted primarily to acquire ideas from teenagers. It was attended by representatives of high schools throughout the city and suburbs.

THE CHICAGO Daily News and Key Club International will again sponsor the Youth Rally, scheduled for next spring.

The 1955 Youth rally was attended by thousands of high school youth of the area who wished to focus public attention of the constructive-minded 95 per cent of American youth.

New Cemetery To Open On Wilke Road

A Jewish cemetery is to be established on Wilke rd., immediately north of Randhill Park. An option has been taken on 60 acres facing that road. Additional acreage now owned by Randhill Park Cemetery association will complete the tract.

A $75,000 combination administration building and chapel to serve the new cemetery will be constructed next spring. It will be of glass and steel construction and will include a supply room, chapel and business offices, as well as quarters for the cemetery caretaker.

Also to be erected is an entrance facade of 7 columns or pillars denoting the Menorah (ritualistic candelabra). Ten acres of the cemetery tract already have been developed as a park area. Work on sewers and roads will be under way in spring.

The Jewish cemetery, for which a name will be selected later through synagog-directed competition, will be operated separately from the Rand Park cemetery and will be of a memorial park type.

Jerome J. Greenberg, executive vice president, informed Paddock Publications Monday that the new cemetery will be apart from Randhill Park but will be of memorial park type.

Randhill Park recently issued an option to the Palatine Lutheran church for 100 lots, a percentage of the proceeds of which will be paid into its school building fund.

Fire Department Issues Christmas Suggestion

Are you planning a holiday party in your home, office, church or school? Holiday parties often center around a Christmas tree. Your fire department reminds you that evergreen trees can catch fire easily and burn furiously. So make safety as much a part of your party plans as the decorations or refreshments. Take these precautions.

First, don't set the tree near a stairway or elevator shaft which would produce a draft. Don't let it block a door or any exit. Provide plenty of ashtrays for smokers—and don't allow smoking near the tree. See that all decorations in the room have been flame-proofed. Have someone in authority inspect the tree every day to determine whether it should be left up any longer.

A Merry Christmas.

'Good Will To Men'

More than 1900 years ago
A babe in a manger lay,
And a star shone in the Heavens,
With a radiance clearer than day.

A multitude of Angels
Gave God's message to us then,
That has lasted through turbulent ages:
"Peace on Earth; good will to men."

We belong to a Christian nation
And though in theory may disagree
The Message He gave to all mankind
Was "WHO-SO-EVER, Believeth in ME."

Though you may travel by one road
And I may go by another way
That Glorious Star still leads us
To There, where the Christ-Child lay.

So during this Holy Season
While we honor His lowly birth
Let's remember the star and the Angels
And the Message they brought to Earth.

Propose Million Dollar Street, Lighting Program

Mail Failing Notices To High School Parents

Notices of unsatisfactory progress were mailed to parents of 436 Arlington Heights high school students this week.

A total of 620 notices were sent out, showing a slight improvement over the first quarter when 657 were mailed. This is approximately three times the number of notices sent out last year at this time. In most cases the student concerned is failing the course or is on the verge of failing.

Members of the faculty feel that the greatest single factor in this large amount of unsatisfactory work is the lack of study time in school and particularly the lack of time for supervised study in the class. The double shift schedule also makes it difficult for a student who needs special help to see his teachers outside of class.

Route 83 By-Passed --- Again

State highway route 83, north of Higgins, is again being by-passed by the state highway department.

Gov. Stratton announced this week a $127 million dollar road program.

Provision is made for construction of 192 miles of new roads and 11 million dollars for purchase of right-of-way, both of which would be needed if route 83 was continued north from Higgins road. At present, its detour goes through the center of Mt. Prospect.

The state highway department is alloting 31 million dollars in the Chicago area. Resurfacing of Rohlwing road between Palatine and Lake st. is the only road improvement to be made in the northwest Cook county area.

1 Killed, 7 Hurt In Highway Wreck

Margaret Davenport, 20, of 214 S. Beverly, and Robert Vetter, 20, of 813 N. Patton, both of Arlington Heights, are in Du Page Memorial hospital,, Elmhurst with head injuries following a collision Friday evening, which claimed Du Page county's 58th traffic fatality of 1955.

Killed in the accident on Route 53, north of Army Trail rd., was Clifford Carpenter, 38, of Chebanse, near Kankekee. He was a salesman employed by the Superior Coach Co. of Palatine. All 5 occupants of a car driven by William C. Thurber, Sr., 52, Westchester, are in Elmhurst hospital.

They are Thurber, shattered kneecap and a broken shoulder; William C. Thurber Jr., 25, also of Westchester, broken ribs, Helen J. Alkofer, 19, of 18 W. Maple, Mundelein, mouth injuries; Vetter, with head injuries and Miss Davenport, with a possible skull fracture.

DuPage county sheriff's police reported that the collision happened in the northbound lane. Carpenter was alone in his car, driving south. Thurber was driving northward with a carload of students from Illinois Normal college at Normal, bound for home for Christmas. Miss Alkofer's parents were to meet her at the railway station in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. O. F. Davenport, of Arlington Heights, mother of one of the injured girls, said Tuesday that the full extent of the injuries could not be determined until lacerations had healed so that bandages could be removed and X-rays taken.

Carpenter was dead on arrival at the hospital. Thurber was charged with involuntary homicide before Judge John Daw. Both cars were demolished.

Senior Tuxis To Present Annual Christmas Pageant

The Senior Tuxis of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will present the annual Christmas pageant during Christmas week, directed by Alice Schesske. There will be 2 performances, 1 for each session of church school and their families. The first performance will be for the 11 a.m. session Friday evening, Dec. 23, at 7:30 in the gymnasium; the second performance will be Saturday afternoon, Dec. 24, at 5 p.m. and will accommodate the 9:30 church school students.

The pageant will be approximately an hour in length. Some of the costumes are authentic robes brought from India by Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Lattof.

Dealers Deny Rumored Fuel Oil Shortage

Local fuel oil dealers this week assured Arlington Heights residents that there will be plenty of fuel oil available this winter.

Sterling Oil co., 120 E. Northwest hwy. and Schimming Oil co., 111 E. Eastman st., both discounted the likelihood of an oil shortage.

THERE HAS been speculation that the freeze-up of the Chicago river and the decision of the U. S. Coast Guard to stop breaking up the ice for river traffic would cause a shortage. Tanker ships deliver large quantities of fuel oil to the Chicago area during winter months.

Local dealers, however, do not depend on tanker delivery, getting the bulk of their oil by rail and pipeline.

There is a chance that shortages elsewhere could cause diversion of oil meant for this area, 1 dealer said, adding that the possibility is remote.

ANOTHER DEALER estimated that his business for the month of November, 1955, had increased 30 per cent over November, 1954.

Weather statistics compiled by the Burning Oil Distributors association, a group of Chicago area fuel oil dealers, show that this winter so far has been 15 per cent colder than last winter. Which is hardly news.

Christmas Sale

A Christmas sale of articles for late shoppers within the membership of the Arlington Heights chapter 992 OES will be held Tuesday night, Dec. 22. The sale will follow the meeting which will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian church parish hall, Arlington Hts.

'How And Why Do They Do It,' Says Editor

After attending a 6-hour session of Arlington Heights village board Tuesday evening, the editor of Paddock Publications, who pinch-hit for regular reporter asks the question, "how and why do they do it?"

He has informed the reporting staff that hereafter midnight will be the bed time for any reporter attending a village board meeting.

It appears to the editor that an alderman's job in Arlington Heights is approaching a full time position—and they do it for only $20 a month.

Open House For Aged

There will be an open house at the Lutheran Home and Service for Aged, 800 W. Oakton st., Arlington Heights, Monday. The public is invited.

A song service featuring the Immanuel Lutheran church school choir under direction of M. R. Bredehoeft will begin at 3 p.m. A buffet will be served in the main dining room immediately following the service.

Project Covers Downtown, Residential To Euclid Ave.

Traffic jams in Arlington Heights business district have "broken the camel's back."

A postponed street widening program that's been lying dormant 5 years has been dusted off.

New cost estimates of a combined widening and street lighting project were presented Tuesday night to the board of local improvements. Adoption of a half cent sales tax is tied up with the project.

Total cost will be nearly a million dollars with widening accounting for $485,000 and lighting about $288,000. The balance is composed of contingencies, engineering and legal fees.

Village trustees will hold a special conference January 10 to iron out financial details.

It was agreed that owners of residential property on Dunton between Euclid and Eastman should be given a heavy public benefit to ease the possible special assessment burden.

This same situation exists on Eastman, which may be widened from Highland to State; Evergreen from Eastman to Miner and residential property on Sigwalt; and north on Highland, Vail and Evergreen.

HALF OF THE total cost could be financed from a municipal half cent sales tax. Residential property would only be assessed 25 per cent of cost. It was objections to the special assesssment several years ago that killed the plan at that time, however.

Although it is anticipated that the improvement will be controversial, the village felt that the increase in property values along S. Dunton and W. Campbell will help push the project along as fast as possible.

With sales tax funds financing the greater part of the improvement, it's estimated that there could be a saving of $200,000 in cost as even the special assessment bonds could be sold at par.

Widening of Davis st. and street lighting for Northwest hwy. from Foundry rd. to Euclid ave. are also included in the package deal.

A CONTRACT for installation of meters on railroad property between the North Western railway and the village was also dusted off, but may go back on the shelves. The village share of meter take would only be a sixth of total receipts. For the same reason, use of some of the present parks for parking does not have much chance of becoming realized.

Realtors have urged the village to acquire at once all available lots near the downtown area to be used for off-street parking.

Skoog Asks Parents' Cooperation In Hunt

Carl H. Skoog, Arlington Heights chief of police, has requested that parents examine closely any new record player that a son or daughter may have acquired within the last 10 days. A model V.M. 90 record player was taken out of the store window of Shelkop's Television store Monday afternoon, December 12.

Here's Help For Complex Tax Problems

Approaching income tax deadlines needn't present problems to persons confused about preparing returns, deductions, forms.

Announcement was made this week of a class in income tax help to be offered in the spring term of Arlington Heights high school adult evening school.

THE CLASS will meet on Tuesday nights beginning January 31 for 5 2-hour sessions.

Since the internal revenue service has discontinued the practice of offering individual assistance in the prepaartion of returns, the class will meet a recognized need for an understanding of the regulations and approved methods of figuring returns.

Part of class time will be given to discussion on general rules of preparing income tax returns and a part to answering questions from the class and helping solve individual problems of a specific nature.

Instructor will be William Stull, a CPA with teaching experience in accounting and budget procedures in several commercial colleges and university night schools.

Arlington National Is High Bidder For Fire House Bonds

Arlington Heights National Bank and Harris Trust & Savings offered the lowest interest rate on the $115,000 Arlington Heights bond issue that will provide a second fire station and additional fire fighting equipment. Bids were opened Tuesday evening, when the award was made to them. They offered a 2.99% net interest rate.

M. C. Dick & Co., the other bidder, offered a net rate of 3.39%, which offset the higher premium and other fringes offered by that firm.

High School Recess Starts

Students of Arlington Heights high school started their Christmas vacation Wednesday afternoon at 4p.m.

Classes will resume Tuesday, January 3, at 7:25 a.m.

Free Theatre Party Monday For Arlington Hts. Children

It's holiday show time in Arlington Heights Monday for all pre-school and grade school age children!

A free theatre party is being sponsored at the Arlington theatre by Paddock Publications with the cooperation of the theatre management.

Included in the show are 8 cartoons, 2 18-minute comedies and a jungle featurette entitled "Black Fury."

DOORS WILL OPEN at 8:45 a.m. and 1:15 a.m. with the 2-hour shows starting at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Special added attraction will be Alfred Leech, master slight-of-hand artist, who will entertain for half an hour before both shows. Leech is considered a "magician's magician" and acclaimed as one of the nation's foremost performers of magic and mirth.

Leech will begin his performances at 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Youngsters will be seated up to the start of the motion picture.

ALL CHILDREN LIVING NORTH of Northwest hwy. will be eligible to attend the morning performance.

Those living south of Northwest hwy. are to attend the afternoon show.

From The Police Blotter...

Harry Helfers, 209 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, told police that he ran over and injured a possum December 13. Police destroyed the possum.

In another incident involving animals, Dr. H. G. Dunn, 809 S. Beverley, Arlington Heights, reported December 14, that his cat became caught in a trap in a vacant lot next door.

While he was at a local movie house December 14, thieves stole the battery from an auto owned by Theodore Salzman, 711 E. Clarendon, Arlington Heights. Salzman discovered the loss when his car failed to start when he emerged from the theater.

EARLY IN THE evening December 15, Mrs. Katherine Brace, 81, of 1007 N. Patton, Arlington Hts., fell and injured her left hip while walking several blocks from her home. She was taken to St. Joseph hospital.

Burglars attempted to break into a small building used by the Village Store as a toy warehouse on December 15. They broke a window but were unable to enter because of the boxes of toys stacked in front of the window.

Vandals splashed black paint onto 2 parked cars December 17. The autos belonged to Adolph Weinrich, 418 N. Douglas ave., Arlington Heights, and George Buechner, 920 N. Mitchell ave., Arlington Hts.

George A. Boles, 630 S. Beverley, Arlington Heights, reported that his mail box, standing on a 4x4 post at the curb, was smashed Saturday, for the third time in 5 months.

Philip Mowrer, 23, of Fox Lake, a carpenter, fell from a roof at 24 S. Yale ave., December 7 and was taken to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. That same day 2 girls were escorted home to Stonegate after being picked up while trying to get a ride. They told police they had moved here only a day before and were lost.

Bill Fortin, 7, of 745 S. Mitchell, was treated for a dog bite on the left leg, on December 7.

A girl's bicycle was reported stolen from Recreation park December 8 by Joseph Ostermann, 1617 N. Vail, whose daughter owned the vehicle.

Philip Musser, 28 S. State, reported to police December 11 that his bicycle was stolen in front of the Arlington pharmacy.

Police responded to the ring of a burglar alarm at Park Lane laundry, 720 E. Northwest hwy., at 10:32 p.m. December 11 and found someone gained entrance through a window and forced their way into an inner office door. No loss was suffered.

A sum of $75 was reported missing from a store in the Dunton shopping center over the weekend.

Ideas For "Decking" The Halls

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly" is a favorite carol of northwest suburbanites who each year festoon their homes with holiday decorations.

Need any new ideas? Jeanette Nelson of Palatine offered a few this week.

FOR THOSE who prefer flowers, poinsettia is, of course, the basic Yule plant. But also acceptable are Christmas begonias, Jerusalem cherry, azaleias, carnations and roses, and evergreen branches.

Of the latter, Mrs. Nelson pointed out that balsam is the most fragrant and white pine most suitable for softer decorative effects. And for those with a flair for something different, she recommended Noble, silver fir, and Western hemlock from the mountains of Washington and Oregon.

"Spruce is used only outside the home," she added, "because it sheds badly."

As a unique base for arrangements, the Palatine florist suggested a Santa Claus head, sleigh, or boat.

UNUSUAL and original door pieces can be created by incorporating hobbies into swags — using musical instruments, cameras, etc.

For religious emphasis, Mrs. Nelson suggested madonnas, angels, and creches.

A smart buffet decoration can be created from stemmed goblets filled with colored candles and highlighted with a candle — with the wax prevented from dripping on anything.

And as a safety measure, loose bough arrangements or a green tree can be fireproofed by spraying them with water glass.

Christmas Parties

The women of Wedgewood Terrace hope that Mrs. Eugene Melvin feels better as she was forced to miss the Women's association annual Christmas party, which she helped to plan this year, as one of the hostesses. Mrs. Henry Schwinn and Mrs. Walter Shipp were the other 2 hostesses who were not so unfortunate as to have sickness strike at that time. The party was held December 13 in the basement of Mrs. John Revus' home and about 35 women attended.

There was a grab bag for fun, much talk and refreshments for the womenfolk of the community.

Brownie troop 303 had their Christmas party Tuesday at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Revus. They will take home as a surprise gift for their homes a Yuletide decoration made of branches sprayed white with glitter sprinkled on and varied-colored foil reindeers shining on the branches. Mrs. Thomas Merritt is co-leader of the group.

Janice Kwiecinski became a 4-year-old December 9 and celebrated the occasion with a party for children. Guests from the subdivision were: Laura Lee Sailer, Karen Revus, Mary Schafer, Barbara Molitor and Louanne Cisewski. Cousin Kathy Kwiecinski joined the party from Skokie, as did Carol, Diane and Jerry Kaminski from Des Plaines.

Season's Greetings

This is the time of year for counting blessings. Among ours, none is more dearly treasured than the friendship of those whom we are privileged to serve. Not to be measured in dollars and cents, this is by far our most precious possession. To continue to deserve it is our constant aim.

To all who have helped make this year a memorable one for us... our sincere thanks and best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season... for a New Year richly rewarding in the best things of life.

Mistletoe Has Gay History As Strong Christmas Symbol

Of all the holiday symbols, none is stronger than mistletoe.

Oak trees were sacred to the ancient druids, so mistletoe growing on an oak received special veneration. It supposedly worked miracles of healing, protected from witchcraft, and promoted fertility in field and barnyard.

The magical powers of mistletoe inspired gaiety then as now. Unfortunately, its curative powers seem to have departed, for present-day scientists find in it no medicinal qualities.

IN DRUIDICAL times, the cutting of the mistletoe was a grand ceremony.

A great procession was formed and proceeded to the chosen oak, a pair of white bulls was tied to the base of the tree, while white-robed priests cut the mistletoe from the bough with a golden sickle used for no other purpose.

When it fell onto a white mantle held by lesser priests, the bulls were sacrificed. The mistletoe was then divided into bits and distributed on the first day of the New Year. Recipients hung sprays over their doors as a sign of amity. Anyone passing under it could be assured of welcome and shelter from the cold.

The custom of kissing beneath the mistletoe is the only remaining suggestion of the happy benefits it conferred on those into whose hands it fell.

THERE MAY have been a time mistletoe and kissing were both a part of the Christmas church service, but because of the romantic revelry they suggested, both were abandoned.

Though mistletoe disappeared from religious ceremonies, the kissing custom was preserved in the servants' halls and soon spread to the upper regions of the house. With each kiss the young man plucked a berry of the mistletoe hanging over his head. The young ladies passed by in this jolly ceremony were doomed to spinsterhood for the year to come. (B 10

Draftless Bed

In the last column your editor talked about the subject of the new Christmas pup. To follow up this article he would like to comment further on the suciect of a draftless bed, which is a "must" in winter. A dry draftless place to sleep can spell the difference between a healthy dog and a sick one.

Although you will probably not put a small dog outdoors at this time of the year, nevertheless a bed in the outdoor dog house should be raised at least 4" from the floor and should be equipped with sides to keep floor drafts away. Bedding such as straw, rug or blanket will help to keep the dog comfortably warm. If possible the dog house should be placed so as to face away from the direction of the prevailing winds.

THE BED of the dog kept indoors should be placed away from door entrances or stairs and very definitely away from radiators. In the average home a box bed with dry bedding placed in a corner or under a table should serve very well.

Whether kept indoors or out of doors in cold weather, dogs require plenty of exercise daily and, of course, adequate food. When taken outside he should be kept moving briskly. If he plays in the snow be sure to wipe him thoroughly with an old towel as soon as he comes in. The less baths in winter the better. If you do bathe him be sure to keep him in a warm dry place for two hours afterwards. Actually better than bathing in cold weather is a good stiff daily brushing.

New Breed

The Rhodesian Ridgeback, a South African dog, has become the 112th canine breed to be officially recognized in the United States, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

"Recognition" means that dogs of this breed are now eligible for registration with the American Kennel Club and that they may be shown in the Hound Group at dog shows held under AKC rules. Sometimes referred to as the African Lion Hound, the Rhodesian Ridgeback was bred by the Boer farmers to fill their need for a serviceable hunting dog in the wilds. It is a product of the Great Danes, Mastiffs, Greyhounds, Bloodhounds, Terriers, etc. brought by Dutch, German and Huguenot immigrants to Africa centuries ago and the hunting dog of the Hottentots marked by a ridge on its back formed by the hair growing forward. Aside from their good qualities in hunting big game, the Boer settlers found them to be excellent companions and protectors of their families. Ridgebacks weigh 60 to 65 pounds and stand from 23 to 26 inches in height.

Occasional importations of Rhodesian Ridgebacks to the United States began in the 1930's, continued through the '40's, and in 50 there was organized the Rhodesian Ridgeback Club of America for the purpose of collecting all available data on speciments in this country. The present population of the breed in the U.S. is estimated between 300 and 400.

Barks and Bays

Because of their hypersensitive hearing Army dogs are being trained as plane spotters. Speaking of spotting brings to mind that according to the records just published for 1954, some 41,054 Beagles started in 290 Championship Field Trials in 1954. Sounds like a lot of rabbit spotting.

As a closing thought your editor wishes to convey the Season's Greetings to all the readers

Adult Class Confirmed At St. Peter Church; Yule Party Tuesday

A group of 17 adult persons was received into membership in St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, last Sunday. The group had previously persued a course of study in the fundamental teachings of the Holy Bible and Lutheran church under the guidance of the pastor, Luther V. Stephan.

The class members are Mrs. Edward Albright, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. Franklin Bahe, Mrs. Marion Becker, Paul Bradley, Lee Brown, Edward Fitch, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Mrs. Clyde Harting, Mrs. Richard Hoffman, Mrs. Raymond Hummel, Mrs. John Monroe, William Saunders, Mrs. Robert Schuler, Mrs. Harry Schumacher, Michael Schumacher and Mrs. Sam Ungaro.

The couples club of the church will entertain members who have joined the congregation within the past 2 years at a Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 27, 8 p.m. Invitations have been issued to 174 adults who have affiliated with the church since January 1954 either by transfer or by rite of adult confirmation.

Plans have been laid for entertainment in the auditorium of the parish activity building followed by refreshments served by the Dorcas Aid. St. Peter church council has also been invited and representatives from it will welcome new members. The pastor will introduce the newcomers, who in turn will be asked to state where they came from and to mention their hobby.

A Crown Prince E joys An Imposter

Royalty went to the theater last week to watch a play about royalty.

And the real thing — Prince Frederick Eugene of Austria and his son, Richard Leopold —described the show as "wonderful," adding that "everyone should see it."

The play is "Anastasia," a drama about the intrigues of Russian royalty and a princess — imposter. It stars the fabulous Eugenia Leontovich and is at the Blackstone theater. (B7

Sober Sides

Hero Bus Driver, 26, Takes Life Saving Fame In Stride

by TOM BRENNAN

Last week was a big week for the Robert Boehkh family, Palatine.

First of all, the man in the family bowled a 600 while bowling for the Methodist Men's club Tuesday night. Boeckh thought he had done quite well by getting his name in the paper for that feat.

That's why he was quite surprised to suddenly find himself a hero among fellow bus drivers, passengers and the public Thursday morning.

BOECKH IS THE 26-year-old driver credited with saving the life of a passenger stricken with angina pectoris Wednesday morning. He left his regular route and hurried to Passavant hospital where the passenger, Walter Hamman, 53, of 1137 Tyrell st., Park Ridge, was given emergency treatment.

Hamman's physician, Dr. Earl Ferron, 162 E. Ohio st., said if there had been a delay, the attack might have been fatal. Hamman, a salesman, was later transferred to West Side Veterans hospital and is reportedly making a satisfactory recovery.

Boeckh lives with his wife, Jean, and 4 small children in a frame house on Palatine rd., several miles west of the village. They rent their home, located on the estate of the late Arthur McIntosh.

BOECKH RELATED the incident over squeals of delight coming from the children as they watched a noontime TV show:

"I didn't think any more about the incident until I saw it in the morning newspapers," he began.

"I was going down Lake Shore dr. on my daily run from Des Plaines to the Loop. At North ave. I saw a man get up and start to walk to the back of the bus. He collapsed. Someone shouted that he'd had an attack.

"I had to decide whether to stop and call an ambulance, continue to the Loop with my passengers, or go directly to a hospital. I decided on the hospital, and I'm glad that it was the right decision. But I believe that any other bus driver would have done the same under similar conditions."

Boeckh's attractive blonde wife, Jean, interrupted his story to tell of her husband's safety record in 3½ years as a driver for United Motor Coach Co.

"He's only had 1 accident all the time he's been driving," she said. "And that includes 2 daily trips in and out of the Loop at rush hours. Soon he'll get a pin for having a perfect safety record for 2 years."

THAT SAFETY record has paid off for the Boeckhs. The company credits him with 500 points for each accident-free month and awards premiums for points.

"The only catch is, they take away 1500 points for any accident that the driver could have prevented," grinned Boeckh.

Monday morning of last week he started driving again after a short period of inside work as supervisor.

"I didn't care for the desk job," he recalled. "I'd much rather be out in the open and meeting people. The passengers are all very friendly. We have a great time together."

He once surprised his daily riders by serving them hot coffee on a cold morning. The passengers, too, had something up their sleeves. They came up with a nice fat envelope that Christmas and added to it a gold-painted, "rhinestone"-covered ticket punch. (B7

Open Enlistments For Air Reserve Squadron

Major John K. Auld, 1009 Watling rd., Arlington Heights, commander of the 13th aerial port squadron (reserve), announced he had received the go-ahead from higher headquarters to enlist 200 more veterans into his unit.

Major Auld, a World War II veteran who served in the far eastern air force, stated that the mission of the squadron is to transport and deliver cargo by air land, and water to military units in its area. "Our mission compares to that of an airline," he said, "plus the delivery of equipment and supplies by parachute method." The unit trains one weekend a month at O'Hare Field.

Major Auld continued by pointing out that the additional strength will eventually make his squadron one of the largest in the United States. He stated that, in addition to the many benefits the Air Force Reserve has to offer a veteran, the 13th Aerial Port Squadron also offers him a chance to earn hazardous duty pay.

"All in all," he concluded, "the program offers the veteran an excellent opportunity to learn the technical operation of air terminals, flight processing, and the techniques associated with ejecting cargo in flight."

Christmas Mail Bags Carry Record Loads

Postmaster Carl Schroeder Friday announced Christmas mail in the Chicago area hit a new record by a greater margin than usual this year.

Schroeder said the first 14 days of December, outgoing first class mail was up 11.6 per cent over the same period last year with a total of 105,990,700 letters this year. Incoming mail was up 20.4 per cent with 91,674,471 letters.

OUTGOING parcel post packages in mail sacks were up 35.3% with packages sacked at a total of 3,168. Incoming parcel post in mail sacks was up 16.3 per cent with a total of 333,600. Schroeder said the big difference is accounted for in that Chicago is a heavy mail order center and most of the packages are going out rather than coming in.

Large individual packages mailed out were up 27.8 per cent at a total of 593,000 and incoming large packages were up 7.2 per cent with a total of 167,300.

In taking inventory of our assets for the past year, we find one that we value most. This priceless asset is friendship. And who are our friends?" Why of course, they are YOU . . . our customers!

With The Blue Birds

Bluebird Wings and Blue Angels

The Bluebird Wings and Blue Angels celebrated a combined Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Warren Sands. At the party the girls received their official Bluebird pins from their mothers. After the pinning ceremony the groups presented their mothers with gifts which they made at previous meetings.

The girls and their mothers enjoyed refreshments of cookies, brownies, and punch the girls made for the party. The groups also displayed the scrapbooks on which they have been working.

The Bluebird Wings' next meeting will be January 3. Blue Angels will sing carols at the North Western station on December 20 and their next meeting will be January 3.

Honeybears

Mrs. Paul Crommelin, leader of the Honeybears, took the girls to Hagenbrings at their last meeting toy shop for Christmas gifts for their Good Fellows package.

After shopping the girls wrapped the gifts they purchased and then sang Christmas carols. A treat was served by Christy Schumaker. At their next meeting the Honeybears will enjoy a Christmas party.

Friendly Bluebirds

The Friendly Bluebirds were very busy during their last meeting. The girls separated into 3 groups and baked Christmas cookies for their party December 20. They baked cookies at the homes of Mrs. Poilitz, Mrs. Lorenzen and Mrs. Maley. Their treat for the day was sampling the cookies they made.

Helping Pixies

Helping Pixies finished making presents for their parents and then wrapped them at the last meeting. Janet Nicol served as hostess since it was her birthday.

Bluebird Leaders Meeting

Bluebird leaders met at the home of Mrs. Paul Crommelin and discussed their Christmas gift ideas. They also discussed day camp and decided to elect a camp chairman at their next meeting. Getting the Good Fellow Christmas packages together and delivered on time was also discussed. All Bluebird groups have enjoyed Christmas parties and also enjoyed caroling at the North Western station December 20.

The Bluebirds and their leaders wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a healthy and prosperous New Year.

Virginia Terrace News

Christmas Lights

Christmas lights in Virginia Terrace are partly for the benefit of the many guests seeking the houses where parties will be held.

A Christmas party will be given Friday night by Maxine and Shel Mells, 1608 W. Oakton. Guests at the party will be Jen and Bob Kline, Margaret and Don Walters, Jo and Bob Hult, Phyllis and Charlie Marshall, Ruth and Ed Liebenow and Barb and Don Dahl, Oak Lawn.

Among the carolers who sang Wednesday were Nancy and Jack Griffith, 1436 N. Race, Gwen and Bob Horter, 1322 Race, Claire and Bob Dever, 1430 N. Race, Muriel and Jack Manfrin, 1336 N. Race, Shirlee and Hobart Scott, 1341 N. Race, Corinne and Don Green, 1330 N. Race, Carolyn and Bob Menick, Elizabeth and Joe Silverman, 1317 Race, and Lynn and Tom Smith, 1610 Olive Doughnuts and coffee were served later at the home of Gwen and Bob Horter.

A Christmas "open house" was given by Pat and Dick Gorman, 1440 N. Race. Among those attending from Virginia Terrace were Margaret and Gene Dougherty, Tess and Tom Rossell, Mona and Frank McKiernan, Dorothy and George Murray, Marion and Grover Hartig, Nancy and Jack Griffith, Claire and Bob Dever, Doris and Frank Sullivan, Elenore and John Whipple, Phyllis and Hal Fluhrer and Ruth and John Calhoun. Other guests were Mr and Mrs. Frank Tye, Northbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voltz, Morton Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gorman, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gibbs, Skokie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conroy, Elmwood Park.

New Residents

New residents in Virginia Terrace are Doris and Francis Sullivan, 1426 Race. The Sullivans moved from Minneapolis to Arlington Heights around the middle of November. They have 3 boys, Billy, 5½, Frankie, 4 and Steve, 2½. Mr. Sullivan is a navy pilot stationed at Glenview air station.

Timmy Trummer, 1418 Oakton, celebrated his third birthday last Friday with an afternoon party. Guests at the party were Leslie Yates, Felicity, Anne and Tommy Frisbie and Marianne, Kathleen and Jimmy Brown.

Another child celebrating a birthday was Suzan Wiley, 1329 Race. Suzan was 4 years old and had her party December 9. Guests at her party were Jeanne and Joey Bauer, Jeffrey Jensen, Laura Harper, Tommy Green, Ralph Menick and Suzan's sister, Mary Ann.

Kirk Horter, 3½, 1322 Race, is feeling much better, Kirk spent a week in the hospital with pneumonia.

A special meeting was held last Monday night of the board of directors of the Home Owners association. The discussion was on zoning.

Formal Organization Of New PEO Sisterhood

Formal organization of Illinois Chapter IX of the PEO Sisterhood was conducted by Mrs. Edwin Bay of Springfield, Illinois State Organizer, Monday evening, Dec. 12 in the Junior high school cafeteria in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Bay was assisted by the presidents of the 3 other Arlington Heights chapters which sponsored the organization of the new chapter, the fourth in Arlington Heights and the 252nd in Illinois. Five of the 15 charter members of the new chapter are former chapter presidents.

Among the more than 100 attending the meeting were the 7 Illinois state officers as honored guests; the president of the Northwest Suburban Round Table, Mrs. Donald Cox of Arlington Heights; and special guests from PEO chapters of Barrington, Palatine, Evanston, Glen Ellyn, Des Plaines, La Grange, Downers Grove, and Chicago.

Mrs. F. L. Shimmin of Peoria, Illinois first vice-president, reported on the several national projects of the PEO Sisterhood. These include Cottey college of Nevada, Mo., a junior liberal arts college for girls which is owned and supported by PEO; the sisterhood's educational loan fund and scholarship program; and the international peace program which extends scholarships to students from many countries to study in the United States. Seven girls are at the present time attending universities in this area under this scholarship plan.

Preceding the formal meeting members of Chapter HN of Arlington Heights were hostesses for the dessert and social hour arranged by Mrs. Robert Stark who was assisted by Mrs. Joseph Fanger, Mrs. L. P. Swanson, Mrs. William Hannum, and other members of her chapter.

Mrs. Irving T. Rinker and Mrs. Willis Hubbard presided at the tea table which was decorated in gold and traditional Christmas red. Other flower arrangements and decorations which gave the cafeteria a festive air were in the holiday theme.

Officers of Chapter IX installed by Mrs. G. W. Bonson of Oak Park, Illinois state President, are: Mrs. V. A. Redeker, president; Mrs. C. F. Raasch, vice president; Mrs. G. E. Ninde, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Knippenberg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. White, treasurer; Mrs. K. B. Knopp, chaplain and Mrs. W. A. Roberts, guard.

Sheriff Lohman Gives Area Teens Taste Of Army Life

Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman and Fifth Army representatives have announced plans to provide a taste of military life for Chicago and Cook county youngsters this winter.

Beginning Feb. 10, a different group of 50 teenage boys will go to Fort Sheridan to get a soldier's-eye view of the camp.

The boys will be divided into squads of 25, each under an army sergeant picked for his experience in handling young people. They'll be assigned to a section of a regular barracks with full-time soldiers and will eat at the enlisted men's mess. The food will be good, Lohman and the army promise, and the barracks will be steam-heated.

BUT THE BOYS will share more than the comforts of military life. They'll also make their own beds and clean up their section of the barracks. There will be no kitchen police for the youngsters, however.

There will be squad drills and the army's "dail. dozen" of military exercises. The boys will get a chance to examine bombers and fighting planes, and they will get a close-up look at rifles, anti-air craft guns and other weapons. There will be movies on army life, including a color film on "The Making of a West Pointer."

The boys will be known as "GI Juniors." They will wear real army fatigues, with field jackets and helmet liners, and each boy will get a "GI Junior" insignia to wear on his jacket. The boys will have to return the army clothes—but they will be allowed to keep the insignia as a souvenir of their end.

IN JUNE the program will be expanded. Each week 100 boys will go to camp for a 5-day period.

Later next summer, girls may be allowed to participate, under the direction of the Women's army corps.

Boys aged 13 to 17 who think they would like to be "GI Juniors" should write to Juvenile Bureau, Sheriff's Office, County Building, Chicago 2, Ill.

A similar program carried on by the sheriff's office and the Marines last summer will be resumed next summer, Lohman said. Boys who want to volunteer for the "Devil Dog Teens" should also write to the sheriff's juvenile bureau.

Million Dollar Election

Park Ridge will vote January 7 on 2 bond issues: one for $350,000 for a new public library and another for $650,000 for improvements in the water works.

Topsy Turvy Poinsettia Is Favorite Christmas Flower

In little more than a century, the poinsettia, a flower nature turned topsy-turvy has become the nation's favorite Christmas decoration.

The petals of many flowers are larger and prettier than the seed bracts, usually formed int o a small greenish cup below the petals.

Not so the poinsettia.

Nature has made the vermilion bracts serve as the "petals" of the poinsettia while the "flower" is properly the tiny yellow center of the bloom.

Central and South America, attaining heights of 6 ft. Not until 1829 were they imported to the United States, and it was at this Poinsettias flourish wild in time that the glorious red flower received its name.

Dr. Joe Roberts Poinsett spent 4 years in Mexico as minister from the United States to the land below the Rio Grande. While there, he cultivated the flower and upon his return to Charleston, S. C., he brought some plants along.

Soon they were the highlight of his gardens at "Casa Bianca."

From there the poinsettia spread until it is now widely cultivated throughout the southern part of the nation, and the hothouse version has become a favorite decoration for festive Christmas tables. (B7

Here's Sad Tale Of Township That Tried To 'Go Straight'

This is a tale with a touch of irony.

This is a tale of tangled-up taxes and tender tempers.

The township is Northfield, the taxes are 1955 personal property taxes to be paid to Cook county Assessor Frank Keenan, and the tempers are those of many Northfield residents who filed their returns.

Cause of the ruckus is the burgeoning growth of the township, and the tremendous increase in school enrollment.

THE AMOUNT of bonds that a school district can issue in order to build new schools depends upon the assessed valuation of the township in which the districts are located. Northfield township has 6 elementary school districts. According to Richard Y. Hoffman Jr., 1234 Ridgewood, Northbrook, chairman of the tax committee of the Northfield Township Joint school board association, 5 of these 6 districts ran out of money this year just at the time when enrollments and needs were mushrooming.

To raise the assessed value of the township — and hence get more money for schools — the residents decided to put on a campaign to get taxpayers to declare a truer (and higher) valuation on personal property. Hoffman's committee was the chief moving force behind this campaign.

BY PAYING more taxes, there would be more money for schools, as Hoffman pointed out that about 65% of township tax revenues go to township schools and 8% to Cook county. So the township stood to gain directly through more tax money and indirectly through higher bond limits.

Township Assessor Rocky Campanella sent out letters to all residents, explaining the desperate financial condition of local schools. When he asked the Cook county assessor's office for assistance in setting up valuations, he said that he "was given the clear impression that the assessor's office considered the matter simply one of local self-determination."

Campanella investigated tax practices among various county townships. Hoffman worked with him on this project and they set valuations on automobiles, which valuations they consider to be "average around the county if all the facts were known."

HOW MUCH is a car valued at acording to Hoffman's "county average?"

A 1954 Buick Special is valued at $150, a 1955 Studebaker at $200 and a 1955 Oldsmobile at $250 according to Mrs. Helen Beebee, chief clerk in Campanella's office. At personal property tax rates of about $6 for each $100, there is a tax of $9 on the Buick, $12 on the Studebaker and $15 on the Oldsmobile.

Mrs. Beebee explained that the valuations were set low in order to encourage all of the township residents to file returns. She added that these valuations equaled 20% of the valuations used in neighboring New Trier township, including Evanston.

Northfield residents cooperated in the move to raise money for schools and filed returns in unprecedented numbers. In 1954, for example, there were just 267 individual returns voluntarily filed, out of a total of 1098 returns sent to the assessor's office. This year there were nearly 6500 corporate and individual returns filed, and Mrs. Beebee estimated that 6,000 of these were from persons who hadn't filed in the previous year.

Of course the people of Northfield used the suggested auto valuations in their returns, expecting to pay a total tax in most cases of less than $25. (Furniture was valued at $25 a room which Mrs. Beebee described as "a county-wide practice. Keenan did not change furniture evaluations.)

THE BOMBSHELL that dropped into the picture was the release of the 1955 assessment list by Keenan.

He had, without a word to the citizens of Northfield township, multiplied the assessed values of their automobiles by 5 times. The tax on that 1955 Oldsmobile would now come to $75.

This blow was met, or at least challenged, with the formation of a committee by Northfield residents. Heading it are John Larned of Northbrook and Norman Buehling of Glenview.

The committee is urging and assisting grieving taxpayers to file complaints to the Board of Tax Appeals. The appeals have to be filed before the end of this week but as of Tuesday only 300 had gone to the trouble of filing a complaint.

WHAT IS THE attitude of the other 5000 plus?

According to Mrs. Beebee, it is:

"We won't pay any personal property taxes at all. Just let them try to collect from us. There aren't enough courts in the county for the thousands of suits Keenan would have to file."

There it rests for the moment.

The next step is up to Keenan.

Meanwhile, needed new classrooms aren't being built because tax revenues aren't coming in.

This is also the tale of a township that tried to build schools.

'Our Wonderful Redeemer' Is Theme Of St. Peter Program

In 3 Christmas eve services, children of St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, will again tell the story of Christ's birth. This year the theme of the story is "Our Wonderful Redeemer."

Although the services are identical, a different group of children will participate in each service. The first service will begin at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 24, and the children in the I through M group will tell the story in recitations and songs. The second service with the children in the N through Z group participating will begin at 6 p.m. and the third service, with the children in the A through H group, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The children will meet in the auditorium of the activity building and from there will march to the church. Members of the faculty will be in charge of each group.

The program will include the processional hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," altar service, address by Pastor L. V. Stephan, introduction of theme, "The Sav-Savior's Wonderful Gospel" and the closing altar service.

Some of the well-known carols the children will sing during the service are "Come hither ye children," "O Holy Night," "Silent Night" and "When Christmas Morn is Dawning."

For the boys and girls of St. Peter Lutheran school, classes will be resumed January 3 at 9 a.m.

Our Saviour To Observe Festival With Special Services

A candlelight vesper service Christmas eve at 7 p.m. will begin the observance of the high festival of Christmas at Our Saviour United Lutheran church, meeting in Dryden school, Rockwell and Dryden, Arlington Heights. The service is planned for both the children and adult members of the church, and families are urged to worship together this holy night.

The Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, will preach the Christmas eve sermon on the theme, "An Evening in Bethlehem". The senior choir, under the direction of Marjorie Stedry, will sing a group of 3 Carpathian carols arranged by Tkach, "There Shall a Star Come Out of Jacob", by Mendelssohn, and "O Holy Night" by Adam. The Christmas gift of the Sunday school to the children of the church will be distributed at the close of the service.

Christmas morning a special program is being planned for the Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. with the highlight being the showing of a Christmas motion picture depicting the birth of the Christchild. The morning worship will begin at 10:45 and the Rev. Mr. Petersen will use as his sermon theme, "The Why of Christmas". A new altar, the gift of the Brotherhood of the church, and built by Walter Krueger, will be dedicated at this service.

Two circles of the church are to held Christmas meetings Tuesday evening at 8. Circle II will meet at the home of Mrs. Bruce Nelson, 1415 W. Oakton st., and Circle III will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Krueger, 14 N. Yale ave. It should be noted that these are the last meetings of the present membership of the circles; the new circle assignments will be effective at the January meetings.

A group of 29 new members was received into the membership of Our Saviour church at the service last Sunday morning. The following persons were welcomed into the fellowship: Arnold Aaland, 535 W. Eastwood Events

Extend Thanks

Henry Wallace would like to thank all the ladies who gave Christmas cookies so generously for the Eastwood party last Friday evening. He would also like to take this opportunity to thank his committee who worked so hard to make the party a success. Committee members were: Mrs. Norman Johnson, Mrs. Ellis Larson, Mrs. Norman Dennis, Mrs. Carl Nelson and Mrs. Herman Raasch. Neighbor, William Johnson, made the visit from Santa Claus a very delightful one for the youngsters.

Phillip Neas is an official member of cub scout den 7 as he took his oath last Friday night at the pack 232 meeting at the North school.

Mrs. Myrtle Mesnard of Mason, Ill., enjoyed a pre-Christmas visit the early part of this week with her son and his family, the Arney Mesnards, N. Beverly. She is leaving by train Thursday to spend several months in Pasadena, Calif. with a daughter and her family.

Birthday

Dawn Anderson, daughter of the Jack Andersons of Lincoln lane, enjoyed her 12th birthday last Sunday with an afternoon bunco party attended by 16 girls from her scout troop. An evening supper party for 20 relatives, including her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hare of Coral Gables, climaxed this happy day for Dawn.

Mrs. Lillian Bryan was hostess Monday evening to a group of 12 women from the Arlington area at a Christmas get together of long time acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow and their children, Bruce, Bonnie and Donna attended a dinner party Sunday evening at Simpson's in honor of the 35th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Burrow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Eich of Mt. Prospect.

Bridge scores of the first five couples after 2 months of playing are: Garth and Edwina Heisig, 8610; Herm and Dorothy Raasch, 8580; Hal and Nida Barnes, 7400; Bob and Lois Burrow, 7260; Matt and Betty Cockrell, 6500.

Neighborhood playmates helped Wally Berglind celebrate his 4th birthday December 20 at a supper party. Wally is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Berglind 638 N. Beverly. His party guests were Joyce Anderson, Linda and David Manchee, Kevin Klopfenstein, Diane and Ellen Fill, Joey and Francine Schneller and his sister, Barbara.

New Neighbors

Welcome to new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John McPherson, who moved here from Dearborn, Mich., and now call 501 N. Douglas home. Their children are Robert, 6, in the first grade at North school, John, 3, and David, 2. Mr. McPherson is regional distribution manager for the Ford Motor Co.

Eastwood officers and board of directors extend their best wishes for the holiday season to families of the area.

Eating Their Cake, Too

Employees of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea co. throughout the country are sharing more than $2,500,000 in pre-holiday compensation this year, it was announced this week by Ralph W. Burger, president of the food chain.

Every employee with as much as 6 months' service is receiving a part of the annual fund voted by the company's board of directors. Distribution was scheduled for December 17. Amount to be distributed was $200,000 more than last year's compensation.

LONGER LIFE for Your Clothes when Washington —Washes

Personalized care is the theme at Washington Laundry . . . care that you can't duplicate even in your own home. Every possible precaution in washing is taken by expert personnel to protect your clothing and household textiles. First, your wash is sorted according to color and textile content. Then it is placed in a durable net bag to eliminate chafing and rubbing during the washing cycle. Water temperatures and soap strengths are kept "just right," too — all adding up to cleaner, softer, lovelier wash. No wonder hundreds of Suburban women prefer the Washington way in laundering. Results are better, costs lower than washing at home. Let the Washington Laundry prove it to you now. For pickup and delivery service, call

Children's Christmas Party

Wally Johnson and Don Peterson scored another hit with their children's Christmas party last Saturday afternoon. More than 230 children were on hand to cheer over the color cartoons. The party began with the showing of a film entitled "Twas the Night Before Christmas" followed by several which brought howls from the little ones, then the story of the "Littlest Angel" and last of all a Pluto cartoon. From then on Santa Claus was kept busy lifting children on his knee, handing out toys in gaily wrapped packages and making with his famous "Merry Christmas Ho-Ho-HO." At Santa's side stood a 7-foot Christmas tree decorated with over 200 peppermint canes which the children were invited to take from the branches. To satisfy empty "tummies" there were dixie cups and decorated Christmas cookies. Judging from the big grins and beaming eyes the toys met with approval. There were more than 25 different toys, all sizes, all shapes and those who deserve credit for wrapping cartons and cartons of toys are Ginny Sims, Shirley Kerz, Alice Mead, Rosemary Baer, Lil Harrington, Adelyn Ziemann and Alice Johnson. Many thanks also go to Elmer Ziemann, Ed Koren and Ken Jahnke who helped during the afternoon and made everything just that much better because of their efforts. Of course, the biggest thank you of all goes to that loveable old soul from the North Pole, George Fisher, who did a magnificent job. Wally and Don have announced they are going into hibernation for awhile and get a little rest.

Lost And Found

The Mt. Prospect Country club reports that after the Green's dance Friday night they found 3 different earrings and a rhinestone bracelet, but, unfortunately, no tie pin which was reported lost by one of the members.

Harriet Bell, who is in charge of a brownie troop in the Greens, has a problem of seating the girls around a ping pong table when they are working on their various Brownie projects. Harriet decided that orange crates might do the trick since their working materials could be put inside the crates and they would also be the right height for seats. However, her problem was not so easily solved because orange crates seem to be at a premium. If any readers receive fruit in crates for Christmas or happen to have any crates lying around the basement, don't burn them, instead phone Harriet at Clearbrook 3-7183 and she will put them into service.

Happy Birthday

December 10 was party day for Barbara Epsky, daughter of Ruth and Ray Epsky. Invitatons to Barbara's party read "bring along your doll". The dolls played a big part in the party plans. Each of the guests was given fabric, scissors, needle and thread and proceeded to dress her doll in a new creation. Seamstresses were Linda and Kathy Loos, Madelyn Bludeau, Linda Flodin, Maureen and Carol Cooney, Georgine and Georgette Lallish, Peggy Prafke, Janice Kirchner and Barbara's 2 sisters, Marilyn and Nancy. Black cows, cup cakes and candy were served to complete the 7-year celebration for that day. Barbara had a second party Sunday when relatives gathered from Chicago to wish her well.

Although Ann Kalkhoff's 11th birthday was December 20 she entertained 3 of her friends the previous Friday evening at a slumber party. Christine Forpe, Linda Trimmel and Jessie Hill received their invitations in miniature pillow cases which Ann's mother, Dorothy, made. Before going to bed the girls enjoyed cake and ice cream and had a pajama parade. The party ended the next morning with a hearty breakfast of waffles.

Tree Decorating

A party by any other name is still a party so Jane and Bob Bee invited Ginny and George Hartley, Peggy and Bob Ponter, Beth and Ned Shanahan, Jean and Bill List and Judy and Pete Schmidt to a tree decorating party Saturday night. Jane maintains that she and Bob alone could never have done as professional a job as did all her guests. The men were in charge of lights; the taller the man the higher up the tree was his appointed job. The girls took care of ornaments and tinsel and all had a jolly time. The jolly time was further enhanced by punch, baked ham, baked beans, potato salad and Christmas cookies. The Bees have had a tree decorating party for several years and recommend it as the best way of getting a tree trimmed.

This 'N That

Mindy Evans, 4½-year-old daughter of Hope and Warren Evans, is back home in time to have an especially merry Christmas. Mindy recently underwent surgery at Sherman hospital, Elgin, and is now recuperating at home.

Christine Bylski, 12-year-old daughter of Terry and Ray Bylski has proven herself to be quite a speller. Not only is she one of the best spellers in her seventh grade at school, but last week walked off with third place in a spelling contest at the Junior High auditorium in which all the schools in this district sent their champion spellers. Christine received a silver pin and a paper mate pen for her achievement. By winning third place in this contest, Christine is now eligible to appear on television sometime next year and demonstrate her skill against other champions. The first prize winner will receive a trip to Washington which, needless to say, Christine has her eye on. Good luck Christine.

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ONE AND ALL!

OBITUARIES

Cassius Easton

Ask To Annex New High School To Mt. Prospect

High school district 214 has petitioned the village of Mt. Prospect to annex the 60 acre Foundry rd. site to the village. The ordinance is being prepared and will be acted upon by the board of trustees at the January 3 meeting.

In a letter dated December 6 addressed to the high school board of education, the village offered water and other village services for the new high school. It was pointed out the village will receive no tax money from the property, but in a spirit of cooperation services rendered by the village would benefit the interests of Mt. Prospect and the entire high school district.

Annexation to the village should decrease the fire insurance rate, and the village police department will patrol the property. (AM

Mail Truck Damages Car!

Arlington Police Report 9 Auto Accidents In 6 Days

An Arlington Heights mail truck that had no emergency brake rolled backwards down a driveway Wednesday morning and backed into an auto stopped for the stop sign at the intersection of Chicago avenue and Northwest hwy. The auto was driven by Marjorie Bernthal, 1610 Brown st., Arlington Heights. It received damage to both doors on the right side of the car. Driver of the post office truck, a 1949 Dodge panel, was David E. Pryor, 18, of 2410 Robin lane, Rolling Meadows.

Kenneth H. Raff, 41, of 746 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, reported to police Wednesday morning that his 1948 Chevrolet panel truck was stolen from his driveway late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, rolled and then returned. The truck had dents on the hood, top and both sides when he found it in his driveway at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday morning.

The 5 days between December 15 and December 19 were apparently open season on utility poles in Arlington Heights. Motorists struck 2 of them at intersections on Northwest hwy. on the first and last of those dates.

EDWARD L. TOLLEFSON, 23, of 205 Olive ave., Prospect Heights, explained to police that he was cut off by an unknown car coming west on Euclid as he was making a left hand turn onto Euclid from the highway. He said that in order to avoid a collision he swerved right and hit a utility pole. The time of the accident was shortly after 1 a. m. December 15. Two wires were cut but electric service was restored several hours later. Tollefson was issued a ticket for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor after being given a drunkometer test.

LeRoy Re, Ringwood, was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor after his auto knocked down another the southwest corner of Vail and the Northwest hwy., supported only the street light at the intersection. Re's wife, Mrs. Frances Re, was taken to Resurrection hospital and released after being treated for bruises.

TWO AUTOS got smashed grills and fenders in a collision December 14 at the intersection of Evergreen ave. and Miner st. in Arlington Heights. A car driven by Ronald E. Barmann, 25, of 1564 Park pl., Des Plaines, collided with one driven by Kenneth R. Rapp, 16, of 308 W. Euclid st., Arlington Heights. There were no injuries or arrests.

Mary Roller and Annabel Leonhard, both of 144 W. Main st., and Alma Leonard, 501 W. Euclid, all of Arlington Heights, were treated for minor injuries after a collision Dec. 17. The auto driven by Alma Leonhard collided with one driven by Lawrence Kussow, 48, 1203 Woodford, Arlington Heights, both cars receiving front end damage.

Police measured skid marks of 84 feet after an accident Saturday morning in which both drivers were ticketed.

Mrs. Margaret A. Shervey, 201 N. Wheeling, Prospect Heights, was traveling west on Euclid and attempted to make a left turn at 815 E. Euclid. Police stated that her car was hit on the left side by one driven by Cosmo J. Valia, 256 S. York st., Bensenville, who was also going west on Euclid. Mrs. Shervey was arrested for failure to make a left turn signal and Calia for going too fast for conditions.

Plan Commission Approve Several Subdivisions

Arlington Heights plan commission gave approval to several subdivisions at its session December 5.

Upon recommendation of the plat and subdivision committee the chairman and secretary were authorized to sign the plat involving 4 lots bounded by S. Mitchell ave., Kirchhoff rd. and S. Chestnut being offered by Trendle & Lowe.

Similar approval was given to 11 lots on Palatine rd. of 20,000 square feet or more.

CARL BOWEN of the engineering firm of Consoer and Associates reviewed his findings of 250 acres between Palatine rd. and Thomas st. and the feasibility of a valve-controlled storm water reservoir at the southeast corner of the area. This area is at present outside the village.

Approval was given to units B, C, D and E. of Westgate Subdivision No. 2 after comparison with the master plat previously approved by the commission.

Mr. Levine of Arlington Realty has offered to pave the full width of S. Dunton between Central rd. and Magnolia streets if authorization is given to the division of 120 ft. lots into 60 feet. The commission gave its approval by a 3 to 2 vote.

Thomas A. Catinos' plat of a proposed subdivision to include 132 lots, bounded by Fairview, Kennicott, Kirchhoff and Ridge was referred to the plat and subdivision committee. (A

Cub Scout News

Cub scouts of pack 37, Arlington Heights, will give a Christmas party tonight, Dec. 22, at St. Peter Activity building for their families.

There will be a gift exchange for the scouts and gifts from Santa Claus for brothers and sisters. Members of den 4 will be hosts for the evening. They are Mrs. Ivor Fruehling, den mother; Michael Ruhnow, den chief, and members James Fruehling, Paul Lippke, Richard Majerus, Scott Westfahl, Phillip Ruhnow, Norman Dierkas, Tom Robb and Paul Radtke.

The entertainment committee has scheduled a movie for the program. Awards will be given to John Myne, David Weber, Scott Westfahl, James Fruehling, Donald Kiehl, Donald Kirchoff, Bruce Jackson and Bert Freeman. Jim Harting was made a bobcat.

To find a career to which you are adapted by nature, and then to work hard at it, is about as near to a formula for success and happiness as the world provides.

Arlington Man Wins Gift Wrapping Contest

JOHN SEDOR

Children at Cook county hospital are the real winners of a gift-wrapping contest sponsored by the Washington Laundry and Dry Cleaners of Evanston for its employees.

Over 60 gifts were entered, and all were donated to the hospital to help children have a Merry Christmas. Holding his winning entry is John Sedor, 909 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights. Judges for the contest were Mrs. S. Katz of Evanston, Earl Bowman of the Evanston Trust and Savings Bank, and Jack Kerns, manager of the Georgian Hotel.

News Of Prospect Meadows

'Tis the week before Christmas and all through the subdivision Meadowites are busy with their preparations for a happy holiday. Beautiful decorations have appeared like magic and homes on every street are gleaming with cheerful Christmas lights.

Indoors the excitement is mounting and the last-minute hustle and bustle has reached a peak. Children of the Meadows will have a pre-Christmas surprise Friday evening as Santa Claus will be at their homes with a Christmas stocking for everyone, and your reporter wishes to join Santa in wishing every one a very Merry Christmas.

Christmas Parties

Bert and Joyce Ruther were busy last week attending 2 Christmas parties. Tuesday evening there was a dinner dance at the Sherman hotel given by the Metropolitan Home Builders and Wednesday another dinner dance at Mangam's Chateau in Chicago, given by Chicago Roofing contractors.

Friday evening Ruthers entertained at home. Their guests for the evening were Beth Donahue and Doug Smith. Miss Donahue recently returned from a 2-month visit in Europe, and every one enjoyed seeing slides of the interesting places she saw.

Sunday afternoon Bert Ruther and daughter Valerie attended a children's Christmas party given by the Elks in Des Plaines. Chipper was unable to join them because of a bad cold, and every one hopes that he recovers very quickly.

Chuck and Lorrie Brazeau also attended a Christmas party with their children Sunday afternoon. It was held in Chicago and was sponsored by Schenleys, by whom Chuck is employed. The children saw movies, sang songs, enjoyed refreshments and received gifts from Santa Claus.

Christmas Programs

Several children from the meadows participated in Christmas programs given by their Sunday school classes. In the afternoon a Christmas play was presented at St. Mark Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect and the cast included Freddie Hampe, son of George and Charlene Hampe, Evan Potratz, son of Reuben and Doris Potratz, and Susan and Sharon Larson, daughters of Ray and Ethel Larson. Ethel Larson is a Sunday school teacher at St. Mark.

Sunday evening Faith Lutheran church of Arlington Heights presented a Christmas program given by the primary department Sunday school classes. Included in the group were Donna and Debbie Walsh, daughters of Don and Dorothy Walsh and Neil and Marsha Wells, children of Evans and Lisa Wells.

Get Well Wishes

So many Meadowites are ill with virus infections and the usual cold weather diseases, it is hoped that everyone will have recovered in time to enjoy the holidays. Millie Webber and her boys Larry and Bobby have bad colds. Vicky Heurlin is out of school with another session of bronchitis. Andrea Nye is ill with a strep infection. Her daddy, Loy Nye, and his mother, Mrs. Janet Nye, have also been on the sick list. It is hoped that Lynn and little Scott have remained immune. Ten-month old Debby Kay Brazeau, daughter of Chuck and Lorrie Brazeau, was seriously ill with trachea bronchitis last week but is now out of danger and recovering satisfactorily.

New Positions

Vic Heurlin, formerly piloting a plane for Admiral corporation of Chicago will be flying for Thor Power Tool corporation, also of Chicago, beginning December 22.

A nice change in jobs after the first of the vear is being looked forward to by Chuck Brazeau. He was transferred from merchandising to sales division of imports for Schenleys.

John and Velma Sage and Ray and Dorothy Doyle and daughter Maryanne joined the Swinging Squares last week at the Arlington Heights field house for an evening of dancing. The evening had a Christmas atmosphere with a grab bag and holiday refreshments.

Newest member of the Doyle family, 2-week old Kim, is doing very well. The Doyle household has been a very busy place since Dorothy and her son came home from the hospital with visiting relatives coming out to see the new baby. Saturday evening uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Mc Donald of Chicago, came out to spend the evening and get acquainted with Kim.

Chuck and Lorrie Brazeau entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sabitt, Prospect Heights, Saturday evening with a pizza dinner.

Birthdays

December 6 Marcy Vosburgh, daughter of Bill and Rosemary Vosburgh, celebrated her fourth birthday with a party at her home. Her guests were Judy Kemptainen, Linda, Donna and Nancy Sell, Carol Waldron, Evan Potratz, Dolores Schoens, Freddie and Barby Hampe, Pam Hearl, Susan Larson and Chick Kolinger. The children played party games and enjoyed birthday refreshments. Also joining in the fun was Marcy's sister, Donna.

December 10 Freddie Hampe, son of George and Charlene Hampe, celebrated his fifth birthday with a party at his home. His guests were Carol Waldron, Linda Sell, Evan Potratz, Raymond Hearl, Allen Schmidt and Dolores Schoen. Freddie's sister, Barbara, joined the rest of the children in the birthday festivities.

The following Sunday Freddie's relatives, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kestner, Arlington Heights, and uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cipriano, Chicago, helped him celebrate again as George and Charlene entertained with a buffet dinner.

Sunday was a big day at the home of Vic and Anne Incinelli as their son, Vicky, celebrated his first birthday. Uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. P. Rippel and children Nancy, David, Peter and John, and godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Folk, all of Chicago, joined the Incinellis for the happy occasion. Earlier the same day neighbors Betty Nelson and Ethel Larson came in to extend their best wishes and remained to enjoy coffee and cookies.

December 12 Raymond Hearl, son of Ray and Lois Hearl, celebrated his seventh birthday with a party at his home. After school friends and playmates, Ricky Johnson, Timmy Wrath, Danny Wills, Allen Schmidt, Fred Hampe, Gary Hehnen and Scott Bischoff joined Raymond for party games and a supper of hot dogs and hamburgers followed by birthday cake and ice cream.

December 11 Jack and Chris Pelletier and their sons Mark and Mike spent the day in the city at the home of Jack's parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pelletier. Also present were Miss Claire Pelletier, Frank Pelletier and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pelletier and their children Donnie and Nancy. Everyone was gathered for a quarduple birthday celebration as Jack, Donald and Claire all have birthdays on December 14 and little Mike was 5 on December 11.

Brownies

Prospect Meadows brownie troop met last Tuesday at the home of Donna Walsh. They practiced singing Christmas carols and plan to go caroling at their next meeting. Dorothy Walsh served the girls pop corn and pop.

Cub Scouts

Den 12 held their regular meeting December 15. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance. The boys talked about their handicraft Christmas ornaments they were making, played games and enjoyed refreshments. The meeting was ended with the "living circle."

December 16 both den 12 and den 13 attended the cub scout pack meeting at the North school in Arlington Heights. The boys had a Christmas party with a grab bag and refreshments. All the boys decorated the Christmas tree with ornaments they had made.

The cubs from the Meadows made a good showing when achievement awards were presented. Members of Den 12 who received awards were Richard Moeller--1 gold and 1 silverarrow point; Dean Valentine--wolf badge, 1 gold and 1 silver arrow; Robert Webber--2 silver arrows; Evans Wells Jr.--Lion badge and 1 gold arrow; Daniel Wills--3 silver arrows; and Thomas Hemesath--wolf badge. Den 12 placed second for the gold flag award.

Members of Den 13 receiving awards were Wayne Harland--Bear badge and 3 arrows and Fred Jarm--gold arrow.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

STAN HAUSEMAN, Northbrook student who graduated from Palatine high school the year before Glenbrook opened, was No. 1 replacement for Capt. Fred Thurston at Valparaiso university this past football season. Thurston was all-league 2 years, and weighed 235 pounds, will graduate this year. Even with such competition ahead of him, Stan played a good deal and is slated to take over next year as an offensive tackle and defensive linebacker. Line coach Walt Reiner is high on Hauseman as the man to fill Thurston's shoes next season (and it will take a man). Stan now stands 6' 1" and weighs 210 pounds. Without a doubt, Stan is the best punter on the squad but due to substitution limitations does not operate in that capacity fully.

Stan Hauseman

Stan scored a touchdown in the last game of the year against Bradley university when a punt blocked by end Bob Ellenson was recovered by Stan in the end zone for Valparaiso's second TD of the game lost to Bradley, 32-12. The team finished the year with a 5 won, 4 lost record, but expect to do big things next season with everyone returning except Thurston and an end, Bill Steinbrecher. Stan figures prominently in the core group of juniors who should move in and produce next season.

BURT INGWERSEN, Illinois line coach, recently recalled the days of George Halas' Staley team in 1920-21, and the Bears in Chicago in '21, with the games played in the Chicago Amphitheater. "The ceiling was high so we could pass and punt just like it was outside. The only real problem was the fact that the playing field was only 60 yards long."

How was this problem alleviated?" Here's how Burt explained the solution.

The game was played by the regular rules governing play anyplace else. The only exception took place when one team moved to the opponent's 40-yard line. At this point he reached the end of the field.

The ball was simply moved back 20 yards. Then the team with the ball started goalward again. If the offense moved to the end of the field the second time, which in reality was the 20-yard line, then the ball was placed backwards 20 yards more. If the end was reached a second time it counted as a touchdown. Rather complicated, but makes for a very interesting game.

MICHIGAN STATE has a 1.000 batting average in previous games with UCLA, will be out to continue that record in the Rose Bowl . . . Spartans have beat the Uclans the 1 time they met . . . In other games with West Coast foes the Michigan Staters have won 12, lost 6, tied 3 . . . Charles Aldrich, former Heights athlete, is athletic director at Waldron, Mich., high school . . . Playing with Carthage in the Navy Pier college basketball tournament this past week was Tom Bowersox of Arlington Heights.

Four unanimous choices for All-American teams were Hopalong Cassady of Ohio State, Jim Swink of TCU, Ron Beagle of Navy and Bob Pelligrini of Maryland.

Big Ten conference has not been a "graveyard for football coaches" . . . The league has averaged just 1.7 turnover in coaches since 1930 . . . Iowa has changed 8 times, Ohio State and Purdue 7, but on the other end Illinois has had just 2 men, Zuppke and Eliot . . . Minneapolis Lakers set new records recently in downing Syracuse, 135-133, in a triple overtime . . . WE ALWAYS ADMIRE high school enthusiasm, particularly that of the girls and prep students writing sports. A story from Maine leaves us gasping, wondering if it will be necessary to run through the Demons' track schedule, indoor and outdoor, or whether everyone will concede. Maybe it's true:

"Sixteen lettermen. A standout in almost every event. The bulk of last year's varsity team. The strength of last year's Frosh-Soph squad that won 18 straight meets, plus the W. S. C. crown. These are the ingredients of head coach Sam Marzulo's track team that opened practice a week ago today."

There's a 4-man coaching staff directing track at Maine. Indoor ovals do help the track situation at any school, with Maine no expectation. At Heights track coach Russ Attis and weight coach Bill Beckman are thinking in terms of a few boys working out in weight lifting after the holidays.

Favor Pirate Grapplers In Own Meet

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, December 27-28, Palatine township high school will sponsor an invitational wrestling tournament with 8 schools entered. West Aurora, Oswego, Wheaton Academy, Crystal Lake, McHenry, North Chicago, Glenbrook and Palatine will be schools competing for a trophy and 3 medals in each of 12 weight classifications.

The first round, which includes 48 bouts, will start at 7 p.m., Tuesday with matches going on continuously on 2 separate areas. The semi-finals are scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. with 24 bouts on the card and Tuesday evening there will be the same number as the afternoon winners battle for the championship at each weight and the afternoon losers compete for third place medals.

PALATINE, the host school, is accorded an excellent chance of winning the tournament though Crystal Lake, Wheaton and Glenbrook have strong squads, Oswego, a powerhouse last year, has several veterans returning including Alvin Wheeler who won the state championship last year in the 103 pound class.

Other outstanding performers are John Commons of Crystal Lake who took third in the state meet last year in the 154 pound class. Leonard Rohde of Palatine is the outstanding heavyweight in the tournament and a winner of third in the state last year when he was beaten by Salata of Waukegan in the semi-finals. Salata won the state championship.

JIM OURY of Wheaton Academy in the 95 pound class was beaten in the second round of the state tournament last year by the boy who eventually took the state title. Others in the state meet last year were Jim McCreery of Palatine 112 who is now in the 127 pound class and John Dilks of Palatine at 145 who has moved up to the 154 pound division.

Palatine has a well-balanced team which has beaten Wheaton high, Wheaton Academy, Leyden, and Wes Aurora. The Pirates lost to Niles in a close match for their only defeat prior to the tournament.

THE WRESTLING tournament will be held on the main floor of the new gymnasium with spectators sitting in the upstairs bleachers on the east side. Admission to each session will be 75c and 40c, the same as for the regular season basketball games. There will be 48 events on the first night's program and 24 at each of the Wednesday sessions. The time schedule is 7:00 Tuesday evening for the first round, 2:00 p.m. Wednesday for the semi-finals ,and 7:00 p.m. Wednesday for the third place and championship bouts.

The tournament scoring is based on 7 points for a first place, 5 points for second, 3 points for third, 1 point for fourth, 1 point for each match won, and an additional point for each fall or advancement by default or forfeit. Matches consist of 3 2-minute periods.

INDIVIDUALS rated highly at each weight among the tournament entries include as follows: 103—J. Oury of Wheaton Academy and D. Bundy of Oswego; 112—Wheeler of Oswego, Getty of Wheaton Academy, and Eric Bessemer of Palatine; 120—Pagano of Glenbrook, and Hadfield of Crystal Lake; 127—McCreery of Palatine, Elko of Glenbrook, and Smih of Oswego; 133—Grach of Oswego, McCartney of Wheaton Academy, and Schwenk of Palatine; 138—Johnson of West Aurora and Getzloff of Glenbrook; 145—Lundgren of Palatine, Reed and Quinn of Crystal Lake; 154—Mack of Crystal Lake, Dilks of Palatine, and Aug of Oswego; 165—Commons of Crystal Lake; 175—Schillinger of Oswego (defeated only once last year); and heavyweight—Len Rohde of Palatine and Zobus of Glenbrook.

Men's Deadline Saturday In Paddock Bowling Tourney

DEFENDING CHAMPS in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament will be back to defend their laurels. This fivesome of smiling bowlers won the right games Friday night, after a 3-way tie threw the House league at Palatine into a mixup. Fourth squad was just a half game out, prior to Haseman Truckers winning a spot in the tournament.

Shown with last year's winning smiles are, front row, Marv Perry and Howard Olsen. Back row, Vince Shubat, Irv Hahnfeldt and Joe Cordulack. This year Warren Perry is back with the team, in place of Cordulack. First place teams as of Dec. 17 in the men's leagues at local alleys are eligible for the tournament at Beverly Lanes Jan. 8. Deadline for entries is this Saturday, Dec. 24.

Saturday's the deadline for entries in the men's tournament. That's the picture in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments this week with first place teams as of Dec. 17 in men's leagues scheduled to compete for honors at Beverly Lanes Jan. 8.

All entries for the men's tournament, including names, averages and cash money, are due by this Saturday, Dec. 24. Paddock Publications office will close Saturday noon, though entries can be dropped through the slot in the door after that if necessary.

THE WOMEN'S tournament deadline is Saturday, Dec. 31, for first place teams as of Dec. 24. First entries for the women's tournament at Bensenville are beginning to come in. Complete rules of the tourney and entry blanks are available at local alleys as well as at the newspaper office in Arlington Heights.

Defending champs in the men's tournament are Haseman Truckers, which won the right to represent the Palatine House league in Friday night's play. Three teams were tied for first, with a fourth a half game out as competition started Friday night. When it was over, the Truckers were ahead by a half game.

3-WAY TIES were not unusual this past week. League after league faced that situation, determined league representatives in various ways. In Businessmen's Sportsmen's league at Beverly Lanes, Arlington Heights, 3 teams drew for the magic "X". Henry Valve had the lucky draw, elimnating Arlington Liquor Mart, a Paddock tourney participant each year the tourney has been held.

At other alleys, too, there are ties which are being rolled off this week. Time reservations are being made as early as possible, with the 7:45 shift almost filled. Squads will roll at 1:00, 3:15, 5:30 and 7:45. This will provide competition for up to 64 teams. Tourney promoters are planning on about 52 teams this year, an increase of 10 over last January.

In case 52 squads roll, prize money for first place will be $130. Entry fees of $16.50 include bowling, scorekeepers and prizes. Twenty-two women's squads competed in their half of the tournaments last year. This time the promoters forecast about 30 teams.

Arlington Wrestlers In Waukegan Meet This Week

Waukegan's second annual invitational wrestling tournament is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Dec. 22 and 23, with Arlington Heights grapplers joining those from Elgin, Evanston, New Trier, Oak Lawn, Proviso, York and the host school slated to compete.

Times of the matches are 8 p.m. Thursday night, Dec. 22, and 2:00 and 8:00 Friday. Competition will be on 2 mats, side by side, until the finals when just 1 mat will be used. Tournament places shall count 10-7-4-2 towards the team trophy won by Proviso last year.

Admission prices will be 60 cents for adults, 35 cents for students.

JUST WHO will wrestle for Arlington has been decided, except for 3 weights. Eliminations are being held the middle of this week to determine these entries, according to Coach Dick Mudge. Weights in question include 133, 165 and 175.

95—It will be Jerry Bonn, a freshman with 3 pins and a decision to his credit. He has wrestled 6 times.

103—Ralph Carlino, a sophomore, has taken 3 pins, 2 decisions, in 6 meets.

112—Phil Deming, a junior, has won 2 decisions in 4 meets.

120—Pat Harris, a junior, has taken 1 pin, 1 decision, in 3 meets.

127—Roger Neunsinger, a junior, has taken 3 decisions in 5 meets.

133—Still undecided between Ed Beier, a senior with a pin and 3 decisions in 5 meets to his credit, and Fred Steingraber, senior, with a pin in 6 meets.

138—CAPT. JACK Ebert, senior, undefeated with 5 decisions and a pin.

145—Mikey Harris, a senior, 2 decisions in 6 meets.

154—Al Rose has been operating at 165, will compete at Waukegan at 154. Al is undefeated in 6 meets, gaining 2 pins and 4 decisions.

165 and 175—Five boys are listed here, with eliminations being held to determine the correct 2. Included are senior Miles Nelson, junior Tom Thackery, junior Don Plank with 1 decision in 2 meets, junior transfer from Virginia, Ron Schoemake just now eligible, and aforementioned Steingraber.

Hvy—Dean Schneck will operate here in the absence of Carl Klehm, who sprained a shoulder.

WOMEN'S CHAMPS in last year's Paddock bowling tournament hailed from Wheeling. Riviera represented Wednesday night ladies league at Wheeling Bowling Lanes and walked off with the championship in the tournament at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

This year's tournament will be held Sunday, Jan. 15, at Trausch-Linden Recreation, Bensenville, among first place teams in all women's leagues as of Dec. 24, Christmas Eve. Deadline for women's entries is Saturday, Dec. 31. Entry blanks are available at all cooperating alleys, as well as the office of Paddock Publications in Arlington Heights.

Presbyterians Lose

Arlington Presbyterian cagers lost to Congregational five of Des Plaines Tuesday, 58-24, as Larry Poyer tallied 29 points for the winners before reporting for professional baseball. It was the only game this week in YMCA cage league competition.

Scoring points for Heights were Lee Damler with 12, Denny Hackbarth with 8, Dick Fox 2 and Ken Kurtz 2. Game was played at Maine high school gym.

Full Schedule Of Cage Games At Mt. Prospect

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

There was a lot of basketball action in Mt. Prospect Saturday. In the period of 3 hours, 6 games were played under the Basketball For Boys program. In the first 2 games, which ran from 8:30 to 9:30 and included Central school lightweights, and the 7th graders of all other schools, the Golds beat the Maroons 42-20, and the Blues and Blue & Golds tied 10-10.

Bob Hammarley was high scorer for the Golds while Don Ballou and Wayne Lundstrom compiled most of the losers' points. The other game was quite a thriller, to the very end. With very little time left and the score 10-8, Blue & Gold's favor, little Russell Fox, made a basket to give the Blues a tie for the day.

FROM 9:30 TO 10:30 all sixth graders had the floor and they put on quite a show. The Maroons beat the Golds and the Blues and Blue and Golds ended up in a 10-10 deadlock. In the first game, Stan Szafarn was high scorer for the losers while Chuckie Cosman collected a good share of the Maroons points. Chuck had hep from Gary Kufeldt who set up quite a few of the scoring plays and did a good job of passing that ball around. In the other contest Hansen was the No. 1 scorer.

In the heavyweight division, the Blues whipped the Maroons 34-12. Keith Grams was tops in the scoring division with 9 baskets totaling 18 points and Gene Dahlquist followed him with 12 points. The other match saw the Blue & Golds edge out the Golds 28-26. Chuck Phalen led the parade in baskets.

JUST A REMINDER to all the boys that there will be no basketball the next 2 Saturdays. After the holidays, the program will start again on January 7th and run through March. Any boy in Mt. Prospect between 6th and 8th grades who hasn't been to the recreation program yet, is invited to come and enjoy the fun.

The schedule:

8:30 to 9:30 a.m., Central school lightweights and 7th graders of all other schools.

9:30 to 10:30 a.m., all 6th graders.

10:30 to 11:30 a.m., Central school heavyweights and 8th graders of all other schools.

Blackhawks

Wheeling Blackhawks won their first game in the Loyola Park AAU basketball tournament in Chicago Tuesday night, defeating St. Anne's, 64-50. High point man was Bob Metcalf with 20 scores. The local five will play again Friday night, though the opponent is not presently determined.

Arlington In Strong Company For Holidays

It's holiday baskeball time with Arlington Heights high school cagers slated to travel to Pontiac's silver jubilee tournament Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The Cardinals will open against Chenoa Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 27, at 3:45 in the third game of the afternoon session. If the locals win they'll oppose winner of Washington-New Trier game Wednesday night at 7:00. If they lose they'll meet the loser of the W-NT game Wednesday afternoon at 3:45.

THE TOURNEY is one of the oldest established meets in Illinois. This time Pontiac is celebrating the 25th year of its tournament, is planning special program, dinner, etc., in promotion. All games will be played in national guard armory.

Fans driving down to see the games will have a 97 mile ride ahead of them. Best route is west on route 58, south on route 59 to Plainfield, thence southwest on route 66 to the junction with route 115, just outside of Pontiac. Fans should turn left at the stop light at route 115, cross the railroad track, with the armory on the left.

THE CARDINALS will leave Heights at 2:30 Monday, live at Pontiac hotel, dine at Liberty cafe, both of them on the square at Pontiac. Special dinner is scheduled for 6:30 Monday night for competing teams and coaches.

Members of the squad who'll make the trip include Pat Brownell, Wayne Malzahn, Bill Randag, Dick Siech, Bill Palmer, John Sujack, Tom Jacobsen, Dennis Striegel, Jim Summers, Dan Vittum and Ron Ashley.

NOT TOO MUCH is known of schools entered in the tournament. Several schools in last year's Sweet Sixteen are entered, along with others usually having good records. First 2 games Tuesday morning include Thornton Fractional, Chester, Alton, and Lexington.

Tuesday afternoon it will be Streater, Hillsboro, Bloom of Chicago Heights. Bloomington, Arlington and Chenoa. Tuesday night it will be Washington, New Trier, Lawrenceville, Kewanee, Lockport and Pontiac.

Morning sessions will start at 9:30, afternoons at 1:15, evenings at 7:00.

UNUSUAL FEATURE of this tournament is the combination of championship and consolation rounds. Winners continue playing for the championship and 4 trophies. Losers in the first round will compete in consolation round for additional 3 trophies.

Chenoa, Arlington's first opponent, is a sports-minded school, has a football team that went undefeated for 3 years. It's basketball squad is also good, will provide tough competition for the locals.

THE CARDINALS are still improving, but lack consistent scoring punch. They ran up a 9-point lead against LaGrange at one time, then lost it as they outfouled LaGrange, 16-8, the first half. The locals were cold at the net the third quarter and the game was lost.

Heights shot .333 in both games last weekend, must hit .400 to win the important ones. The squad has shown plenty of improvement, particularly the past 4 games, with 8 of 10 boys scoring against both Downers and LaGrange.

Dennis Striegel has been handicapped with a jammed thumb, but is improving. If the squad can start hitting at about 40 per cent from the field, fans can expect their share of victories in remaining games.

Host In 2-Day Cage Festival

Something new in basketball, a 2-night holiday cage festival, at 7 schools, will open Tuesday night, Dec. 27, at Elgin and move to Hinsdale the next night. Participating schools are Elgin, Hinsdale, Downers Grove and Evanston.

Evanston of Suburban league will meet Downers of West Suburban in the opener Tuesday night at Elgin.

Hinsdale of West Suburban loop will oppose Elgin of Big Eight league in the nightcap.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT, Dec. 28, Hinsdale will oppose Evanston and Elgin meet Downers.

In past years Hinsdale has been host to either Christmas tourney or festival. Downers upset Elgin a year ago, then lost to Hinsdale in the Red Devils gym.

Change in location and type of festival was made this year to enable more fans to see the games. No winner will be declared as the final round games are scheduled in advance.

Admission will be 60 cents per session for students, $1.00 for adults. (Sp

Favor Glenbrook And Wauconda In Grant Holiday Tournament

Glenbrook and Wauconda are the favorites in the Grant holiday basketball tournament which will be held at North Chicago due to the Grant High gym not being ready for use. 3 Northwest, 3 North Suburban, and 2 free lancers who recently helped form a temporary Northeast Conferenec will make up the 8 team entry list.

First round pairings pit Wauconda vs. McHenry and Grant vs. North Chicago on Tuesday, December 27, and Warren vs. Glenbrook and Lake Forest vs. Round Lake on Wednesday, December 28. Games will start at 7:00 except that the final on Friday, December 30, will be played at 8:30.

THERE NEVER HAS BEEN so even a cage race in the Northwest conference. With 5 games played and the holiday period before them, 4 teams are tied for the league lead with 4 wins and 1 loss. There seems little to choose among them as none can be classed as a real solid ball club. Each has some outstanding players and a few who do not rate as members of a championship club.

Ela-Vernon has speed and reserve strength but they lack that all important height which was such a factor in their loss to Wauconda last Saturday.

Ela has a strong press defense but Jaskot and Svec of Wauconda have the speed and ball handling to break through and Okpisz the height that Ela could not handle. Al Bathrick has blossomed into a really great performer leading the league with 115 points in five games.

WAUCONDA MIGHT BE the team to win the league if their big boy could play consistent ball, and so could Bill Weinberg. These two have been in and out as scorers. Little Svec at 5-5 is making Wauconda a real threat. The Bulldogs have no real weak player and certainly one of the finest in the loop in Gene Jaskot.

Glenbrook has a real scoring combine in Bob Boyd and Sheldon Spalding but the team is slow and has some weak spots which show up glaringly against top flight opposition.

Fenton has height and fair speed. Their ball handling, scoring punch, and rebounding is improving. Coach Novatny had to bring up a sophomore, Helms, to complete his first 5 indicating the lack of a strong fifth man and capable reserves. Johnson, Henriksen, Tecza and Heinrichs make up as good a quartet as you could find in the conference and they are getting better weekly.

Had Fenton played ther usual schedule of no pre-season games the Bisons would not now be tied for the top position. Those early losses to Hampshire, St. Procopius, and Marmion brought the Bisons along fast for they started basketball a week late due to a postponed football game with Ela-Vernon.

The way the 4 teams got the tie was that Glenbrook beat Fenton to open the season, Fenton beat Wauconda, Wauconda tripped Ela-Vernon, and Ela whipped Glenbrook. In the remaining games of the first round, following the holidays, Ela-Vernon has yet to meet Fenton and Wauconda must play Glenbrook. Fenton's frosh-sophs, by virtue of 2 one-point victories snatched away in the closing seconds are the only undefeated team in the league. Grayslake has a 4-1 record but Antoch, who lost to Fenton last Saturday, 39-38, will probably be the little Bisons' chief rival for the championship. Fenton has a fine 6-4 frosh-soph center who, we are told, lives in the non-high area of the new Medinah high school which will open next September.

COACH GENE MOYLAN of Palatine decided to rely on sophs for 3 spots on his Palatine varsity and the shift paid off in 1 week. The sophs, teamed with Pete Trenchard and Bob Coates, seniors, gave Grant real competition for 3 quarters and held Glenbrook even for a half. The squad has improved morale and better spirit and both seniors played outstanding ball this past double weekend with the sophs working with them.

Palatine is building for the future but will have a pretty fair ball club before this present season is over.

It is 20 years since a Palatine varsity coach faced a problem of no returning lettermen for basketball. However, Moylan has a willing group and the sophs Jerry Segebrecht, Dick Wisner, and Jordan Danforth; the seniors Bob Coates and Pete Trenchard; and junior Roy Hahnfeldt are playing interesting and improving basketball of which Palatine fans need not be ashamed.

GRANT HAS BEEN FORCED to move their holiday tournament to North Chicago. In the eight team affair it appears to us that Wauconda and Glenbrook in opposite brackets might be considered favorites. Even if they do not meet in the tournament they have an important date coming up January 13.

Palatine's first annual holiday wrestling tournament with eight team entries scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday, December 27-28, should be a very interesting event.

Teams entered are Palatine, Crystal Lake, Oswego, West Aurora, Wheaton Academy, McHenry, North Chicago, and Glenbrook. Palatine, Crystal Lake, and Wheaton Academy are rated as strongest though Glenbrook will be no easy mark. The tournament will have 6 athletes who competed in last year's state tournament. From Palatine are Leonard Rohde who took third in the state in the heavyweight division, losing only to the state champ, and Jim McCreery 112 pound class and John Dilks 145. McCreery wrestles this year at 127 and Dilks at 154. They will be strong contenders for tournament championships next week.

Alvin Wheeler of Oswego at 103 pounds was state champ last year and should win his class in the Palatine tourney.

John Commons of Crystal Lake took third in the state last year at 154 pounds while Jim Oury of Wheaton academy was beaten in the second round of the state tournament by the boy who went on to win the 95 pound state title. The first round of 48 wrestling bouts staged on two mats simultaneously starts at 7:00 p. m. on Tuesday. The 24 semi-final bouts will be staged Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 and the 12 championship matches at 7:00 in the evening.

PALATINE HAS BEEN designated the site of a sectional wrestling tournament Friday and Saturday, February 17-18. The basketball game with Antioch scheduled for Friday the 17th has been moved forward to Tuesday, February 14 with the frosh-soph game starting at 6:00 p. m.

Interest in wrestling at Palatine has increased rapidly under the efficient and skillful coaching of John Ellis and so has the development of winning teams.

This year the Pirates have a schedule after Christmas which is super difficult with Arlington Heights, York, Maine, Waukegan, and Glenbrook the major opponents. To date the Pirates have a 4-1 record with wins over Wheaton, Wheaton Academy, West Aurora, and Leyden while losing to Niles of Skokie.

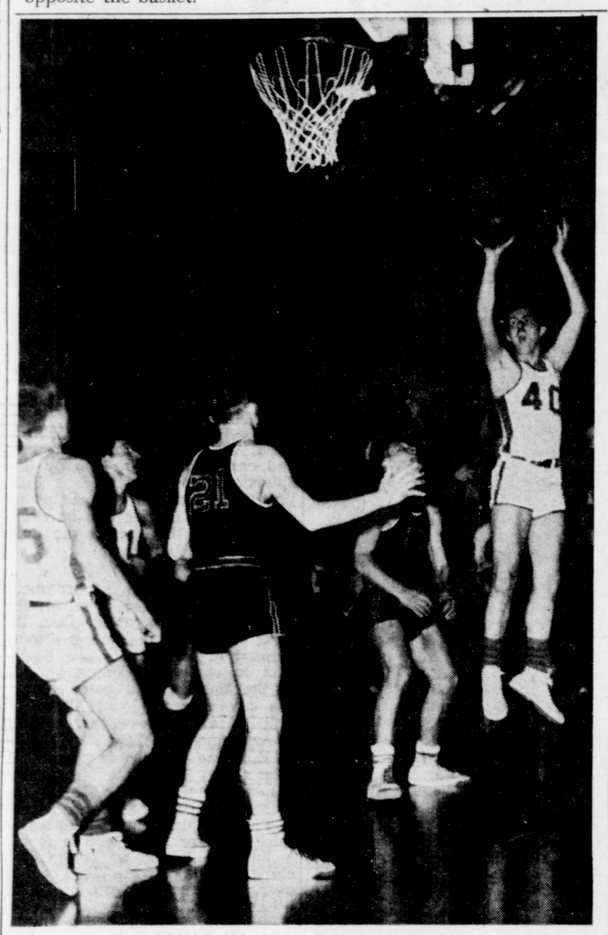
DOWN AT BENSENVILLE Paul Henry of Fenton High will get wrestling under way after the holidays. He would like to schedule practice matches with neighboring schools to give the boys some experience so that the sport may be on a full season basis a year hence.

Schools interested in scheduling matches for their reserve or frosh-soph squads to give them more experience might well get some fine competition from Fenton's beginners. Call Paul Henry or Frank Novatny, athletic director at Bensenville 2500 for dates.

Down in the western suburbs there are eight high schools and grade schools which have organized faculty basketball teams and have started competition on a league basis. Teams entered are Fenton, York, Hinsdale, Elmhurst, Villa Park, Bellwood, and Lombard. Husbands of women teachers are eligible players under this setup.

Longest field goal in the history of Northwest Conference basketball was made in the Grant-Antioch game a couple of weeks ago.

Tom Bossow of Grant had the ball out of bounds under the Antioch basket and made a long throw the length of the floor which is a regulation 84 feet. The ball caromed off the hands of an Antioch defensive player into the Grant basket for two points and the longest field goal which ever could be made as the player was out of bounds beyond the end of the court opposite the basket.



PHIL JOHNSON (40) made this shot for Fenton Bisons against Antioch Saturday night, helping his mates move into a 4-way tie for first place in Northwest conference competition. Watching the ball for Coach Frank Novatny's squad are Lars Henriksen (35) and Tony Tecza (41). Seen for Antioch are Parker (21) and Huml (25). —Staff Photo

Palatine Cagers Scare Grant, But Lose 2nd Half

by JOE GODDARD

An almost completely revised Palatine basketball squad put a big scare into Grant's Bulldogs last Friday but finally succumbed, 53 to 35, before a strong last half Grant barrage.

The new Pirate lineup listed three sophomores and two seniors who played a fine first half game but yielded and fell under Grant's last half attack which totaled 30 points to Palatine's 13.

TWO SENIORS, Bob Coates and Pete Trenchard, carried most of the load with their rebounding and scoring but the mere presence of the sophomores, Jory Danforth, Rich Wisner, and Gerry Segebrecht gave the Pirates a new spirit and drive which had been lacking from the first game. A fourth sophomore, Jim Eldridge, was the first substitute to enter the game.

Grant, playing all their games away until their new gym is completed, found themseles in a rut at half time, leading by only one point, 23 to 22, but a quick and steady point barrage in the third and fourth quarter discouraged all Pirate fans. Denny Hodge, Grant's hotshot, paced this late spree by scoring 13 of his 17 points to lead Neuman, his forward teammate, who scored ,13. Coates' 12 points and Trenchard's 11 led Pirate scorers.

Palatine was once again poor from the floor as Grant outshot them, 37 per cent to 21 per cent, but the newly found spirit could bring some surprises to future opponets.

Fenton Sophs Rally To Beat Antioch, 39-38

by MAX ZOLLNER

Coming from behind, Fenton edged Antioch 39-38 Saturday night on the Bisons court to remain undefeated.

Fenton started slow scoring only 7 and 6 points in the first and second quarters while the Sequoits notched 25 in the first half. Antioch's center, Horton, led both teams in scoring the first half with 13 tallies.

The second half the Jonkheer-coached squad fought hard outscoring Antioch 12-8 in the third quarter and 14-5 in the final period and won 39-38.

IN THIS HALF Chuck Christian, Bison center, hit 4 baskets and 5 charity tosses. Fenton's Bernie Sell took advantage of the Sequoits numerous fouls in the fourth period notching 7 out of 10 attempts.

The game was a thriller right down to the last second. With four seconds left to play Fenton was ahead 39-38. The Bison quintet then committed a foul on an Antioch player. The Sequoit missed the charity toss and Fenton's Chuck Christiansen grabbed the rebound. The gun ending the game then went off.

Chuck Christiansen paced the Bisons to their seventh season win by scoring 20 points. The rest of Fenton's scoring was accounted for by Bernie Sell with 11 tallies and Terry Biefeld's 11.

Ela-Vernon Rallies To Nip Grayslake

Ela-Vernon had to come from behind in the final 2 minutes of play to nip Grayslake last Friday night 66-62. It was Ela's fourth straight Northwest Conference victory and the fourth loss for the Grayslake Rams. Grayslake took an 18-12 first period lead which they extended to 31-20 at the half and appeared headed for their first win when Ela rallied to tie the count with 2 minutes to play. Baskets by Ron Soos and L. Bathrick at the finish provided the winning margin.

Al Bathrick stayed near the top of the scoring race by collecting 20 points for Ela. Becler had 12 and L. Bathrick 10. For Grayslake Anderson scored 17, Peregrin 15 and Stone and Hunziker 13 each. Grayslake took the frosh-soph game 43-38.

Wauconda Upsets Ela To Scramble NW League

Wauconda dumped Ela-Vernon 56-50 last Saturday night at Lake Zurich and threw the Northwest conference cage race into a real scramble. Wauconda, Ela-Vernon, Fenton, and Glenbrook are all tied for first place with 4-1 records as the teams stop league competition for the Christmas holidays.

Wauconda led all the way after taking a 13-6 advantage in the opening quarter. The Bulldogs were on top 40-29 going into the last period when Al Bathrick put on a one man scoring rally to net 16 points of the 21 scored by his team in a desperate effort to tie the score.

Bathrick made 11 field goals and 9 free throws for 31 points, high total in the league for the season. The little Ela guard got little scoring support from his mates and defensively Ela could not stop Wauconda's 6 foot 7 center, Eddie Okpisz, who led the winners with 19 points. Ela won the frosh-soph game 38-29.

Bisons Move Into 1st Place Tie In Victory Over Antioch

by BILL RIPPBERGER

Bisons of Fenton moved into a four way tie for the league lead by defeating the Antioch Sequoits, 73-68 Saturday night. To gain the win, their fourth in a row, the Bisons had to overcome a 7 point deficit during the last quarter.

The most outstanding player of the game was Phil Johnson, who just the night before had led the Fenton five in their victory over Wauconda. Besides doing a fine job of rebounding, Phil piled up 27 points on 12 baskets and 3 free throws. His teammate, Bob Heinrich, collected 22. Al Reckers led the Sequoits with 5 baskets and 9 charities for 19 points.

JOHNSON exhibited his marksmanship during the first period as he poured through 5 field goals while the Bisons moved to a 15-11 advantage. Antioch's scoring was well balanced, with Wayne Herbst's four points as high.

Heinrich took over for the Fenton squad in the second quarter and scored six points. Herbst was still drilling them in for the Sequoits and he also scored six. At halftime Fenton led by a 30-25 margin.

IN THE THIRD period Antioch's guards, Reckers and Fish, led the attack as the Sequoits pushed through 24 points. The Bisons were unable to start a drive of their own and trailed, 49-42, at the end of the quarter.

Reckers continued the scoring pace for Antioch in the closing stanza and Gerry Huml, who was hampered by four fouls, also aided the cause. The Bisons caught fire, though, and with their center, Bob Heinrich, showing the way, drilled in 31 points. Before Bob retired with five fouls, the uncanny accuracy of his jump shots had helped Fenton nose ahead of the Sequoits. From then on, the work of Johnson and Lars Henriksen, who each netted 8 points in the period, built up the Bison lead to the final margin, 73-68.

Fenton Topples Leading Wauconda From NW League

BY BILL RIPERGER

While visiting Wauconda Friday night, a high spirited Fenton quintet toppled the league leading Bulldogs, 62-60. Fenton led throughout the game and at halftime they enjoyed an eight point lead.

Gene Jaskot and his little teammate, Koko Svec, accounted for the bulk of Wauconda's point total. Gene, as the game's leading scorer, notched 8 baskets and 7 free throws for 23 points while Svec compiled 16. Balanced scoring was the story for the Bisons as four men reached double figures. Leading the way was 6'4" Phil Johnson who drilled in 19 points. Bob Heinrich tallied 16. Tony Tecza 13, and Lars Henriksen 10 points.

JOHNSON collected 10 of his 19 points in the first period as Fenton took the lead, 18-16. Early in the quarter the Bisons jumped to a 4-0 advantage, but Jaskot tied the score with two rebound shots. Svec took charge for Wauconda at that point and dumped in three set shots before the period's end.

Fenton's defense tightened in the second stanza and the Bulldogs netted only ten points. Bob Heinrich scored 6 for the Bisons while Jaskot paced Wauconda with two baskets and a free throw. At the intermission, the Lake County five trailed by 8 points, 34-26.

IN HOPES of a Bulldog victory, Jaskot and Svec combined for 16 points in the third quarter, helping to pull Wauconda up within 5 points of Fenton, 51-46. Heinrich netted four jump shots for the "orange and blue."

In the final period Wauconda continued pulling closer to the Bisons. Late in the quarter, when missed free throws could have meant losing the game, Dave Helms, Fenton's sophomore guard, stepped to the line and dropped in two charities, making the score 60-58, Fenton. Lars Henriksen, the other Bison guard, also made two free tosses and the Fenton squad led 62-58. Eddie Okpisz retaliated for the Bulldogs and nailed a short jump shot. Then, with less than 15 seconds remaining in the game, Jaskot tried a jump shot which was beautifully blocked by Phil Johnson. From that point on, Fenton presented a very stiff defense and Wauconda, unable to take a shot, went down to defeat, 62-60.

Arlington Pushes Undefeated LaGrange But Succumbs, 82-71

by PETE SWANSON

After battling them to a standstill for two and a half quarters, the Arlington Cardinals fell before LaGrange Saturday on the local floor. The tide turned when the Cards' shooting slumped and fouls began to accumulate against the home five.

During the opening quarter Arlington threatened to shoot the visitors right off the floor. The Cards shot well and put up a good defense, while the visitors had trouble hitting early in the period. A 14-7 lead was reduced but Arlington boosted the edge to five points again as the period ended. Striegel with six points paced the Cards, and Meyer and Merz scored 15 of their team's total of 17 points.

THE SCORE was tied once and the lead changed hands five times in the second period. The Lions took a lead of 31-30 and held it the rest of the half, but the edge was never more than four points. Supremacy on the boards for LaGrange began to tell as Arlington fouled increasingly trying to get the ball. Sujack tallied six points for the Lestermen while Meyer caged 11 for his team, and left the floor at halftime with 19 markers to his credit.

The Cards led twice and the score was tied four times in the third stanza before the collapse came. After a jump shot by Randag gave Arlington a 46-44 edge, the Lions scored the next five points to take the lead and never lost it. A basket by Summers cut the lead to 49-48, but LaGrange caged the next 11 markers and held a 62-51 lead at the end of three quarters. The Cards stopped hitting and took a few poor shots. The loss of Striegel and Malzahn via fouls hurt the locals too.

FINAL PERIOD saw the Lions maintain a safe lead throughout, stretching the margin to 15 points on two occasions. In this quarter Summers and Palmer left on fouls, and the Lions lost Merz the same way late in the game.

The scoring parade was headed by Lee Meyer with 21 tallies, Bill Freisinger with 20 — 18 in the second half — and Rich Merz with 19. John Sujack led Arlington with 18 points, and Bill Palmer and Bill Randag hit 11 each for the Cards. LaGrange sunk just one more basket than Arlington but had a large advantage from the foul line The visitors were definitely superior rebounding-wise.

Here Is 'Inside Dope' For Paddock Bowling Tourneys

Rules interpretations for the Paddock bowling tournament have been popping up by the dozen. Tourney promoters hope to keep all bowlers happy, in and out of the tournament, so offer these words of advice affecting both men's and women's tournaments.

Though tournament promoters ask for first place teams, the "fine print" says league officers are responsible for naming their league's representative in the tourney. In case of ties, disputes, etc., it will be up to league officers to select the team. In event first place team does not care to enter, another squad can, providing league officers give their blessing.

NO BOWLER can compete more than once in this year's tournaments. In event 1 bowler is eligible with 2 teams, he'll have to select the 1 he prefers and obtain a substitute for the other. This is an ABC recommendation.

Substitutes, when necessary, should be provided from the same league and at approximately the same average as the missing bowler. Notification of substitutes to tourney promoters need not be done until squad checks in to actually bowl either Jan. 8 or 15. Handicaps will be computed after each squad has actually started competition. Here again substitutes are to be approved by league officers.

THESE TOURNAMENTS are for men's and women's leagues only. No mixed leagues can participate. Only leagues bowling within the immediate area served by Paddock Publications are eligible for the tournament. These cooperating alleys are listed on the official tourney posters. A few other leagues have obtained special permission to compete in cases where at least 75% of the keglers are local residents but no alleys are available in the town from which league originates.

Official league team averages to be used in computation of handicaps will be as of Dec. 17 for the men, Dec. 24 for the women. Handicap of 70% from 1,000 will be used. In other words, an 850 average team will receive 105 pin handicap per game. Approximate handicaps will be published in Jan. 5 and 12 editions, but will not be official pending actual start of competition.

TIME RESERVATIONS for both men's and women's tournaments can be secured simply by calling publication office as soon as possible. There will be room for 16 squads on each shift at 1:00, 3:15, 5:30 and 7:45 for the men at Beverly Lanes Jan. 8. There will be room for 8 squads on each shift at 1:00, 3:30, 6:00 and 8:30 for the women at Tradsch-Linden Recreation, Bensenville, Jan. 15.

In event any team suddenly lacks a bowler for the tournament, a substitute will have to be provided by starting time, or teams will have to consider the kegler rolled "a zero score." No blind scores shall be permitted and a bowler must bowl with, on the same alleys, and at the same time his team bowls.

Entry fees for both men's and women's tournaments are $16.50 per team. Tournament sponsors recommend the fee come from league treasuries, in the belief sponsors have done their part in paying original team sponsorship before the season began. It is up to league officials to determine where this money comes from, however.

Grant Sophs Bite Palatine

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Grant's frosh-soph Bulldogs, with a bulldog like defense, handed Palatine their third defeat in 4 conference games by a score of 35-28 Friday night at Palatine.

The Bulldogs outscored Palatine from the field 15 to 10, but the Pirates made 8 free throws to the Bulldogs 5. Only 9 personal fouls were credited to Palatine during the game.

BOTH TEAMS played very cautiously during the first four minutes as they were tied at 5 all, but Grant pulled ahead to be on top 9-5 at the end of the first quarter. Grant, after taking the four point lead, never let Palatine have a chance to catch them. Klazura and Klien of Grant chalked up the ten points that Grant collected during the second quarter, to take the lead of 19-12 at the half.

Palatine seemed to be sparked up a little at half time because both teams scored 8 points in the third and fourth quarters. Bob Elms and Bruce Crane scored a total of 10 points during the second half, but it wasn't enough as Grant won the game 35-26.

Arlington Grapplers Lose To Elgin In Thriller, Top Glenbrook

Arlington Heights high school's varsity wrestling squad won and lost last weekend, succumbing to Elgin, 23-17 in a thriller and running over Glenbrook, 32-13. This week the grapplers are competing in Waukegan holiday wrestling tournament.

That Elgin affair was a thriller with Heights leading throughout most of the see-saw affair. Jerry Bonn pinned at 95 followed by a decision by Ralph Carlino at 103. That 8-0 lead melted to 8-6 when Phil Deming and Clarence Trausch lost decisions, but Roger Neunsinger gained a pin for an 11-6 margin.

FRED STEINGRABER lost to make it 11-9 but Capt. Jack Ebert won a decision to push the Cardinals to 14-9. Ed Beier and Mickey Harris lost decisions to give Elgin a 15-14 lead but Al Rose's decision at 165 put Heights ahead again, 17-15.

Don Plank dropped a hard fought decision to put Elgin ahead again. Then came Carl Klehm's turn. The 230 pound Heights lad wrestled a quick fill-in for Elgin, then sprained a shoulder to lose the match and give Elgin the victory.

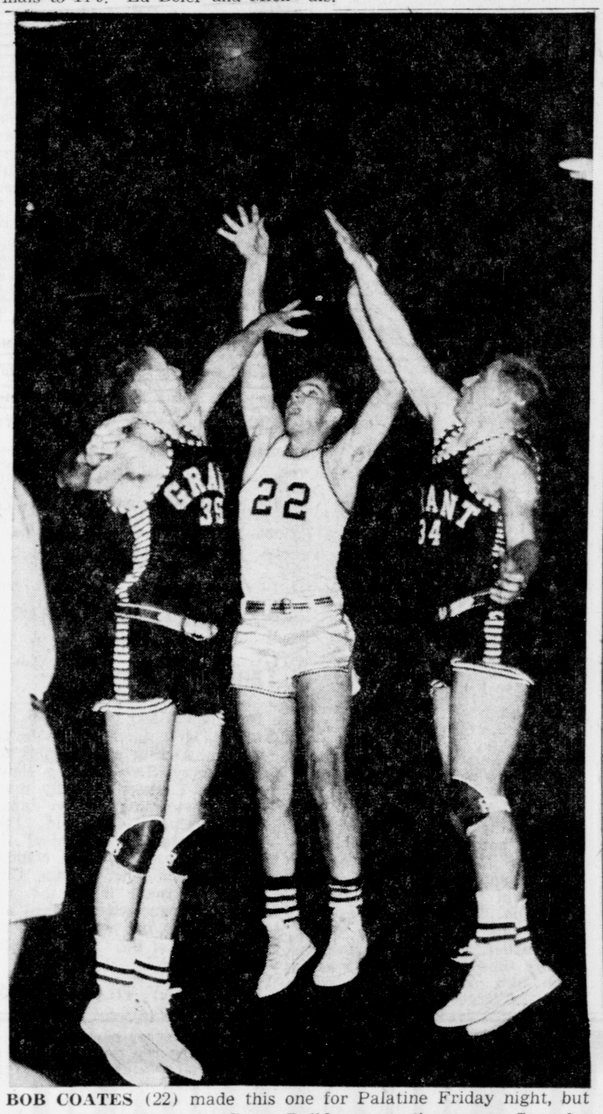
THOUGH LOSING, the Arlington team put out "their best effort of the year" according to team mentor Dick Mudge. Particularly outstanding was Don Plank, the 142 pound boy who wrestled at 175, doing a good job in spite of losing. Elgin had 4 boys who wrestled downstate last year and provided tough competition for the Cardinals.



BOB COATES (22) made this one for Palatine Friday night, but it wasn't enough as the Grant Bulldogs won the game. Seen for Grant are Tierney (35) and Bassow (34) —Staff Photo

Ed Beier's loss was the first of the season for him, losing to Winebrenner. Al Rose and Ebert are still undefeated for the local varsity. Carl Klehm's injury will keep him out of actio for 2 or 3 weeks, but he'll be back after the holidays.

JERRY BONN, though a freshman, took pins both nights and looked good doing it. Clarence Trausch, a sophomore, also looked good.

Elgin 23, Arlington 17

95—Bonn, A, pinned Johnson, E, in 1:41.

Arlington JVs Lose To York, Wallop Leyden

Arlington's JV basketball team lost to York, 48-46, but downed Leyden, 82-58, over the weekend. Both games were played at home.

Card reserves divided scoring honors fairly well against York with Wayne Haemker and Dan Vittum each dropping in 5 baskets.

Jerry Klement tallied 4 times from the field. Vittum also swished 5 of 7 free throws. High for York was Otto with 7 buckets and 2 charities.

Arlington	12	20	31	46
York	10	23	34	48

Tom Jacobsen and Wayne Haemker each scored 10 baskets against Leyden in a runaway affair when Haemker hit 6 buckets the fourth quarter. Jacobsen also sank 9 of 14 free throws for 29 points.

Haemker totalled 24 for the day with Pat Brownell counting 8 baskets and 3 charities for 19 points. High for Leyden was Rendl with 5 baskets and 13 of 19 free throws, believe it or not.

Frosh 'A' Team Wins 2, But 'B' Squad Loses 2

Arlington's freshman "A" squad beat York and Leyden Saturday and Monday, but the "B" team lost both games. The "A" squad whipped York, 52-31, and Leyden, 43-33. The "B" team lost to York, 45-35, and to Leyden, 35-26.

The "A" team looked good against York but poor against Leyden. Coach Ken Schaller's squad took a 4 point margin the opening period, stretched it to 9 at the half and to ll going into the final quarter. Scoring honors for Heights went to Lee Magnuson with 19 points, followed by Don Gerken with 10. High for York was Peterson with 13.

Arlington	8	18	35	52

LEYDEN TOOK an 8-5 lead the opening period Monday but Heights overtook the young Eagles Monday with an 18-12 halftime margin. Leyden came back to lead, 29-25, going into the final frame. Young Cardinals swished in 18 points the fourth quarter to win the game, however. Arlington was weak on defense, won due to heighth advantage.

Scoring was divided among 7 boys for Arlington, with Ed Whitelaw leading with 13 points. Tops for Leyden was Seitman with 18 scores. He notched 6 buckets athe third period.

Arlington	5	18	25	43
Leyden	8	12	29	33

THE "B" SQUAD was behind by 15 points at the half against York, could never recover. Dave Varnado top point getter for Coach Bob Baker with 4 baskets and 8 of 13 free throws, all in the second half. Jim Conroy was second with 13 points by virtue of 3 baskets and 7 of 7 charities.

Arlington	7	7	16	35
York	8	22	33	54

The Leyden affair was a low scoring one with Varnado's 10 points high for Heights. The locals scored just 3-6-8-9 points the 4 quarters.

Cards Whip Downers For 1st Conference Victory, 57-48

by PETE SWANSON

Coach Howard Lester's Cardinals recorded their first conference victory in a home game Friday night. Neither team played outstanding ball, but Arlington was the better team in the clutch.

The Lestermen went into a zone press almost from the start. Downers was able to get across the time line but their offense was slowed down. The Cards jumped off to an early lead but were caught late in the opening quarter.

THE SCORE was tight until the middle of the second stanza when the zone press began to hurt the Trojans. The Cards capitalized on mistakes by Downers and opened up a lead of seven points at one time. Play was ragged on both sides in this quarter. Novotney and O'Byrne dominated the boards for the Trojans throughout the first half.

The third period saw the home five shoot poorly, missing three easy shots early in the period. Downers closed the gap to a single marker on four occasions, but Striegel, Ashley, and Summers took turns in protecting the slim lead.

THE TROJANS played it cautiously in the final eight minutes, moving the ball around and trying to get close-in shots. The Cards played well defensively and kept the visitors from getting the shots they wanted, After two free throws narrowed the margain to 44-43, Arlington registered the next 10 tallies to ice the ball game. The locals were better on the boards in this quarter, with Palmer doing some good work on the defensive board. Downers' shooting suffered in the late stages of the period.

Jim Summers was the leading scorer in the game with 18 points. Ron Ashley and Bill Palmer added 10 apiece for the Cards. Downers was led by Gary Fridley with 14, followed by Darryl Jelinek and Elton O'Byrne, each with 10 markers.

Wauconda Loses To Fenton Frosh-Sophs

by MAX ZOLLNER

Fenton's frosh-soph cagers, undefeated in conference play, won their fifth in a row by beating Wauconda 48-40 on the Bulldogs floor Friday night.

The junior Bisons defense clicked in the first period as Wauconda was held to only 3 points. The offense worked also for the Fenton five as they notched 14 markers.

COACH JONKHEER'S red frosh-soph squad continued to swamp the Bulldogs in the second quarter, leading at the half 23-10. Terry Biefeld, Fenton guard, scored 3 baskets to pace the Bisons in this stanza.

In the third period Fenton matched the 12 points Wauconda scored and still led by a 15 point margin.

WAUCONDA came back strong in the closing quarter outscoring Fenton's reserves 18-11 but succumbed to the powerful Bison squad 48-40.

Highlighting the scoring was Fenton's Terry Biefeld with 6 baskets and four free throws and Wauconda's Baldino with 15 points.

2nd Quarter Splurge Gives Heights Sophs Downers Win

by PETE SWANSON

Playing at home Arlington frosh-soph cagers won their seventh straight Friday evening over Downers Grove. A second quarter in which the locals doubled their opponents in scoring gave the young Cards a lead that was never lost.

The opening quarter was close with the lead changing hands several times. Both squads shot well during the period and rebounding was even. Two free tosses by Weber gave Arlington a one point lead at the quarter's end.

THE GAME remained tight until the middle of the second period. Then the visitors started making mistakes which the Cards converted into easy baskets. Bjorklund with six points, Thill with five, and Lockwood with five handled the scoring for Arlington in this quarter. The teams left the floor at halftime with the home team in front by nine markers.

Play was ragged in the third stanza with free throws responsible for much of the scoring. The Cards continued to hold a lead that ranged from eight to twelve points.

FINAL SEVEN minutes were about the same as the third quarter. The young Trojans might have made things more interesting, but they rushed their shots and couldn't find the range. Arlington played very ordinary ball throughout the game.

The scoring showed four Cards in double figures. Bruce Bjorklund led both teams with 16 tallies, followed by Bob Lockwood with 15, Denny Thill with 11, and Jack Weber with 10. Heading the visitors were Paulsey and Peiffer with 13 and 12 markers respectively. Both teams hit 17 buckets but Arlington was much the better from the charity line.

Card Sophs Routed By La Grange, 65-45

by PETE SWANSON

After seven consecutive wins, Coach Maurice Klotz's sophomores were beaten Saturday night on the Arlington court. The loss came at the hands of a fine LaGrange squad that outplayed the young Cards in all phases of the game.

The locals stayed with the visitors through the first period, thanks to the efforts of Denny Thill, who scored 11 of his team's 14 points. The LaGrange five was the taller and faster of the two squads.

THE KITTENS extended their lead in the second stanza. The Cards made defensive lapses and permitted them to get good outside shots, and LaGrange shot well during the period. In the last minute the home team started making mistakes and slowing down.

Starting the second half with a nine point margin, the Kittens proceeded to wrap the game up. They continued to shoot well and played good defensive ball. The Cards couldn't hit and made numerous mistakes. After falling farther behind, the Arlington five reacted slower and played indifferently, merely going through the motions.

FINAL QUARTER was uneventful and featured a parade to the foul line. Only five field goals were counted in the period.

John Franz of Lyons paced both teams scoring wise with 21 points. Next for the visitors with 17 was Pearson, the outstanding player in the ball game. The 6'3" pivotman showed good spring in rebounding well, displayed the ability to shoot while fading away, and tipped well. He should become a fine varsity player. Arlington's leading scorer was Denny Thill with 19 tallies.

Fenton Frosh Win Over Wauconda, 49-27

by MAX ZOLLNER

Fenton's frosh copped their second win of the season by defeating Wauconda 49-27 on the Bulldogs court Saturday morning.

The freshmen Bisons, led by Don DiOrio's 6 tallies and Dierking's 6 points jumped to a 17-2 first period lead.

In the second quarter Niemo, Bulldog center, notched six markers as the Wauconda squad outscored Fenton 10-9.

The third stanza Fenton's frosh maintained their 16 point lead and in the final quarter increased their margin to 2 points winning 49-27.

The Bulldog's Niemo led all scoring with 5 buckets and 4 free throws. Fenton's Don DiOrio and Dierking were second and third with 13 and 12 points respectively.

Glenbrook Floods Palatine With 26 Pt. 3rd Period To Win

by JOE GODDARD

For the second straight night Palatine's die-hard Pirates put up a champion style first half and lapsed into their average season showing in the second half to fall before a big Glenbrook Spartan team 77 to 53 at Glenbrook Saturday. It was Palatine's eighth straight loss.

Glenbrook found a surprise in Palatine and had to overcome a 19 to 13 Pirate lead at first quarter's end and had to work hard to manage a tie, 32-all, by half time. A 26 point third quarter surge and 18 last quarter points, however, easily set down a tired Pirate team which has played 4 straight double weekends of basketball.

BOB BOYD, Spartan topnotch guard and scorer and equally as fine rebounder, led the attack with 27 points, putting himself among the league leaders in scoring. Boyd was backed up by towering center Spalding and forward Sawyers who each tallied 17 points.

The new spirit continued to effect Palatine's play as was revealed by their first half play. A red hot first quarter netted 19 points, 11 by Jory Danforth, and only 5 shots were missed. The loss of Bob Coates on fouls in the third quarter weakened Palatine's attack considerably.

DANFORTH'S 17 points led the Pirates while Pete Trenchard hit 11 points for the second night in a row. The Pirates shooting percentage improved slightly to 29 per cent but Glenbrook's 40 per cent was superior.

Grant Noses Grayslake By 1 In Tight Game

Grant outscored Grayslake by 1 point in the final quarter and that was the margin of victory as they nosed out the Rams 56-55 in a tight ball game last Saturday night. Grant led 30-22 at the half but a 20-point splurge by Grayslake in the third period knotted the count at 52 all.

Anderson had 4 field goals and 15 of 18 free throws to lead Grayslake with 23 points. Denny Hodge scored 23 for the winning Grant 5. Grayslake took the frosh-soph game 47-36 to maintain a 4-1 record and undisputed second place.

Autograph Hound

When General Manager Frank Lane of the Cardinals visited the Missouri penitentiary recently with Governor Phil Donnelly to discuss baseball with the convicts, one inmate kept pestering him for his autograph. Lane gave it to him. Later, says The Sporting News, Lane asked what the man was serving time for. A guard's reply gave him something to think about — "forgery."

Wauconda Wrestlers Trip Lake Forest

Wauconda won its second straight wrestling meet by defeating Lake Forest 34 to 18 at Wauconda. The Wauconda grapplers won 14 out of 18 matches, including exhibitions. Eleven of them were on pins.

Boys gaining falls in the varsity match were Jim Cousar, John Grist, Jim Longfield, Bill Pierick, and Blase Cermak. (Sp

Yanks Fly High

President Spike Briggs of the Detroit Tigers likes to needle the Yankees. And he didn't miss the opening, says The Sporting News, when the Yankees recently made their barnstorming trip to Japan. "Last summer," he said, "the Yankees refused to travel by plane. But even if they couldn't fly to Detroit and Kansas City, I see they made it all the way from San Francisco to Tokyo and back. Maybe by now they have discovered that the flying machine is here to stay."

Grant Freshmen Down Palatine

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine freshman team defeated the Grant Bulldogs, 31-26, for their third conference win in 4 games. Grant played on Palatine's court Saturday morning.

Palatine took an early lead of 5-0 and never let up for the rest of the game. Jim Wenger led Palatine's scoring with 3 points as Palatine took a 9-6 first quarter lead. Palatine really got hot in the second quarter as they scored 10 points to Grant's 2, to take a 19-8 halftime lead.

Grant bounded right back in the third quarter, with Glen Voche scoring 4 points. Palatine had trouble in the third quarter, but maintained a lead of 25-19. Bill Baumrucker paced the Pirates scoring with all 6 points Palatine collected in the fourth quarter to give Palatine an easy victory over Grant 31-26.

Bill Baumrucker paced Palatine's scoring with 8 points. Bob Hamn of Grant highlighted their scoring with 8 points also. It was Palatine's third victory over Northwest conference teams in four games played.

Glenbrook Sophs Defeat Palatine, 59-44

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Glenbrook's frosh-soph team coasted to its first victory of the season by defeating Palatine, 59-44, Saturday night at Glenbrook.

Palatine never got started as Glenbrook capitalized on every break to coast to an easy victory. At the end of the first quarter Glenbrook lead by 14-7 and never lost this advantage. Bruce King and Bruce Crane of Palatine made a vain effort to get Palatine back into the game, as they scored a total of eleven points. Despite this effort, Glenbrook still maintained its lead as the half ended in their favor 24-18.

IN THE THIRD quarter Glenbrook went all out and scored 17 points to Palatine's 12 to take a 41-30 lead. Bill Timmerman of Glenbrook scored 7 points in the fourth quarter as Glenbrook scored 18 points to Palatine's 14 to win the game 59-44.

Bill Zimmerman was high scorer piling up 21 points. Fifteen of these 21 points were successful free throws. Palatine's individual high scorer was Bob Elms, who scored 11 points. (Sp

The Hungry Sportsman

by Eddie Meier

Quails En Casserole

This is a dinner for four and a mighty delicious meal it is, too! Of course, you can extend it to 6, 8, 10 or more simply by adding 1 quail per person.

Dress and clean your birds and soak 1 hour in salt water. If you can keep them overnight in the refrigerator, you wil l find the meat tastier and more tender.

Stuff the birds with equal parts of canned mushrooms and English walnuts. Place in casserole. To the juice from the canned mushrooms add sufficient water to make 2 cups and in this dissolve 2 bouillon cubes. Pour into casserole along with 1 medium onion, 1 stalk celery and 1 small carrot, all finely minced. Bake 1 hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees). In a sauce pan make a roux of 2 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons flour, add liquid from casserole and stir until thick. Add 4 tablespoons sherry wine an pour over birds. Season to taste.

It is almost always when things are all blocked up and impossible that a happening comes. If you are sure and ready, that is all you need. God is turning the world around all the time.

—Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney

The joy of brightening other lives, bearing others' burdens, easing others' loads and supplanting empty hearts and lives with generous gifts becomes for us the magic of Christmas.

Palatine Wrestlers Trim Wheaton And Academy

Pal Wrestlers LU D.... .....

Palatine's varsity wrestling squad continued their winning ways last week by beating the Academy of Wheaton, 27 to 17, and the high school of the same town, 27 to 19. The victories boosted their record to 4 wins and 1 loss.

Coach Ellis's grapplers registered 7 wins with 3 pins in each meet to account for the winning margins.

THREE WRESTLERS, Jim McCreecy at 127, John Dilks at 154, and Leonard Rohde at heavyweight, all seniors, won both their matches to remain undefeated this year. Rhode won both his matches on pins and in both cases, a loss on his part would have tied or lost the meet. Richard Schollz, sophomore at 120, and Denny Lundgren, junior at 165, also boast double wins which were valuable in the victories.

Jack Pollien, junior, broke into the lineup at 103 and came back after losing to the Academy and pinned his opponent from the high school. Dan Kusek, sophomore at 95, split his matches as did Karl Schwenk, junior at 133, and Frank Kiraly, junior at 165. Kusek won and was pinned, Schwenk lost and then pinned his man, and Kiraly pinned and was pinned.

ANDY ANDERSON, junior at 112, Bob Nordin, sophomore at 138, and Rich Lundgren, senior at 175, lost their matches.

The coming week will be used in preparation for Palatine's Invitational Holiday Tournament to be held on the Tuesday and Wednesday following Christmas. Wheaton Academy along with Palatine and 6 other schools will be present. Tuesday's wrestling will be at 7 p.m. and at 2 and 7 p.m. the following day.

Card Soph Wrestlers Top Elgin, Glenbrook

Arlington's frosh-soph grapplers won 2 more meets over the weekend, easily outdistancing Elgin, 37-13, and winning over Glenbrook, 28-22. A freshman wrestling meet with Glnbrook went to the young Spartans, as various illnesses, vacations, etc., made the frosh match a nightmare for Coach Maurice Kellogg.

The sophomores now have a 5-1 record, and are eagerly awaiting meets following the holidays, determined to continue that ratio. Boys showing well include Ed Schumacher, Tom Kennicott and Roger Farleigh.

INEXPERIENCED ELGIN was no match for the Cardinals. The young Maroons took a decision at 127 and pins at 120 and 145. Heights pins were gained by Schreiber, Schumacher, Kennicott and Schneck.

Glenbrook started fast with 2 decisions against Heights Saturday, but Zucchero's pin and Vaughan's decision put the Kellogg-men ahead, 8-6. Glenbrook went ahead, 9-8, on a decision but Schumacher and Kennicott copped pins to go ahead to stay.

THE MEET was never actually decided, however, until the last match. Arlington led, 23-22, with Berg carrying the Heights colors at heavyweight. Berg made short work of Gorski, pinning him in 1:22 of the first round and the meet was over.

Agnes Geis Is Bride Of Eugene Schaefges

(Robert Photo

Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Glenview was the scene of an 11 a.m. service in which Miss Agnes Marilyn Geis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. ePter Geis of Northbrook became the bride of Eugene Schaefges,son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schaefges of Mt. Prospect. The Rev. John Dussman officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The bodice of the gown was of the lace fashioned with long sleeves and off-shoulder neckline. The tulle skirt had a wide band of the lace at the hemline. A pearl crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a nosegay of pom pons.

Miss Jule Vick of Gages Lake was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's cousin, Miss Mary Lou Glotzbach of Chicago, the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lorraine Schaefges of Skokie and Mrs. Joan Perry of Des Plaines. Mrs. Perry's son, Scott, 3, was ring bearer and the bride's 9-year-old sister, Joanne, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore moss rose taffeta gowns with heavy lace and carried fall flowers. The junior bridesmaid's gown was in white fashioned identically to the gowns of the other attendants.

Norbert Schaefges of Skokie was his brother's best man and ushers were the bride's brother, Leonard, and the bridegroom's brothers, Joseph Jr. and Bob.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served to the immediate families and the bridal party at Herdrich's in Glenview and a reception for 400 guests was held in the Wilmette Hotel.

The newlyweds honeymooned for 2 weeks in Mexico and are now at home in an apartment in Mt. Prospect.

The new Mrs. Schaefges was graduated from Alvernia high school and is employed by Chicopee Mills in Chicago. The bridegroom was graduated from Arlington Heights township high school and is employed as a carpenter.

Elaine Heinrich And Ralph Plote Marry

Now residing in Palatine are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Plote who were married December 4 in St. John Evangelical and Reformed church in Bensenville. Mrs. Plote is the former Elaine D. Heinrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Heinrich of Bensenville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plote, Central rd., Palatine.

The Rev. E. Bergstraesser officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring service during which soloist, Mrs. Ann Mager, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." White mums and carnations decorated the church.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace fashioned floor length with long sleeves. Her pearl earrings and necklace were a gift of the bridegroom sent while he was overseas. The bride wore her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Heinrich's, fingertip veil and pearl crown and carried white roses with 2 white orchids.

Mrs. Melvin Hartmann of Roselle was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was of blue with net skirt and crystalette bodice and bolero jacket. Pink carnations made up her bouquet. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Morler of Bensenville and Miss Dorothy Schulze, niece of the bride. Their gowns were of coral pink and they carried blue carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heinrich wore an aqua crepe dress with a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and a white carnation corsage.

Best man was Elmer Rueter of Elgin and the bride's brother, LeRoy Heinrich, and the bridegroom's cousin, Wayne Jahns of Palatine, were ushers.

Following the candlelight ceremony, a reception for 400 guests was held at Bensenville fireman's hall where a buffet was served.

Mr. Plote and his bride honeymooned for 2 weeks in Florida and are now residing with the bridegroom's parents. The new Mrs. Plote attended Bensenville high school and Mr. Plote was graduated from Palatine high school. A veteran of the Korean conflict, Mr. Plote is now farming with his father. (Bak Studio

Q. Isn't it improper for two persons who are introduced at a dinner to reach across the table to shake hands?

A. Although not exactly improper, it does create an awkward situation, and it is much better to refrain from shaking hands and merely nod your head in acknowledgment of a table introduction. If, however, the other person does reach across the table to you, you must not hesitate in accepting it.

Q. Is it necessary to mail engraved invitations to close friends who have already been invited verbally?

A. It is always correct to send the engraved invitations —even to members of the immediate families.

Festive with Christmas colors is the delicious molded salad we are featuring this week.

Perfect for holiday entertaining, the salad is lime green, highlighted with gay red cherries.

Mrs. Paul F. Burgess brought this recipe with her from the east, and it has made a big hit whenever she has served it.

A flavorful combination of lime jello, cottage cheese and mayonnaise, the salad also contains cherries and chopped nuts.
cherries andchopped nuts.

It can be made the day before it is to be served or an hour before, as it sets so quickly. And lemon jello may be substituted for the lime, if desired.

The Burgesses moved from Syracuse, N. Y., to their home at 513 S. Evergren, Arlington Heights, a year ago.

They have 2 children, Priscilla, 16, and Douglas, 13.

Holiday Salad

2 packages lime jello
2 cups boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 cup mayonnaise
¾ pound small curd cottage cheese
1 cup drained, crushed pineapple
1 8-ounce bottle maraschino cherries
1 cup chopped nutmeats

Dissolve jello in boiling water. Add cold water.

When jello starts to thicken, beat until frothy.

Then add cottage cheese and mayonnaise and coninue beating.

Immediately add cherries, pineapple and nuts and pour into a two-quart ring mold.

No Claim

In spite of the millions of dollars spent by the U. S. in exploring the Antarctic continent, no move has ever been made to claim any portion of Antarctica.

THE PROPOSED northwest Community hospital fund benefitted from a smorgasbord December 15 at Fadaro's restaurant in Mt. Prospect. Members of Al Ragland's quintet entertained during the affair which was held between 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. Besides the quintet, others donating time were members of the Junior Womans club, proprietors of Fadaro's, Phyllis and Fred Wolff and Ralph Lesher, other restaurant help and local residents. No charge was made for the smorgasbord, but an offering was accepted at the door as guests left the restaurant. —Staff Photo

Donna Toland Becomes Mrs. Forrest J. Laude

Miss Donna Toland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Toland of Havana, Ill. and Forrest Jeffrey Laude, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay F. Laude of 404 Windsor dr., Arlington Heights, were united in holy matrimony Sunday, Dec. 18 at 2:30 p.m. at the Forrest Methodist church of Havana. The Rev. William Stuart presided at the double ring ceremony which was attended by members of the immediate families.

The church altar was arrayed with baskets of white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums and a background of greenery. Two white satin kneeling pillows completed the setting.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white jersey suit with box jacket and sheath skirt, and her small white hat was made of feathers. Her accessories were of brown and she wore a white orchid and carried a white Bible.

Her only attendant was Miss Marcia Bailey of Peoria, whose gown was of aqua blue and designed along princess lines. She wore a jeweled white hat, white gloves and slippers and her shoulder corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his cousin, Thomas Jeffrey of Lake Bluff.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Toland chose a teal blue suit, matching blue hat and pink accessories. Her corsage was made of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Laude, mother of the bridegroom, wore an orchid 2-piece suit with pearl and rhinestone collar and cuffs. Her hat was of white velvet and she chose matching gloves and purse. Her shoulder corsage was of small yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the wedding party received 150 guests at a reception at the Riverview club, Havana. Mr. Laude and his bride are at home in Peoria at 1615 N. Jefferson, and will honeymoon during the summer on the west coast.

Mrs. Laude is employed in Peoria as a secretary at the Clark Oil Co. and Mr. Laude is a senior at Bradley university. He previously attended Washington State college, Pullman.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kershaw of Nashville, Mrs. Earl C. Jeffrey of Lake Bluff. Richard Frasier of Palatine and Al Dieball of Arlington Heights.

Engagements

Marlene Brown

The engagement of Miss Marlene Brown to Robert J. Groeneveld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Groeneveld of South Holland, Ill., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brown, 102 N. Wille st., Mt. Prospect.

Miss Brown was graduated from Arlington Heights township high school and is now attending the University of Illinois where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Her fiance was graduated from Thornton township high school. He served 2 years in the Marine Corps and is now attending the University of Illinois where he is a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity.

Therese Dominick

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dominick of Chicago announce the engagement of their daughter, Therese Mary, to Lawrence Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Klein of Arlington Heights.

Miss Dominick is a graduate of Mundelein high school and is now employed by Sears Roebuck and Co. Mr. Klein is employed by the Arlington Heights post office.

The couple have set May 5 as the wedding date.

Meadows Juniors Share Christmas With Disturbed Children

Feeling Christmas can only be truly enjoyed by sharing Christmas with others less fortunate, the Rolling Meadows Junior Womans club will provide a special Christmas party for a group of emotionally disturbed children. The party will be held on Tuesday, December 27, at 2:30 p.m. at Ridge Farm in Lake Forest. Ridge Farm is a highly - recommended institution which deals with emotionally disturbed children between the ages of 8 and 14 years.

The special party will be held for the children of the school unable to be with their own families for the holidays. Attending will be 13 boys and 5 girls. Each child will receive a special Christmas stocking with candy from the club. Major Christmas gift for the school from the club will be an electric kiln which can be used by all of the children for the creative work so important in their rehabilitation.

Entertainment will be necessarily limited due to the special problems of the children and the need to avoid extra excitement. Music will play an important feature in the party as that is considered helpful in the work of the school.

The party provided by the Junior Woman's club will be the only party given by any outside organization for these children during the holiday season. Chairman of the committee in charge of party plans is Jean Katkus. Committee members are Marge Schmidt, Donna Piehl and Donna Anderson.

Heights Alumni Dance Features Paul Meeker

PAUL MEEKER

High school alumni will dance to the music of Paul Meeker's orchestra at the second annual "Holiday Dance," December 28 at Itasca country club. Mr. Meeker has played for many Chicago area dances, just recently completing an engagement at Chevy Chase.

Dancing is from 9 to 1, dress is semi-formal, and refreshments will be served. Invitations sell for $5 and are limited to 125 couples. Over the 4-day Thanksgiving holiday, 44 invitations were sold or reserved till Christmas time. Because only 25 more couples are being invited than were present last year, alums are urged to buy their invitations as soon as possible. They will be sold from December 21 to December 28 by the dance committee.

Committee members to be contacted for invitations are Neil Barr, Sana Franke, Jim Laughlin, Joanne Glaeser, Bob Ellis, Joan Winterbauer, Dave Brant, Pat Watkins, Bob Dotts and Denny Maher.

Accidentally

Turkeys are not the only creatures which experience a drop in life expectancy during the holiday season.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Isn't it all right to send a typewritten letter of condolence, signing it of course by hand?

A. While it is acceptable now to type social letters, it still is considered more proper to write the letter of condolence by hand — this seeming to indicate more personal and more sincere warmth.

Q. Is it considered proper to use the spoon to test the temperature of the coffee at the table?

A. Yes, this is all right. But after that one little "taste-test," the spoon should be placed in the saucer and left there.

Q. What apology should one offer if one accidentally brushes against another person on the street, or in some public conveyance?

A. "I am sorry," or, "I beg your pardon."

Q. What is one supposed to say to the bride and bridegroom at the wedding reception, also what do you say to their parents?

A. You wish the bride all happiness, congratulate the bridegroom, tell the bride's parents how lovely the bride is, and tell the bridegroom's parents what a charming couple they make.

Q. Some men merely touch the brims of their hats when greeting women on the street. Is this considered all right?.

A. No; this is unmannerly and lazy The hat should be lifted slightly from the head.

Q. Please suggest some light refreshments that can be served at a small wedding reception.

A Cake, with coffee, tea or punch. Sandwiches and ices can be included if desired.

Q. I was widowed several months ago, and a friend has told me I am supposed either to discard my wedding ring or wear it on my right hand. What is correct?

A. You certainly do not have to do either of these! You may continue to wear your wedding ring for as long as you wish.

Q. What is the proper way to use a finger bowl at the dinner table?

A. Dip the ends of the fingers of one hand at a time, not both together, into the water. Then dry them with the napkin on the lap.

Q. Is it all right for a young man to accept a cigarette offered to him by a girl?

A. This is quite all right.

Q. Is it permissible to lean across one person to shake hands with a third?

A. It is usually better to avoid this, if you can. But if the other person seems bent on shaking hands with you, be sure to beg the pardon of the person across whom you reach.

Q. Should a hostess take the men's coats when they arrive at her home, and there is no servant?

A. No. If the host is not present, she should provide a place for the men to leave their wraps as they arrive.

Q. Is it preferable to write a business letter in short sentences and short paragraphs?

A. Yes. Brevity is preferred in a business letter, though it takes real ability to tell a story" in a few words. It is often more difficult to write a good short letter than a lengthy one.

Q. Is it possible to correct someone's grammar without being impolite?

A. No one likes being corrected in group conversation, and efforts at improvement of grammar and diction had better be reserved for members of one's family or very close friends who may consider them as favors, and not insults.

Miss Csanadi Marries Ronald Christiansen

Miss Mary Ann Csanadi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Csanadi, 502 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, became the bride of Ronald Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Stoeckel, 16 N. Pine, Mt. Prospect, in a double ring ceremony November 26 in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights.

The Rev. Harold T. O'Hara officiated at the 1 p.m. ceremony during which Jack Lee, soloist, sang "Panis Angelicus' and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." Arrangements of mums decorated the altars and the pews were marked with satin bows, greens and mums.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. Irridescent sequins trimmed the V neckline. Her headpiece was of the irridescent sequins and held her short veil. Her bridal bouquet was of Amazon lilies, lily of the valley and ivy.

Lorraine Tischer, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of wood rose changeable taffeta and she carried a bouquet of copper-toned mums with ti leaves. Coralee Geyer, a Kappa Delta sorority sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and her gown was in green changeable taffeta. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Richard Christiansen was his brother's best man and James Christiansen, another brother of the bridegroom, was usher.

Following the ceremony an open house with buffet was held at the home of the bride's parents. Ninety guests attended the 2 p.m. open house and 150 guests the 7 p.m. dinner at Allgauer's Fireside restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Csanadi wore an emerald green satin sheath dress with a corsage of white cypripedium orchids. The bridegroom's mother was in satin rose with a corsage of brown and rose cypripedium orchids.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students at Northern Illinois State college and since December 1 have been residing in an apartment on Glidden rd., De Kalb. Mr. Christiansen, an army veteran, is in his second year at the college and the new Mrs. Christiansen is in her third year. (Bak Studio

Annette Wahl, Victor Herman Jr. Wed Nov. 12

Miss Annette J. Wahl, granddaughter of Mrs. Mabel Wasser, 215 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, and Victor A. Herman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Herman Sr., 441 Rand rd., Arlington Heights, were united in marriage in an 11:30 a.m. ceremony in St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, November 12. Fr. Nicola officiated at the double ring ceremony during which Melborne Juliar of Glenview, gave his niece in marriage.

For her marriage the bride wore a full length princess style gown of imported chantilly lace with tulle skirt over a cascade of tulle ruffles. The bodice of her gown was fashioned with long sleeves and illusion neckline with collar of the lace. Her veil was of tulle and held in place with a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones. White carnations with a white orchid center composed her bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Warner Stoeckel of Champaign who wore a coral net gown. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roland Moffet of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Harold Hodge of Arlington Heights. Their gowns were identical to the matron of honor's gown.

The bride's 4-year-old cousin, Lyndell Juliar of Glenview, was flower girl and wore an aqua brocade crystalette gown. Terry Juliar, 6, brother of Lyndell, was ring bearer.

Earl H. White of Mt. Prospect was best man and ushers were Jack Jasinowski of Norwood Park, cousin of the groom, and Warner Stoeckel of Champaign.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. At 7 p.m., dinner was served to 200 guests at the Slovik halls in Chicago. Mrs. Wasser received the guests in an aqua taffeta dress and Mrs. Herman in a light blue crystalette dress. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Arlington Heights township high school. The bride is employed at Breda's restaurant in Arlington Heights and the bridegroom by Bud's Auto Body shop in Des Plaines.

Mr. Herman and his bride honeymooned in Missouri for a week and after this weekend will be residing in a cottage on Milwaukee ave., Wheeling.

Mary Ann Samson Weds In Arabia

The American mission chapel in Manama, Bahrein island in the Persian Gulf was the scene of a double ring ceremony November 24 in which Miss Mary Ann Samson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Samson of Barrington and Milton H. Liddi of Lawton, Okla., were united in marriage.

The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock with Dr. Allen Tischner officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by Vol Williams and wore a white silk taffeta and lace gown with fingertip veil. Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Attending the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Knowles. Mrs. Knowles wore a pink gown with white carnations.

A reception for 50 guests was held in the British Overseas hotel on Bahrein island. The newlyweds have been at home at Abqaiq, Saudi Arabia since December 1. The bridegroom is employed by the Arabian American Oil Co.

Good Loggers

Lumber companies have been quick to adopt modern devices and tools in their protection operations. Progressive companies have organized their loggers into trained fire fighting teams and have equipped them with fire trucks, motor vehicles and bulldozers, and two-way radios for effective communications.

New Arrivals

The fair sex this week in Rolling Meadows outnumbered the male sex by one. December 9 Kathleen Mary Cerney was born at St. Joseph hospital, Chicago, weighing at 9 pounds 8½ ounces. She is the daughter of Shirley and Tom Cerney, 2405 Park st., and baby sister of Donna, 14 months old.

Betsy Lee Morgan, the first child of Victor and Polly Morgan of 2507 Wilke rd., was born at Evanston hospital December 10. She weighed 8 pounds 5 ounces.

Lois and "Row" Rowbottom of 2311 School, now have a girl in the household. Lynn Marie, their fourth child, was born December 13 at Augustana hospital, Chicago. Registered birth weight was 5 pounds 9½ ounces. Her 3 brothers, who anxiously awaited her mother's return home from the hospital, are Michael, Gary and Richard.

The Singletons, Hope and Earl, of 2107 Sigwalt, are happy to announce the birth of their first son, Allan Earl. He was born at Resurrection hospital, Chicago, December 13, weighing 8 pounds. Mrs. Singleton, Earl's mother, from Akron, Ohio, was on hand to take care of the household and Debbie, 4 years old, while Hope was away. A big surprise awaited Hope at the door of the hospital last Saturday when she was returning home, as there at the curb stood their new 1956 Chevrolet to which Earl had just received the keys Friday.

Christenings

December 1 Amy Elizabeth, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swan William Benson Jr., of 2801 Owl lane, was christened at the Rolling Meadows Community church by the Rev. Nelson Ringsmuth. The double baptism ceremony also witnessed the baptism of Amy's mother, Mary Elizabeth. Following the ceremony a dinner party was held at the Benson home with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Swan Wm. Benson Sr., of Bellwood, present.

Our Lady of the Wayside church in Arlington Heights was the site for the christening December 1 of Rita Louise, daughter of Bob and Louise Sutton, 2602 St. James. Godmother was Louise's sister, Alice Frey. The godfather was Bob's brother, James B. Sutton. Father O'Hara officiated at the ceremony. Following the christening service, a buffet supper was enjoyed by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frey, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCardell, all of Chicago.

Trinity Lutheran church of Rolling Meadows was the site of the christening last Sunday for Jeffrey Lee Birt, infant son of Marion and Floyd Birt, 2307 Campbell st. Officiating at the baptism ceremony during the 10:30 a.m. morning service was Vicar Frederick Koehler. Sponsors for the baby were Thomas Birt and Miss Judith Birt, the father's brother and sister, and Wilbert Barttelt, cousin of the baby's mother. All 3 of the sponsors come from Wausau, Wis. Following the christening service, a dinner party was held in the Birt home. One of the guests of honor at the dinner party was Vicar Koehler. Traveling the long distance to Rolling Meadows from Wausau, Floyd and Marion Birts' home town, were other relatives. Staying the weekend at the Birt home to be present for the festivities were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Utecht with their son Kenny; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt; Mrs. Wilbert Barttelt and Mrs. Thomas Birt and her son Jerry in addition to the baby's sponsors.

Named for his grandfathers, Charles Leonard Sully was officially christened last Sunday at the Community church in Rolling Meadows. He is the 3½ month-old son of Dorothy and George Sully, 2312 Park st. Attending the christening during the morning church service as well as the dinner party celebrating the event were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Ellis of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sully of Glen Ellyn. Also present were aunts and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis of Chicago and Mrs. Louis Nye of Mt. Prospect. George Sully is a well-known Rolling Meadows resident, at least to the younger generation, as he is a seventh and eighth grade teacher at the Kimball Hill school.

Christmas Parties

A Christmas party was held at the home of Shirley Knudsen, 2302 Campbell, for members of the Sigma Eta Phi sorority, Delta chapter, and their husbands. Seven couples were on hand to enjoy the festivities.

Diane Campbell, 2408 Jay lane, was hostess to the Jay lane ladies pinochle club at a Christmas party held in her home Wednesday. To add to the enjoyment of the evening, gifts were exchanged in grab bag fashion. Each of the members brought along some goodies prepared in her own home. Present were Sue Kunz, Esther Middleton, Juanita Anderson, Kay Scheller and Norma Moffey.

A buffet supper at the home of Jane and Bill Self, 2104 Bluebird, was the end to a perfect evening for members of the canasta club and their friends. Saturday they started the evening at Sylvia's, where they had reserved the basement. The party continued with dancing and playing games until closing time, after which they all gathered at Sylvia's for supper. On hand for the evening were Mildred and Dick Windsor, Marion and Mike Garrity, Fred and Shirley Hahn, Anita and Bob Gelderman, Warren and Dorothy Fromm Dick and Carol Larsen, Tom and Eleanore Waldron, B. J. and Chuck Brown, Bill and Lorraine Crouch of Bluebird lane and Dorothy and Al Lund of Wren lane.

What started out to be a children's party was enjoyed by the mothers as well. June Smith, 2305 Robin lane, and her children, June and Debbie were co-hostesses at a Christmas party recently. The mothers exchanged gifts in grab bag fashion and the children did the same. Several of the mothers and children at the party were Joan Reilly and Billy and Kathleen; Anna Mae Haley, her 2 children, Chuck and Cathy; Dorothy Flugardt and Mark; Virginia Charnota; June and Debbie Smith and Nancy Conley and Chris.

A Christmas party was the reason for the laughter heard at the home of Mary Pettersen, 2103 Flicker lane, December 19. Marie, who was so anxious to have children of the neighborhood enjoy the party she had planned for them that she stayed up until the wee hours of the morning baking and preparing holiday goodies and cookies, decorating them with each child's name. Present for the party was Johnny Pettersen, Bridget Lipluma, Cathy and Ricky Truxell, Pat, Dan and Barbara Kolin. The children were exchanging gifts and playing games while their mothers were enjoying coffee and cookies.

Home For Christmas

After a 2-month stay in Edgewater hospital, Audrey Mesics is home with her husband, Clyde, and twin daughters, Patty and Barbara, for the holidays. She may have to return to the hospital soon after Christmas, but she wouldn't miss the holidays at home with the family for anything in the world. Her mother is staying with the family while she is ill.

Friends and neighbors of Betty Anderson, 3301 Fremont, wish her well and a speedy recovery. Last Friday Betty fell and crushed some bones in her lower spine. She is hospitalized in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, and is expected to remain there for at least 10 more days. Einar, her husband, is saddened by the fact she will be in the hospital for Christmas.

Bernie and Duane Macklin, husband and son of Lorraine Macklin, 2104 Kirchoff, are happy to have her back home again after a brief hospital stay. Lorraine entered Edgewater hospital December 13 and returned home Friday. Her friends and neighbors are glad to see her back home in time for Christmas.

"Aunt" Emma Glaskay, 2511 Sigwalt st., as she is known by the neighborhood children, wishes to thank all her friends who have been so kind to her during her illness. To help cheer her, neighbors sent her a poinsetta plant. Alec Glaskay also sends his appreciation for the kindness of the neighbors which has meant so much to his wife.

Holiday Decorations

The outdoor decorations of Jo-Ann and Bob Hayes of 2300 Park st., which displays Santa Claus with a child on his knee, is one of the best in Rolling Meadows. It has been reported that the Hayes started decorating their home December 1 and keep adding to them each week. Christmas music can also be heard over an amplifier system which Bob has rigged up. This home is another one of the homes not to be missed in your holiday tour of the community.

A lingerie demonstration brought a group of women to the home of Marge Becker, 2703 Sigwalt. The demonstrator was Alice Zonca who provided the prizes. Attending the gathering were Mrs. F. Becker, Dolores Gottschalk, Joyce Reeves, Arlene Fluger, Marie Bresemann, Ruth Radtke and Lil Westphal. Coffee and cake were served following the demonstration.

December 16 a Stanley demonstration was held at the home of Martha Jordan, 2202 South st. Lee Shaw of Arlington Knolls was the demonstrator. After their housewares shopping and placing their orders, Martha's neighbors, Rose Schon, Helen Burlette, Mary Estrella, Helene Bristo and Dorothy Brettner, were served refreshments.

Donna Anderson, 2101 Swan lane was hostess to a group of friends and neighbors at a lingerie demonstration given in her home December 13. Those attending to enjoy the demonstration and refreshments were Marge Rykema, Claire Lazarus, and Dune Haurigan, Florence Walsh and Muriel Schrock.

Trip

Les and Billie Traub, 2203 Heron court, had not had a vacation by themselves since the arrival of the 4 little Traubs, Rickey, Ronny, Leslie and Randy. Playing "hookey" they took a long awaited vacation trip to Detroit, where they visited Les' aunt and saw the sights. They left December 14 and returned home December 19. While they were away, 2 of the children were cared for by Donna Anderson and the other 2 by their grandmother who lives in Des Plaines.

Found--Persian Cat

About 2 weeks ago, Audrey Mitchell, 2802 School dr., found a full grown female Persian cat who has dark feet and reddish brown fur on her back. If anyone has lost a cat that answers to this description, please call Clearbrook 5-1137.

Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Doeden of South Dakota were the recent house guests of Lois and Jack Savage, 2710 Sigwalt. Douglas is Lois' brother whom she hasn't seen for some time. While here, they spent an entire day in the loop shopping.

An enjoyable evening was had by all who attended the party December 14 at the home of Doris Mackin, 2107 Park st. All who attended brought a toy to be donated to the Maryville orphanage. They also brought a 25 cent novelty gift which were used as prizes. Those on hand for the evening were Sue Sheetz, Mary Massa, Joyce Mulke, Karen Radke and Ann Krajci of Park st.; Jo Allen, Donna Piehl, Ruth Smith and Loretta Mayus of Dove st. and Alice Boyle of Sigwalt ct.

Lost--Boxer Dog

December 18 "Teeno", the pet male boxer of Beverly and Bill Stegman, 2201 George st., was lost. He is (dark brown; faun color, height approximately 33 inches, and weighing 55 pounds and has a Rolling Meadows dog license 28 on his collar. If anyone knows the whereabouts of this dog, Bev or Bill Stegeman would appreciate a call at Cl. 3-8634.

Grace Meller and her 5-year-old son, Danny, of 2413 George st., are confined to their home for a few days with measles. David, the older son, and husband, Victor, are hoping they won't get measles as a Christmas present.

Women's Bowling

Next week the bowling scores will be the deciding factor determining which team will play in the Paddock tournament. The team standings as of this week are:

Hedlin's Richer Milk	24½	20½
Jim's Service Station	22½	22½
Parkway Liquors	22	23
Bowen Hardware	21	24

High game of 185, which was bowled this week by Jo Polan of Jim's Service station team, beat the previous high game rolled by Randy Moses of 184 of the same team.

Birthdays

December 16 was a memorable day for the Novak children at 2403 Wing st. They celebrated their third and fourth birthdays together. Claudia was 3 years old December 15 and Greg was 4 years old December 17. Their friends attending the morning party were Jimmy and Artie Eggert, Jeff and Bobby Scott, Brian Jaaski, Vivian and Billy Mazonet, Suzy and Stevie Estrella, Georgia and Sandy Fackler and Maureen Mahoney. Two of the Wing st. friends who were unable to attend because of illness were Gregg Bickett and Mary Mahoney. The children enjoyed the individual cakes with candles and the gingerbread house that was the centerpiece. In the evening their parents, Myrna and Otto Novak, were joined by their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Doris Smith, who took the children out to dinner and then to visit Santa Claus at Amling's.

Judy Blanco who was 8 years old December 16 celebrated at a party in her honor December 17. Enjoying the party games, ice cream and cake were Carol and Richard Hofmann, Judy and Susie Schoenfeld, Judy Paeglow, Susan Schlaufman, Stanley Martens and Gary Cirincione. Judy is the daughter of Gil and Zella Blanco, 2706 George ct. Gil Blanco took the children to Kimball Hill school to visit Santa Claus.

Linda Westphal celebrated her third birthday at a party in her honor December 16. She is the daughter of Ed and Lil Westphal, 2705 Sigwalt st. Guests at the special Mickey Mouse theme party were Terry and Vicky Tyl, Michael Golden, Robin Bresemann and sister, Christy, 15 months old.

Glenn Brighton, who was 9 years old, entertained a group of friends at a luncheon birthday party Saturday. Attending the luncheon were Donald, David and Phillip Williams, Jimmy Brettner, Kenneth Burmeister, Bobby Keller and Glenn's brother, Scott. He is the son of Virginia and Bob Brighton, 2901 Dove st.

A first birthday was celebrated December 2 by Pammy Leziak. She is the daughter of Diana and Jerry Leziak, 2307 Dove st. All of the family, including maternal and paternal grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins, were present at a party in her honor.

January Schedule For 'Guys & Dolls' Is Busy, Crowded

The Guys and Dolls teen club has outlined a busy schedule of social events for members next month.

Among activities planned are a skating party in Wisconsin, a splash party at th New Lawrence hotel pool in Chicago, a special "jam session" in Chicago, and a "success party" to mark the great success of the recent club banquet for parents and members of the Youth Council.

THE GUYS and Dolls teen club will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 in the community Barn.

A special feature of tonight's meeting will be refreshments served by a group of mothers. Acting as advisors for the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wasko of Owl lane. Also attending the meeting will be Ray Walker, president of the Youth Council. The club will be following the new meeting agenda for the first time.

Teen-agers from all sections of the city, including Arlington Crest and Plum Grove, are cordially invited to join the club. Membership is limited to age 15 to 18.

Community Church Has Busy Christmas Season

The Christmas season is in full swing at Rolling Meadows Community church. Sunday the church was a beehive of activity beginning at the 9 a.m. service and ending with the 6:30 Christmas program in the evening.

During the day, more than 1200 people worshipped.

The church's annual Christmas program and party of the Sunday school was presented in double sessions. The program was built around the pageantry scene of the birth of Jesus. The program was under the direction of Betty Maseng, superintendent of the Sunday school, assisted by department the program, Santa visited each department, bringing gifts and good cheer.

At 11 p.m. Christmas eve, the Sanctuary choir will present a cantata, "The Story of Christmas." Carol singing and a nativity scene will be included in the service.

On Christmas day 2 regular services at 9 and 10:45 a.m. will be held. Families are invited to come and sit together, as all Sunday school classes will be discontinued in favor of the family worship. This will be the first opportunity in almost a year for the families to sit together in common worship. Special music on Christmas day will be sung by the All Girls choir, the Sanctuary choir, and will mark the first appearance of the Angel choir.

All services are public, and a cordial invitation is extended to all people.

Masons Extend Holiday Greetings

The newest Rolling Meadows organization, the Masonic Fellowship club, thought it appropriate to extend sincere wishes for a glad holiday season to all residents of the city. The club hopes the familiar phrases "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" will be true for all Rolling Meadows families.

The next meeting of the new club is Thursday, January 12 at the Barn. Membership is open to all master masons in good standing. Any mason not already listed by the club is invited to call Bob Binnie, CLearbrook 5-1282, or Norman Dierkes, CLearbrook 3-5225.

Girl Scout News

Rolling Meadows girl scouts and brownies are very proud this week over the success of their float in the Santa Claus parade Saturday. Judging from comments heard in the city, they apparently have good cause for their pride. The float was the only one in the parade. A mock-flowered bottom was topped by 3 lovely Christmas trees, each decorated with bright scout trefoils prepared by the girls themselves. Riding the float were representatives of the scout and brownie troops. The girls on the float were Patricia Hoppock, Kathleen Thiel, Diana Rush, Ellen Gruenbaum, Sandy Bozee and Lynn Schneider.

ALL OF THE troops participated in decorating the float. Special help was given to the girls by several people in the community. Hank Schneider who acted as a "miracle man" in securing supplies for the float. Through the efforts of Schneider Clarence Brinkman of the Arlington Park Jockey club supplied the farm wagon which served as the base for the float. Schneider also provided the loud speaker system and the tape recording of Christmas carols and songs which was played from the float. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Bozee supplied the wire used in the float. The men's association of Community church supplied the Christmas trees used on the float.

THE CHRISTMAS spirit reigned supreme at the Christmas party of the 4th grade girl scout troop. The party was held at the home of troop committee mother Helen Ebel, 2409 School dr. Assisting Mrs. Ebel and Mrs. Self were troop coleader Lorraine Anderson and committee mothers Helen Rush, Dorothy Wirts, Lois Hvid and Mildred Windsor.

The 12 girls of the troop played games with great enthusiasm for the candy bar prizes. There was a grab-bag to add to the festivities. Refreshments of candy and ice cream cake roll closed the party. (K

Special Christmas Music Service

Special Christmas music by Trinity Lutheran church choir has ben promised for the Christmas day service of the church.

The regular time of 10:30 a.m. at the Kimball Hill school will mark the special Christmas day service. Christmas carols and songs will be sung by the congregation and choir in the inspiring combined Christmas Day and Sunday service. Vicar Frederick Koehler of the Rolling Meadows church will deliver a sermon based on the Christmas theme. K)

LITTLE LEAGUE

On Wednesday, December 14 Nancy Marun, co-chairman of the Dreamland dance committee, had a meeting at her home for the women chairmen of the dance.

Each gave a report on the work they plan to do in preparation for. and at the dance. Individual committee meetings will be held immediately after the first of the year.

THE REGULAR meeting of the auxiliary, scheduled for Monday, December 20, was given over to the men, for more pressing Little League business.

The by-laws were reviewed, and all 10 articles were approved. Dues of $1 per year will be collected, and identification cards will be given each member.

Special thanks are sent to the father of a Little Leaguer, who did such an excellent job of printing the dance tickets, and for the speed in which they were made available.

Ticket sellers are urged to begin making their calls as soon as possible, giving plenty of time for the purchasers to make their selection of the queen.

IT IS WITH deep regret that, when listing the names for credit in helping with the 1 day public sale of dance tickets last week, the names of Mickie and John Mazanet were omitted. The Mazanets hand-machine numbered the entire amount of tickets, helped prepare the ballot boxes, and painted the signs that were used on the cars and tent. "Wee hour of the morning" work for Little League, is not unusual for Mickie and John, and many other enthused members.

The Rolling Meadows Little League and auxiliary wish to extend Season's Greetings for a very Merry Christmas to all. (K

Junior Hi Members Ready For Yule Party

Members of the Junior Hi fellowship in Rolling Meadows will have an opportunity to don their "Sunday Best" for their Christmas party tomorrow night. The party will begin at 7 p. m. and end at 10 p. m. Parents are asked to advise their youngsters as to the time they are expected to leave the party. Parents unable to pick up their own children should instruct them to request transportation from an adult advisor of the club.

Refreshments will play an important part of the evening. The menu will consist of hot dogs, cheese sandwiches, homemade cake and pop. To avoid waste food will carry price tags ranging from 15 cents for the sandwiches to 5 cents for the pop. Food will be prepared and served by members of the Junior Mothers club.

Members acting as chairmen of committees for the party are: Bunny Bunn, finance; Judy Stark and Kathy Thiel, decorations; Judy Rolfe and Karen Nelson, games; Gary Moreland, cleanup, and Bill McFeggan, publicity.

Trinity Choir Concert In Arlington Friday

St. Peter church, Arlington Heights, will ring with Christmas music at 8 p.m. Friday night. Children of Trinity Lutheran Sunday school, Rolling Meadows, will present their Christmas service. With an enrolled membership of almost 150, the Sunday school program should be an outstanding affair. Every child attending the Sunday school will participate in the program in some way.

The program has been planned under the direction of Lynn Bozee, 2200 George st., the Sunday school superintendent. While all families of children and other residents have been extended a cordial invitation to the program, the children themselves will be seated in classes with Sunday school teachers.

St. Peter church is located on Highland ave. just north of Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights. The Christmas decorations will be ready at the church in time for the Sunday school program and will provide even greater pleasure to the inspiring program.

Vehicle Tags Now On Sale At City Hall

The first City of Rolling Meadows vehicle tags are now on sale at city hall, 2207 Campbell st. First resident to purchase a new vehicle tag was Bert Trager of Oriole lane, well known in the community for his work with the Home Owners association, Boy Scouts and Fire Equipment drive. Tags may be purchased at any time during regular city hall business hours. The cost is $3 for each passenger automobile.

Vehicle tags designating Rolling Meadows as their home were supplied to residents for the past 2 years at no cost. In 1954 Kimball Hill and Associates provided vehicle tags for all new residents in the subdivision. The 1955 vehicle stickers were given to all residents by the Home Owners association.

Lions Donate $50 To Youth Council

The need for recreation facilities for Rolling Meadows teen-agers has not been overlooked by the local Lions club. In line with the club's youth service pledge, the Lions will donate $50 to the Youth council for the purchase of 2 ping-pong tables. The tables will be used by 2 youth clubs sponsored by the Youth council, the Guys and Dolls and the Junior Hi fellowship.

THE LIONS CLUB is also preparing plans for its role as hosts at the flag presentation in January at the Glenview Naval air station when the local cub and boy scout troops will receive their new troop flags.

The activities of the club is made possible through the recent sale of fire extinguishers. (K

Eady Bible Scholars Take A Breather

The Rolling Meadows Women's Bible class has taken a short vacation over the holiday season. No classes will be held Monday, December 26 or January 2, as both days are legal holidays. Classes will be resumed on Monday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Alice Talbot, 2312 Kirchhoff rd.

The class is taught by Mrs. Eileen Wertheimer. It is currently studying the gospel of St. John and has reached chapter 10. The class is open to all women of the community. The class meet at 7:30 p.m. for an hour. Once a month they enjoy refreshments following their studies.

Trinity Guild Meets Tuesday

Christmas is the theme of the regular monthly meeting of the Trinity Lutheran Womens Guild Tuesday, December 27.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Talitha Krecker, 2603 School dr. Aeting as co-hostess for the night will be Mrs. Dolores Frises, 3004 Oriole lane.

Most important item on the agenda will be the election of officers for the coming year. Presiding at the meeting will be the present chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Amundson. Refreshments will be provided by hostesses. All women in the community interested in the Lutheran church are invited to attend. k)

Movie Date Hit With Junior Hi Fellowship Members

The Rolling Meadows Junior Hi fellowship had its regular large turnout Friday for the club's movie "date" for members.

Attending were 45 young teenagers accompanied by 4 advisors. A 20 per cent discount was arranged for the club through the courtesy.

Advisors accompanying the group were Mr. Broeske, Mr. Larson, Mr. Woods, and Mrs. Dale Bycroft. A group of parents helped to transport club members to the theatre and back home. Helping with transportation were Mrs. Wilkans, Mr. White, Mr. Lopata, Mr. Klouthis, Mr. O'Brien, and Mr. Seestedt. k)

The American Cancer society points out that the only approved means of curing cancer today are surgery and radiation by x-ray or radium.

Few Take Advantage Of Registration Day

The special city voting registration day Saturday saw fewer voters register than at any of the special registration days ever held. Only 25 new voters were added to the rolls reported City Clerk Eda Zimmerman. A second special voting registration day, Saturday, Jan. 14, has been announced to give all new residents an opportunity to register for voting before local registration is closed and registrations can be made only in Chicago at the county building. The January registration day will be sponsored by the Home Owners' association who will provide publicity to get as many unregistered residents as possible added to the voting rolls.

Residents may register at the office of the city clerk, 2207 Campbell st. until January 17. Registration may be made at any time during the regular city hall business hours. (K

Cemetery Benefits Proposed Palatine Lutheran School

The proposed new Palatine Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran school will benefit in the near future when 10% of the proceeds of 150 burial lots in the Lutheran Section of Rand Hill Park cemetery will be donated to the school expansion fund of the church, it was announced by Rev. Hilmar T. Rosenberg, pastor of Immanuel.

The voters assembly of the church on November 14 adopted a joint recommendation of the board of elders and the church council to take an option on 150 burial plots in the Lutheran section of the cemetery with that understanding.

Rev. Rosenberg was aided in the transaction by William Kehe Jr., chairman of the congregation; members of the Board of Elders, Herbert Shroeder, chairman, and Jerome J. Greenberg, executive vice president of the Rand Hill Park cemetery association. He stated that the decision was reached "because Immanuel's own cemetery has been filled; many of the newer members were purchasing lots in different places; no other cemetery was as readily accessible as Rand Hill Park; and the cemetery, particularly the Lutheran section, was undergoing its first real development and expansion in years, since it was taken over by the new cemetery association."

A special consecration service of the Immanuel Lutheran section will be held in the near future, with the placing of a special marker or plaque on the site among plans discussed.

Restore Cedar Chest

A battered cedar chest can be given a new lease on life by covering the outside with Marlite plastic-finished paneling, a decorated hardboard available in plain colors, wood grains and marble patterns.

The paneling can be bonded o th ecedar chest exterior with a wallboard adhesive. Moldings to match the Marlite may be provided for corners if desired.

For a final modernizing touch, replace the old legs of the chest with stock modern legs of wood or metal.

TV Interference?

Some folks have been having unusual things happen to TV receivers. R. C. Krebs Jr., W9GID, N. Warren, would like to explain one of these, namely TV interference from amateur radio operators. This, using Mr. Kreb's words, is not uncommon and can be remedied, in most cases, very easily. After determining that the interference is from a "ham" operator, the set owner should attempt to notify the "ham" in question and inform him of the trouble. The operator will undoubtedly be happy to cooperate and will make adjustments to his equipment or, in some cases, recommend the TV set be adjusted to remedy the trouble. Full cooperation by both parties will, no doubt, lead to proper solution.

In the case of interference, make sure it is an amateur radio station. If the source of interference cannot be located, contact the Federal Communications commission, who will in turn notify the station in question. In all cases, the "ham" deserves fullest cooperation because without it he cannot correct the trouble.

Billy and Jimmy Ferstrom had tonsilectomies last Thursday. Billy came through fine; however, Jimmy had a rough time and had to spend several days in the hospital. (AP

Wally Kirchhoff Declares

This Christmas Season we are blessed both with Peace On Earth, and a rebirth of Good Will Among Men. This is more true today among nations than for many years. Let us show our gratitude by emphasizing the religious aspect of Christmas which celebrates the birth of Christ, and his teachings of Peace on Earth — Good Will Toward Men.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The ever-present power of the Christ, Truth, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Matthew's account of the coming of the Magi to Bethlehem at the time of the nativity of Christ Jesus will be featured in the Responsive Reading. "Christian Science" will be the topic of the Lesson-Sermon, December 25.

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, to-day is big with blessings. The wakeful shepherd beholds the first faint morning beams, ere cometh the full radiance of a risen day. So shone the pale star to the prophet-shepherds; yet it traversed the night, and came where, in cradled obscurity, lay the Bethlehem babe, the human herald of Christ, Truth, who would make plain to benighted understanding the way of salvation through Christ Jesus, till across a night of error should dawn the morning beams and shine the guiding star of being" (Pref. vii:1-10).

Just Because

There is usually only one reason why a man buys, but with a woman it might be any of the following eight: Husband says she can't have it; it will make her look thin; it comes from Paris; her neighbors can't afford it; nobody has one; everybody has one; it's different; "because."

New Mass To Be Sung By Wayside Choir On Christmas Eve

"Vinum Laetificet Cor Hominis," a new mass by the rising contemporary French church composer, Samson, will be sung by the choir of Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, at midnight mass Christmas eve. The Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor, will be the celebrant.

This mass, only recently available in the United States, was written by Samson, choirmaster of the Cathedral of Dijon, late in 1950. It was composed for the wine-growing parishes surrounding Dijon, the heart of the Burgundian wine district. Themes for the ordinary of the mass are taken from the Gregorian plainsong, which uses texts from the Bible in which wine is mentioned. The chant melodies used for the marriage feast of Cana are heavily drawn upon for thematic material. The musical influence of Debussy on Samson is clearly discernible.

The Our Lady of the Wayside choir, under the direction of Mrs. Norbert J. Hruby, 618 W. Campbell st., will also sing carols for the half hour preceding the mass. Mrs. Richard Drolet, 2403 Sigwalt st., is organist.

The midnight mass this Christmas is a significant anniversary for both the parish and the choir. The first high mass ever sung in the parish was on Christmas, 1952, in the auditorium of South school, then being used as temporary quarters. The first mass celebrated in the new church on S. Mitchell st. was the Christmas midnight mass of 1953. During this period from 1952 to the present, Our Lady of the Wayside church has grown from 150 families to more than 1,000 families.

Elk Grove News

Basketball

Elk Grove's Elks won their second game of the basketball season, December 14. In a thrill packed game, Elk Grove's 5 downed a scrappy team from Our Lady of Wayside. Fine shooting by Lester Landmeier and Jose Ortiz and the excellent floor play of Armondo Polomo highlighted the Elk's attack. Landmeier garnered 9 buckets for 18 points and Jose Ortiz made 6 baskets for 12 points. Polomo also chipped in with 4 buckets and a free throw for 9 points. Final seore was Elk Grove 48-Our Day of Wayside 25.

Thursday, Elk Grove played Wilson school at Prospect Heightx. Elk Grove lost a heartbreaker, with the final score 16 to 15 in favor of Wilson. The team now has a 2 and 2 record.

Spelling Bee

Lois Landmeier and Dierra Krieder represented Elk Grove in the sectional spelling bee in Arlington Heights December 15. Both girls did well; Lois was the 14th speller to go down and Dierra was 17.

Christmas Activities

"Strangers Came to Bethlehem" was presented the sixth and seventh grades Friday. The band, under the direction of Milton Case, presented a program of Christmas songs preceding the play, which was under the direction of Mrs. Coston. Bill Johnson played a trumpet solo, "Paris Angelicus," At the conclusion of the first scene Dierra Krieder played a flute solo, "On Wings of Song." A saxophone solo, "Angels Serenade," was played by Kenneth Anderson. Christmas carols were sung by the seventh and eighth grades at the conclusiion of the second scene. Michael Adams sang "Birthday of a King-Neidlinger. To conclude the program the chorus sang "Gloria in Excelsis Deo."

The cast for the play in order of their appearance was as follows: Virginia Remedi, Susan Horbus, Esperanza Mata, Nancy Hejkuk, Patti Folkman, Robert Gates, Theona Popp, Sally Wichman, Alex Goloskewitsch, Tom Nunamaker, Susan Kappa, James Kelly, Sheila Gilbert, Noellene Heimsoth, Andrea Duran, Alice Bollmann, Tom Heimsoth, Avilio Palamo, Sharon De Palma, Reyes Salas, Harold Fisher, Margarito Ramirez, Darlene Wilder and Delbert Blakely. Frank McCammon read verses from the scripture between scenes.

Susan Horbus was prompter while Richard Glass, Russell Hullison, Charles Mollenkam pand Richard Klamer made up the stage crew. Mrs. Grosche was in charge of the costumes, Mr. Turner the scenery and Mrs. Laird the programs.

Patti Folkman presented a corsage to Mrs. Coston at the conclusion of the program for her help with the play.

Mr. Turner supervised the decoration of the auditorium December 15. Frank McCammon was chairman of the committee, which was composed of student council members. The junior high group had their Christmas party Friday afternoon from 12 to 2. Sally Wichman and Jose Ortiz reigned as king and queen, as a result of an election held earlier in the week. Dancing and refreshments consisting of cookies, candy and punch made by the home economics department highlighted the party. Lower grades had parties in their rooms Friday afternoon. Mr. Eickhof of the Eickhof Nursery donated a tree for Mrs. Allison's room. The tree will be transplated outside after the Christmas holidays.

All rooms in the junior high had a Christmas tree among their decorations. Some of the lower grade rooms had minature trees. Mrs. Allison's room was one of the prettiest rooms. A beautiful set of 4 drawings on Christmas were drawn by the children. One was drawn by Arlene Kriese.

Friday afternoon a tea for the teachers ended the festivities. Mr. Cavallo provided a beautiful cake. Cookies, made by the junior high, and tea and coffee were served. The staff presented gifts to Mr. Cavallo, Mrs. Laird, Mr. Schulze and Hans Kosel.

The Student Council officers and representatives received ther student council pins.

Judy Kessler has made a graph showing the rate of growth in Arlington Heights in the last 20 years.

Dierra Krieder and Patti Folkman recently won the contest for the essay on "Bond Issue for Park District." Both girls will receive a season pass to the pool.

Mrs. Allison's fourth grade went to the Museum of Science and Industry December 14. Christmas in other lands is on display at this time. The children observed trees decorated in different motifs of various foreign lands.

The Tuberculosis drive netted a total of $14.50.

The table that the student council purchased for the science room is now on display.

Elk Grove school vacation has been extended by one day to confirm with offices and schools in the district. Children will return 9 a.m. January 3. This will be Tuesday, not Monday as previously announced.

TNT 4-H club will have their Christmas party tonight. Caroling, ice skating and refreshments at the home of Mary McClane is on the agenda.

Christmas Plans

Mrs. Hecht, first grade teacher, will spend Christmas vacation in Florida, while Mrs. Allison, fourth grade teacher, will spend the holidays in South Dakota. The Cavallo family will spend Christmas with Mrs. Cavallo's mother in Indiana.

Tommy Heimsoth celebrated his birthday December 21. Pete Quiroz was 15 December 16.

Guests

Dinner guests at the Frank Kessler home Monday evening were Mrs. Kessler's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Youngren of Harcourt, Iowa. The Youngrens were in Chicago for a few days attending the Farm Bureau convention. Mr. Youngren is president of the Webster county farm bureau.

Susan Kappa sustained a severe cut on one finger, requiring several stitches, when she attempted to catch a bowl that had fallen in the kitchen at home.

Six-year-old Mike Brezinski found that skating wasn't as easy as it looked. He fell recently on the ice and received a cut on his forehead for which he has been sporting a bandage.

Mrs. William Albiniak was hostess at a small coffee klatsch Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. William Noelle, Mrs. John Kappa and Mrs. Frank Kessler.

Birthdays

Birthday wishes are extended to Bobby Bleichroth who will celebrate his fifth birthday December 25, Christmas day. Also to Mary Wuestenfeld who will be 9 December 28.

Merry Christmas to all!

Christmas Program

The school Christmas program was held last Friday in the school hallway. The public had been invited and a wonderful operetta "Shoemaker and the Elves", was presented by all the school children under the supervision of Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Miller and Mrs Conkling. Between the scenes the audience sang Christmas carols and Santa Claus was there to see that each youngster received a gift. All present remarked thao they and their children enjoyed the evening very much. Thanks are extended to the teachers for their time, effort and patience put into the program and to all the children who participated. Thanks to Santa for making his appearance there too.

The new piano, which was presented to the school by the Mothers club, made its' debut at the party. Many thanks to the club for making this possible.

Guests,

Sunday supper guests at the Frank Brodnans, 1111 W. Wing st., were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and sons and Mr. and Mrs. James Burton and daughter.

The Ernest Tagge family and Mrs. Elizabeth Joost drove to Marengo Sunday to help Mrs. Paul Joost celebrate her birthday.

Saturday evening the Stan Luczaks entertained the following friends and relatives; Mr. and Mrs. Bud McKaig, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luczak and family. Their Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Paice.

Rand Rd. Speed Limit Cuts Accidents!

County Police, Residents Hail Highway's New Safety Record

New speed laws for Rand rd. have proven effective.

So declares Detective Peter T. Guttilla of the sheriff's police.

Accidents on the 16-mile stretch of U. S. 12 between Des Plaines and Lake Zurich have been cut drastically since the state clamped a 45-mph limit on the death road a month ago.

"Previously we handled at least 1 or 2 accidents a week," reported Guttilla Wednesday. "But we haven't had more than 2 accidents since the new law went into effect."

ADDING THAT he felt the present speed limit was a "just" one, the detective said, "Traffic has slowed down considerably on Rand rd., and people are realizing that we mean to enforce the law."

He said county police are making an average of 15 to 20 arrests a week for speeding on Rand rd. Guttilla added that no complaints about the limit being too low had come to the District 1 office.

"The limit allows motorists to keep their autos under control and minimizes the danger of fatal accidents," he explained.

Sharing enforcement of the highway with Sheriff Lohman's police are state police officers, who told Paddock Publications last week that a majority of motorists arrested by highway patrolmen are Rand rd. residents who argue that 45 is too low a speed.

MRS. WILLARD Tiedge, Plum Grove rd., Lake Zurich, doesn't agree, however.

She telephoned the newspaper Friday to report that "even if me nare caught speeding on Rand, their wives are on the side of the limit."

Citing the new limit as a "wonderful thing," Mrs. Tiedge said most women living on Rand rd. are grateful for the control.

"The threat to school buses has been corrected," declared the mother, "and all of us feel safer. Where once it took us 10 minutes to back out of the driveway because of speeding cars, we now can pull out with safety and ease."

Adding that it's merely a question of "getting used to the idea" of driving slower, Mrs. Tiedge said she'd still support the limit — even if she was arrested for speeding herself.

Paddock Publications initiated a campaign last September to control speed on Rand rd. after investigation disclosed that the highway had an accident and fatality rate 9 times greater than Illinois' other rural primary highways.

"IS PROVIDENCE protecting the drinking drivers of this area?" was the question asked of Paddock Publications this week. "You have done such a good job cutting down speed on Rand rd., why can't you do something about the drunks, or will you wait until one of them is killed?"

Trees and telephone poles have been the target. All drivers escaped with their lives and until now no innocent person has suffered injuries.

Tips On Winter Care Of Power Lawn Mowers

A few simple preparations now for the winter care of your power lawn mower will pay off in handsome dividends next spring, according to an authority in the field, Charles A. Livesey, sales manager, Jacobsen Manufacturing company, Racine, Wisc.

Owners of power mowers need only follow these few elementary steps to insure an easy-to-start, properly operating mower next spring when the first mowing day rolls around, according to Livesey.

1. MOWER AND ENGINE should get a complete cleaning, removing all dirt and dust. Grass should be pulled from the ends of the reel and dirt removed from the chains and mower deck.

2. Drain gasoline from the tank by removing the fuel line. Start the engine to remove any remaining fuel. Gasoline left in the tank over winter may become stale, resulting in gumming of the carburetor. Oil should not be removed from the crankcase of the 4-cycle engine.

3. REMOVE the spark plug, squirt a few drops of oil into the spark plug hole and pull the starter through once or twice. The spark plug should then be cleaned and replaced in the engine.

4. To protect the machine from rusting over the winter storage period, a light film of oil should be applied to all moving parts and exposed spots.

5. The final stage in the winterizing of your power mower is to cover the machine to protect it from dust and from "adjustments" by children playing near it.

AN ADDITIONAL helpful hint from Livesey is to have any necessary repair work handled now, before the mower is stored for the winter. Repair stations will do a much better job when they have sufficient time to work on the machine.

By carefully following this simple procedure you will be rewarded by finding your first spring mowing to be a pleasure, Livesey promises.

Let There Be Light

Mundelein has announced plans for a $75,000 program to place new vapor street lights in the business district and along route 45.

There is no such way to attain to greater meaure of grace as for a man to live up to the little grace he has.

—James Gordon Brooks

Virtue, wisdom, goodness, and real worth, like the loadstone, never lose their power.

—Richard E. Burton

The growth of grace is like the polishing of metals. There is first an opaque surface; by and by you see a spark darting out, then a strong light; till at length it sends back a perfect image of the sun that shines upon it.

Lighting Tips

Have you ever wondered why the built-in light on your kitchen range doesn't shed more light into pots and pans. Actually, your range light wasn't designed to help you see what's cooking but to help you see controls quickly and more accurately.

For all the light you need at the kitchen range you'll find one of the slickest, most convenient is a shielded fluorescent wall fixture with a 25-watt or 40-watt tube as suggested in the new GE Light Conditioning recipe for kitchen ranges.

Mount the fixture above the range so that its lower edge is no more than 58 inches above the floor, say General Electric lighting specialists. This pre-tested recipe has been developed to give you just the light you'll need for faster, surer seeing.

If you want your family and friends to enjoy comfortable television viewing, don't keep them in the dark, says E. W. Commery, General Electric lighting engineer.

Because television is much brighter than a movie screen, you need more light in your living room than in a motion picture theater.

For most comfortable viewing, turn floor and table lamps on the medium level (about 100 watts) and place them so that they are not reflected in the television screen.

Next time you send a package to sons and daughters at college, why not tuck in one of the rugged ruby red heat lamps. They'll find the lamp's penetrating infrared rays not only soothing for sore muscles but also a quick source of convenient heat on cool mornings or for late evening study sessions in chilly dorms. Several types of compact holders are available for these lamps.

New Vice Prexy

New vice president of the Illinois Agricultural Association is Charles J. Elliott, Streator, LaSalle county farmer. A former IAA director, Elliott was elected to the IAA vice presidency at the recent 41st annual meeeting of the statewide Farm Bureau organization.

Bits O' Business

Paper production in the United States in the week ending Nov. 26 was 97.4 per cent of capacity. A year ago the rate was 90.7 per cent. . . . There were 600,000 fewer farms in the United States in 1954 than in 1950, says the Department of Agriculture . . . . . Sales by U.S. manufacturers in October aggregated $27.9 billion, as reported to the Department of Commerce.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

A&P Bonuses

Employees of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company throughout the country will share more than $2,500,000 in pre-holiday compensation this year, it was announced today by Ralph W. Burger, president of the food chain.

Every employee with as much as 6 months service will receive a part of the annual fund voted by the company's board of directors. Distribution is scheduled for December 17. The amount to be distributed this year is $200,00 more than last year's compensation.

New Generator For Public Service

Commonwealth Edison Company has ordered a giant 305,000 kilowatt turbine generator for installation at the Waukegan Station of its Public Service Division.

The machine will be the biggest ever ordered by the system and is larger than any now in operation in the country, according to H. P. Sedwick, president of Public Service company. Three other units of comparable size have been ordered by other large utility systems.

The unit is scheduled to be in service in the summer of 1958.

Clark, son of Noel and Buelah Foss, of Bensenville graduated from Arlington Heights high school and began his training for television-radio-electronics in February, 1955.

Record Sales For National Tea Co.

H. V. McNamara, president, National Tea Co., has reported record high sales for the 4 week period ending December 3, which brings the company's total sales for the year to date, 48 weeks, in excess of their annual sales for the entire year of 1954.

National Tea Co. consolidated sales for the four week period ending December 3, 1955, were the highest of any four week period in the company's 56 years, amounting to $47,802,430 as compared with $42,693,487 for the corresponding period of 1954, and an increase of 11.97 per cent.

Sales for 1955, 48 weeks ending December 3, totaled $525,231,781 as compared to $477,355,592 for the same period of 1954. This was an increase of $47,876,189, or 10.03 per cent more than reported for the same period of 1954.

Asserts 40-Year-Old Wives Should Be Traded For 2 20's

by BIL DILLINGHAM

When a man's wife reaches the age of forty, a Scottish proverb says, he should be allowed to exchange her for two wives of twenty years each.

Although polygamy is laughed at and scorned by the mass of the British population, at least a few individuals are seriously advocating it.

Recent statements in the English press by a Judge Sparrow, formerly an important personality at Cambridge university, have aroused readers into anger, langhter and thought.

AMONG OTHER ideas, the judge points out that having two or more wives coincides perfectly with the major part of normal men who can only find happiness near two women of opposite types.

Perhaps it should be added that Judge Sparrow recently returned from Siam.

Divorce can be substantially reduced, he maintains, by having two wives that, lthough not individually satisfactory, make up the losses in a single wife.

READERS have sent in letters to several newspapers explaining that polygamy is clearly outside of an Englishman's capacity as a husband.

One reader wrote: "If I had two wives, I'd have to endure the chatter of not only one, but TWO mothers-in-law."

Another asks: "Have the goodness to tell me, please, how I can maintain two women and the corresponding children on five pounds per week?"

IN SERIOUS defense of polygamy, a reader complains that England does not tolerate religious freedom, since having two wives can be a religious question. In addition, an anonymous professor writes to tell us that the higher the cultural level of a human being goes, the more expanded will his interests be in all fields. He will demand variety in friends, thoughts, interests and activities. Monotony is only supported by lower animal forms. A dog or a canary is content to eat the same kind of food year after year.

One other reader, however, is strongly against polygamy. "If I had two wives," he writes, "I'd have to get up earlier and serve two breakfasts in bed every morning!" (Bill

Edwin Thurnau Is New President Of Palatine Twp. 4-H

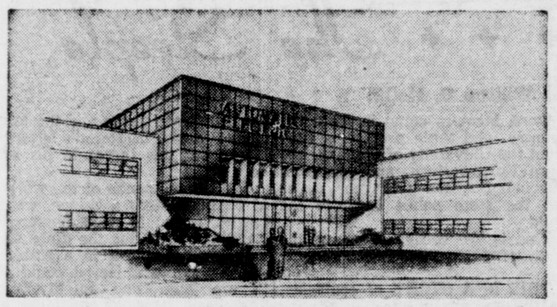
Palatine township 4-H club held its regular monthly meeting December 12 at Highland Grove school.

The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Edwin Thurnau. Roll call was answered with "what I want most for Christmas". Phyllis Berlin, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and also gave the treasurer's report.

Election of officers followed with Edwin Thurnau, president; Dorothy Plote, vice president; Phyllis Berlin, secretary; Billy Engler, recreation chairman; and Steve Bergman.

Announcements were made by the 4-H leader, Harold Bergman. After the 4-H pledge the meeting adjourned. Games were enjoyed by members John Becker, Georgia Bergman, Steve Bergman, Phyllis Berlin, Gary Campbell, Billy Engler, Jimmy Garbrecht, John Garbrecht, Bruce Knutson, Kenny Leiviska, Eddie Mossman, James O'Connor, Joan O'Connor, Dorothy Plote, Gerry Plote, Judy Peavey, Robert Reynolds, Sandra Sweet, Donald Thurnau, Edwin Thurnau, Shirley Thurnau, Harold Weise, Joyce Weise and 1 guest, George O'Neal.

Design New Factory Building



A new, multi-million dollar factory, research laboratory and general office structure will be erected by Automatic Electric Company on the 170 acre site of the former Westward-Ho golf course located Wolf Road just north of North ave. in Northlake. L. H. Warner, Automatic Electric president, made the announcement.

The new facility is expected to cost in excess of 16 million dollars and be completed by late 1957, Mr. Warner stated. The company, which has grown steadily since its founding over 63 years ago in Chicago, will employ some 6,000 persons at the new plant.

Research and development laboratories, and the general, administrative, engineering and sales offices will be housed in an ultra-modern, air conditioned, two story building in the front portion of the plant facing east, and will consist of some 300,000 square feet, or about 7 acres of floor space.

The company manufactures telephones, dial switching equipment and other telephone apparatus which it now sells to the some 5,000 independent telephone companies in the United States and to telephone administrations abroad. It has been estimated that both in the United States and throughout the world, Strowger-type equipment now serves twice as many telephones as any other automatic system. (B

University Plans Tribute To Nancy Turner And Steer

The University of Illinois college of agriculture plans a day-long salute to Champaign county neighbor Nancy Turner, her family and her Grand Champion Angus steer, Julius, when the return from New York City Thursday.

Dean Louis B. Howard of the college of agriculture said today that Nancy and her family are being asked to be guests of honor of the University and the Champaign-Urbana communities Thursday "in tribute to the young 4-H club member's contribution to superior husbandry in agriculture."

JULIUS, the grand champion of the International Livestock Exposition, will be on public display throughout the day and evening in the University's Stock Pavilion on the campusl and town and farm "neighbors" are invited to see the steer and to visit with the proud young lady who raised him and guided him to the top in the livestock world. The visit of the grand champion steer has been arranged through the offices of restaurant owner Howard Johnson, who paid $15 a pound for the animal in Chicago Tuursday.

The steer's visit to the University of Illinois will be the first of a series of calls at agricultural colleges in the Midwest.

DEAN HOWARD said tentative plans also are being made to have the sire and dam of the champion Angus on display in the Stock Pavilion so that visitors will have an opportunity to study the breeding background of the outstanding offspring.

While final details for the day have not been completed, it is expected that the steer will be flown from New York City to Champaign-Urbana Wednesday evening or early Thursday morning. Visitors are invited to see the steer in the pavilion during the day and evening, and a brief informal program is being planned for Thursday evening.

Dean Howard said the twin cities of Champaign and Urbana are being asked to join with the University in paying tribute to Nancy and her steer.

It Pays To Cut Costs Wisely When Prices Are Falling

Falling farm prices have focused attention on costs. This is logical because any farmer has some control over his costs but very little control over prices. However, cutting costs won't guarantee higher net income.

At times, explains W. D. Buddemeier, University of Illinois farm economist, it actually takes higher costs to increase net income.

Some costs are fixed, such as depreciation on buildings and machinery, taxes, interest and certain kinds of labor. They are the same, points out Buddemeier, no matter how much produce you raise and sell.

Other costs vary, such as fertilizer, gasoline, chemicals and certain kinds of labor. If you raise a larger acreage of corn, for example, it takes more gasoline and more labor. If you want to increase yields, it takes more fertilizer and usually more labor and gasoline.

AN IMPORTANT thing in cutting costs is to cut per unit costs, and not necessarily to cut total costs. Buddemeier explains that this may actually mean increasing certain variable costs, such as fertilizer, which would increase yields. Fixed costs, then, spread over a higher yield would mean lower per unit costs.

Buddemeier lists these suggestions for cutting costs to increase net income:

1. Make machinery and other depreciable equipment last longer by taking good care of it and keeping it in good shape.
2. Buy machinery jointly or arrange to trade use of machines to a neighbor.
3. Buy wisely. Good second-hand equipment may save you many dollars. Also buy on sale, in large lots or in the low-cost season.

4. DON'T BUY "luxury" equipment. Figure out how much a piece of equipment will produce or save you before you buy it.
5. Follow the best farming practices you know. Even though some of them will increase your total costs, they may increase production enough to cut your cost of producing each unit.
6. Substitute one cost for another, such as machinery for labor, if it will save you money without decreasing production. However, don't buy a machine just to save labor. That won't increase your net income unless you have another use for the labor or unless it means you can get by with hiring less labor.
7. Plan your operations carefully to save fuel, feed and time.
8. Put off nonessential expenditures.

A Christmas message from Frank Gaebel in the Klee Bros. division of Maurice L. Rothschild & Co. at Cicero, Milwaukee & Irving Park

Christmas is a wonderful day — not only for the young, but also for us of the older generation . . . it's such a happy day, full of smiles and twinkling eyes, and even an occasional tear of happiness.

I think that one of the greatest kicks I get out of life is watching my daughter open her gifts and see that certain sparkle come into her eyes . . . it makes me feel warm all over . . . and I'm sure this scene takes place in all your homes, too . . . so the rest of the gang here join with me in wishing you and yours a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

GI Home Loans

Veterans administration in Illinois guaranteed 2,327 GI home loans totaling $28,376,771 for veterans during October, the highest month in the 11-year history of the GI loan program.

The October figures brought the total for the first 10 months of 1955 to 19,375 home loans totaling nearly $244,842,950.

Thus far in the first 10 months of 1955, VA has guaranteed more home loans than in any previous entire year except 1947, when it guaranteed 32,005 mortgages totaling $196,057,393.

To Aid USO Xmas

James B. Dudek, 1117 N. Douglas Ave., Arlington Heights, has been selected a member of the volunteer Christmas committee of the USO, 308 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

The committee was organized so that thousands of servicemen stationed in this area and others passing through Chicago during the holiday season will find a festive "home away from home" in our city, they stated.

A hospitality table is being set up by the committee to serve cakes, punch, cookies, nuts, candies, cheeses and cigarettes to GI's visiting the club all during the holiday season. (WUS

Holiday And Winter Fire Hazards

For homes, churches, schools and places of business planning holiday parties, your fire department strongly recommends that fire safety be made just as much a part of those plans as the decorations or refreshments.

Holiday parties center around a Christmas tree—and because such trees are extremely combustible, these safety rules are suggested:

1. Don't set the tree up near any stairway or elevator shaft which would provide a draft.
2. The tree should not block a door or any exits.
3. Someone in authority should inspect the tree every day to determine whether it should be left up for a longer time.
4. Be sure plenty of ashtrays are provided for smokers. Don't allow smoking near the tree.
5. See that all decorations in the room have been flameproofed.

An added fire hazard exists if dresses, costumes or children's clothes made of net or gauze-like fabrics are worn. If it is impossible to avoid wearing them, they should be made flame-resistant with the following solution. Mix 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water. Dip the fabric in this solution, wring by hand, then hang to dry. Ironing does not affect the flame-resistance of fabric, but the treatment must be repeated after each laundering.

A word of caution. Don't expect too much from the term, 'flame-resistant.'' If you hold a match to flame-resistant material, it will burn. But it will not continue to burn when you take the match away. There will be no deadly or disfiguring "flash fire."

In the Shadow of The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Some farmers come in from the country, and three professors (one from the University of Chicago, one from Northwestern, and one from Loyola) But the Governor sends out the state police to seize the child.

This is the setting in which the birth of Jesus Christ occured.

THIS IS A STORY of contrasts. In the account of the Nativity by Matthew, we can see the deep clash between Jesus and the forces of the world in Herod's effort to stamp out this threat to his kingdom.

The magnificence of the world is at Herod's hand: a palace, wealth, power. Herod is a 260-horsepower Cadillac type. But the Holy Child was lowly — born in a stable of peasant parents. Herod could say, "I am high and mighty," but Jesus said later, "I am meek and lowly."

Herod was a man of great energy. He had met with some difficulties in maintaining his kingship. There were political tightropes that had to be walked. No man who was not energetic and alert could balance on that rope. When a problem, like a threat to his position, arose, Herod brought his energy to bear on clearing it up: all children under two years came under his ban.

BUT HERE was a helpless Infant against whom he was moving. This baby could only cry when he was hungry or uncomfortable — he could not escape Herod's soldiers.

Herod used his power for cruel ends. He had no hesitation about killing innocent children to get a special child. This is only one incident, Josephus the Jewish historian cites numerous examples of the cruelty and drive of this evil man.

Jesus grew up to be a man of compassion which is a different sort of power. The world often makes the mistake of assuming that compassion and sympathy are evidences of powerlessness and of lack of ambition. Compassionate people seek a good which is of a different spirit; they have a strength to be merciful and they are possessed by an ambition.

ALL JERUSALEM was with Herod. The urbane people of the city were excited when the professors from the great universities came. The poor little Holy Child was friendless. There he was — unthought of until strangers sought him. As soon as he was heard of, he became a trouble to the king. By exile, (they "hit the road" for Egypt) he was saved. Returning, he was unnoticed in "the quiet years at Nazareth."

This is the enigma of history: How does goodness survive when badness has both conspiracy and the sword?.

The answer: The governing of history is not in the hands of men. Above and beyond the wit of wicked men, the rule of history is in the hands of Him who plans to fulfill His will in His time.

The big question is, What does He want to do with me at this Christmas season? And the big answer is, Yes, Lord.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

May we take this opportunity to wish all of you and yours the merriest Christmas ever and a host of Happy New Years. May you enjoy daily the blessings of music, with its power to conquer prejudice, fears and to weld all mankind into a brotherhood of lasting peace!

And music appropriate to the season comes to us on a fine tape album (to be played back at 7½ inches per second on a playback unit like the Viking tape deck connected with your home hi-fi system) offered by E.M.C. recordings, entitled aptly enough, "Merry Christmas." It's a collection of your favorite holiday hymns and tunes played on the organ. Both tracks of the album contain the same delightful music, so that it may be reversed on the recorder and played continuously to get your guests and family in the true Christmas mood. We wish all the world might keep the music of Christmas fresh in its heart throughout the year; there would never be a war or disharmony!

IT WAS BEETHOVEN in his immortal Ninth Symphony (disced magnificently by the NBC Symphony Orchestra under Arturo Toscanini on Victor lp) who took Schiller's "Ode to Joy" in the choral finale which crowns this noble symphony, and set to unforgettably inspiring melody the trenchant phrase, "Now let all men be brothers." That sentiment we echo; let it take place in our community, in every community, in every town, till all of us may rear our children in a nation safe, strong and secure.

Mendelssohn, composer of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at the incredible age of 17, emulated Beethoven in this praiseworthy creed in his beautiful "Lobgesang," written in 1840 to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the invention of printing by Gutenberg, whose memorable Bible is one of the great forces of Christianity. In this beautiful work, Mendelssohn used a choral finale not unlike Beethoven's, and even more devout, for it is a thanksgiving to Almighty God. Unicorn Records have issued this superb and neglected masterpiece on two 12-inch discs (one offers the orchestral sections which precede the finale) admirably performed by the Vienna Orchestral Society under F. Charles Adler, one of our most talented American conductors. May the inspiration of this music echo our own thanksgiving to Him who guides our lives!

At St. Teresa

The Christmas pageant is traditionally presented by each sophomore class. This year's pageant was held December 13, in the portico of Lourdes hall.

Miss Votava, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Votava, 17 Hilusi Street, Mount Prospect, and is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school. (CC

At Lawrence

Joan Bernthal, 1610 Brown st., Arlington Heights, was recently elected social chairman for mortar board, honorary society at Lawrence college.

Miss Bernthal, a senior, is vice president of her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, advisor for Lawrence United Charities, president of Lawrence Womens association and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society. An honor student, she was elected to Pi Sigma and Sigma, and is a member of Aqua Fin, swimming group, and has been active in dramatics.

At St. Mary's

Area students on vacation from Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, for the 19-day Christmas recess which begins Tuesday noon, Dec. 20, and extends to Jan. 9, include Margie Liebrich.

Margie, a freshman at the college, is spending the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Liebrick of 509 Nawata, Mt. Prospect. For part of the vacation she will have as her guest Camille Parrish of Lubbock, Texas who is her roommate at the college. (CC

At Purdue

Gamma Omicron chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, located at Purdue university, has announced the recent initiation of Robert K. Turner, son of Mr and Mrs. William E. Turner, of 611 S. Nawata, Mount Prospect.

Bob Turner entered Purdue university in September, 1954, and is enrolled in the mechanical engineering school. Bob graduated from the Arlington Heights high school where he was very active in extra-curricular activities. At Purdue, Bob is a member of the naval ROTC and their basketball team. (CC

'Oklahoma' Movie In New Film Process At McVicker Theater

Rodgers & Hammerstein's "Oklahoma!" filmed in the new and most revolutionary of all motion picutre inventions, TODD-AO system, will have its Mid-western premiere at the newly remodeled, refurbished and modernized McVickers theater in Chicago on Monday evening, December 26, which has been sold out to Northwestern University Medical School Fund Benefit. The film will be shown twice daily and this will be the only theater in the Midwest to show this exciting new innovation in screen entertainment.

Todd-AO's major innovation is the use of a 65mm picture negative with three and one-half times the area of the standard 35mm frame. Regular release prints are on film 70mm wide, to accommodate the six-track stereophonic sound system, making it twice as wide as every other wide-screen process. The sweeping, unbroken Todd-AO image has a ratio of eliminating the "letter-slot" effect of other wide-screen techniques.

The camera utilized four lenses, ranging from the 128-degree, so-called "bug-eye," reproducing almost the full range of human vision, through the 64, 48 and 37 degree lenses for more confined areas and close-ups. To smooth out action on the giant screen image, the camera photographed at thirty frames a second, instead of the normal twenty-four frames. (Bill

In The Future

There's still time to buy your wife luggage with a monogram woven into the fabric . . . . A schoolroom slide or movie projector is permanently affixed to wall or ceiling. . . . Next spring a timer will be available for your lawn sprinkling system — one minute to one hour. . . . A frame that fits into a bathtub with suction cups holds baby for his bath.

More Limestone

A University of Illinois soils specialist suggests that you apply about one-sixth more limestone than the standard recommendation for every inch of plow depth over six inches, because standard recommendations are designed to correct acidity only in a six-inch plow layer.

If you ever feel just too rushed to put up your outdoor holiday decorations, here's a tip that can save valuable time.

General Electric holiday lighting specialists suggest that when the time is short, merely concentrate your decorating on a large window area and the doorway of your home.

Today's wide selection of ready-made lighted devices, combined with a few strings of outdoor lights and greens, can give your house that special holiday look in minutes.

FIRST STEP in this last-minute decorating plan is to place your indoor tree in the center of your window, if possible. This will give your outdoor arrangement additional interest and color.

Then, as shown in the picture above, place a lighted Santa and snowman or other lighted figure on the ground beneath the window. These ready-wired, weatherproof plastic decorations can be plugged into extension sockets and lighted in a matter of minutes. Regular household-type bulbs inside the figures give them a colorful glowing life-like appearance.

FINISH OFF your design with several strings of outdoor C-9½ Christmas lights woven through shrubbery and in evergreen roping above and below the window and around your doorway.

If you are spending your first holiday in a newly-built home that you have not yet landscaped, substitute evergreen branches for permanent shrubbery.

Drive a few short stakes firmly in the ground and wire branches to them. Then, attach your outdoor lights just as you would on growing shrubbery.

HOMEMAKER'S DELIGHT

This versatile cotton adapts easily to the activities of a homemaker's life. She can wear it to play hostess, work comfortably, or go supermarketing in comfort and style. Swirl's new "wrap 'n tie" fashion is made of woven plaid cotton in rich, warm red and black colors.

VELVET GLAMOR

Luxurious cotton velvet plus smart design adds up to a sum total of glamorous evening separates. Cheney's all cotton chenvella in canary yellow is trimmed with smoky black lace for a striking effect. This is a fashion that can be made at home by any woman who sews, the National Cotton Council says.

More Male Victims

More than 70 per cent of the 4,011 new cases of tuberculosis reported in Chicago last year were males and nearly two-thirds occurred among the white population.

An Arlington Heights boy, 9, recently won a 5-ft. Christmas stocking filled with toys and games despite a busy party line and guess work.

Randy Opela, 1520 N. State rd., is an avid viewer of Chubby Jackson's TV show for children, "The Little Rascals."

The kids' quiz involves sending in to the station the name, address, and phone number of viewers — and Randy was selected December 2 as contestant.

HE WATCHED the TV screen while his phone number was dialed—but the phone didn't ring. Mrs. Opela lifted the receiver and discovered the 4-party line was busy.

"I interrupted the conservation and told my neighbor there was an important message coming through," explained the mother.

The phone rang soon after.

WITH ALL THE EXCITEMENT, however, Randy and his mother forgot to watch the screen while the question was being asked and had to guess.

"As luck would have it, we guessed right," said Mrs. Opela.

Since most of the gifts were suitable for younger children, Randy has given most of the stockings contents to underprivileged youngsters and to his brothers and sisters.

Fifty Years Ago

December 22, 1905

Time to square up all accounts. Do your best to settle with everybody.

Santa Claus, like all the other up-to-date people, will have to use an electric automobile to make his trip this Christmas. There is no sleighing and the beef trust has covered all the fleet reindeer.

Look out, Will! Don't let your girl walk home again next Sunday, as the other boys will take her home.

This has been a prosperous year; the farmers are all building; John Nichol has a new horse barn, Otto Nickol and Christ Dittrich each a new chicken house.

Charles Brinkman came Monday and took his barber outfit to Addison where he has a large patronage and will not trifle with Itasca in the future.

Aug. Froelich has the bad luck to lse 7 stacks, about 80 tons of tame hay on the Elmer Robertson farm, Saturday night by fire; how it caught is not known. It was insured in the Ela Fire Ins. Co.

I have a nice 1906 calendar for each family that trades at my store.

Chas Stempel

We have arranged to install telephones on Christmas Day as gifts. If there anything more useful to your friends, relatives or a married son or daughter? Just what they need. Appreciated all the year around. Ask our manager about it.

Chicago Telephone Co.

F. W. Thies makes frequent trips to Chicago to replenish the fast selling stock of goods at the big Palatine department store.

It is not the store that has an occasional frenzy of bargain giving, that deserves your confidence, but the store that stands ready a ways to meet every emergency with the greatest possible values. Mattheis can always be depended on.

The users of gas can thank the village board of Arlington Heights for exposing the real reason why the gas bills are so high and as a result we presume the Public Service Co. will be flooded with complaints and there is a report that unless that company voluntarily adjusts some of the bills, the matter will be taken up with the Public Utility Commission.

The facts are that at a test conducted by a responsible Chicago firm of chemists at Arlington Heights, it was shown that the quality of gas was over 25 per cent below the grade which the gas company is supposed to furnish and for which they are authorized to charge $1.00 per thousand cubic feet of gas. The action of the company in testing the meters lately has prevented many kicks as the company was apparently doing its best to have the gas bills correct. It cost the village of Arlington Heights $50 to secure the above information, but it was money well spent if it will bring the Public Service Co., to time.

George Meier has bought seven carloads crush and sand of Albert Wille. He's going to build a new house and barn for his son, Louis. Herman Heidorn has the contract for drilling a well on the new place.

Everybody who has been shopping in Chicago are unanimous in saying that the effort, worry and trouble exceeds the amount of money that they expend. Still some people will not trade at home.

Chas. Seip has a Christmas show at his theatre Saturday night at which a large tree will be lighted with electric lights. The following day a Christmas present will be given to every child.

Now is the time to get your horse and cow hides, tanned and made into robes or coats by E. H. Dieke. Prices and quality guaranteed.

Vashti L. A. Lambert, daughter of Jeremiah and Diantha Lambert, born January 27, 1856, died at her home in Paltine Dec. 17, 1915.

Since graduating from Cook County Normal School she has taught school continually for the past 28 years in Jefferson Park, Chicago school. At the age of 17, she united with the Methodist Episcopal church. For more than 25 years she taught in the primary department of the Sunday school. The funeral was held in the M.E. church and was one of the most largely attended of any in recent years.

Thirty Years Ago

Saturday last, the Arlington Gardens Co., sent out the announcement they would hold an informal opening at their fine new brick block on Northwest highway and they did.

Carl M. Behrens, former vice president of the Lincoln Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, has announced that on or about January 1, he will open a real estate, loan and insurance office in the new Greenberg building, corner Northwest Highway and Evergreen.

"The Arlington Club" is the name of a new institution that is about to open in Arlington Heights. Its purpose will be to provide home like lodgings and home cooked meals for the people who are without a home of their own, are living in Arlington Heights. Mrs. C. H. Menard is the one who is planning upon opening the club. She will provide a haven to the bachelors who are fortunate enough to secure accommodations; it is not her present intention to accommodate the gentler sex.

Dr. Savage of Arlington Heights did his Christmas shopping in a hurry last Sunday night. It was about 7:30 Sunday evening, that the doctor was having a bit of trouble with his car, which was parked in front of the Sieburg pharmacy. He had left his car in gear and when he cranked the car, the latter started, taking first an iron post and then side swipping the north half of the Davis display window until a brick piller stopper the car.

Gaare Motor Sales have sold Studebaker cars many years but they believe that the popularity of that car was never greater than at present. The past week they have sold a standard six, a special six coach and a big six brougham.

In a rough and fiercely fought game on the Arlington Heights floor, Palatine high school again were victors over the Maroon and white by the score of 18-13.

Mayor J. D. Flentie, of Arlington Heights, in spite of three orders of the state liquor board still refuses to issue a liquor license to Ben and Clarence Rosenquist, proprietors of Rose-Lo Inn, corner of Northwest Highway and Euclid avenue. Mr. Flentie's defense has been that village ordinance provides for the issuance of only ten liquor licenses and that it would be against public sentiment and against the municipal code for him to submit to the order of the liquor commission.

Faced with a payless payday, the last before Christmas, C. H. Skoog, of the police department started out a week ago to collect delinquent business licenses. About all he received was promises, which do not pay salaries. The officers would have gone without pay check had not a sale of tax warrants been made. However, the village board made it plain to the police department Monday evening that every business man who does not make good on his promises, must be served with a summons before the first of the year. The police department has said Okeh.

Note —The recalcitrant business man will not have to spend Christmas in jail; the police will wait until New Year's eve.

The long drawn out legal battle in which certain parties and landowners in the Wheeling Drainage Dist. No. 1 filed proceedings against Commissioners Grant, Welinske and Rockenbach, ended Monday when the appelate court denied an appeal that had been filed in the name of Wm. Buesing and others. It means a complete vindication for the above three men upon whom had been heaped a lot of unjust abuse and criticism.

Harold Willson real estate office formerly located in Chicago, has been moved to Northwest Highway and Dunton Avenue, Arlington Heights.

December 21, 1945

The skating pond and toboggan slide are ready and in full use. Such was the notice posted by the Arlington Heights park board this week as the first wintry blasts gripped the town.

New building in Arlington Heights is closing the year with a bang. Paul Taege, local building commissioner, gave the o'k this week to a quarter million dollars in new construction. There is included one factory building for $35,000. The other permits cover eleven homes in Stonegate and 10 in Scarsdale, all costing from $12,000 upwards.

Already there are signs that an old fashioned winter is at hand. But we'll be warm with the Christmas spirit. For the first time in five years we will all be able to sit at our firesides happy in the thought of the safety of our loved ones.

Economy Fuse Manufacturing Co., Palatine, was forced to lay off 38 women employees because the OPA would not grant the firm permission to raise the price on Clearsit plug fuses. The cost of manufacture of the item at the Palatine plant was greater than the authorized selling price. Every fuse manufactured was sold at a loss.

Miss Hazel Ernsting, daughter of Mrs. Emma Ensting of Palatine, and Irving Nordmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Nordmeier of Palatine were quietly married Dec. 15.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The art of complaining is highly developed in some people. Most of us through life, and even through each day, find reason to complain about something. It is as natural as breathing.

Indeed, complaining is an art. It consists of showing to others how much we suffer, how the world heaps abuse upon us, fine, deserving people that we are. You have mastered the art when, after years of practice and self hypnosis, you have convinced yourself that it is really true; that you are a wonderful, good person, wishing ill to no one, always doing for others, and not in the least envious of their possessions or good fortune; that the errors you make are not due to your own carelessness, temper, or other emotional weaknesses, but because of bad luck, or no one advised you, or you were aggravated by the mistreatment of others. Yes, the art of complaining takes years to develop to perfection, and a perfect complainer is a wonderful person indeed, happily self satisfied, or contentedly sad, a martyr to imaginary abuse and mistreatment by others.

THE TRICK of successful complaining, however, lies in going just so far. Once you pass the point where you never have a doubt about yourself and your misery and mistreatment by others to the point where you decide to punish others for your misfortunes, you are on very treacherous ground. You are, indeed, ready for the men in the white coat and ambulance — you are in a condition where it is safer to put you behind bars. It's the only safe place for you, and others with whom you may come in contact. You have become a dangerous person.

It is natural to complain, in a good healthy manner, when you are justified in complaining. It might even be good for all concerned, because it can bring changes which are good for everyone. But to play safe, you should always keep this ace in the hole: you should have the common sense to know when your complaints are just; or when it is just a plea for sympathy. If you always see these two things clearly, complaining should not hurt either you, or others, too much.

Land Values

Average Illinois land values in 1954 varied from $44.81 an acre in Pope county to $626 an acre in Cook county.

Xmas Accidents

Last year, according to national safety council statistics, 515 persons were accidentally killed in two days at Christmas time. Traffic accidents caused 392 of these deaths - fire and miscellaneous accidents, 123.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

"Special Interests?"

Public furor caused the cancellation of the Dixon Yates contract because of "conflict of interests." Why hasn't something been done about the 415 million dollar Illinois toll road contract where there is a big question mark — has it been planned for the "general welfare" or "special interests?"

AN INVESTMENT banker who lobbied for the toll road law when it was pushed through the legislature, served as financial adviser to the toll commission, and helped organize the National Turnpike Association, an organization for those interested in toll road business. He then organized the largest syndicate ever known below the federal level for the toll road bond sales — a feat which is called Chicago's start to become America's financial capitol.

An Eastern engineer, who organized his firm shortly before the Illinois toll road program was planned, has also played a dual role by acting as consultant on the feasibility of toll roads for Illinois, and is also to be consulting and maintenance engineer for the project.

Unfair Practices

How does one protect his property from stray dogs and destructive children?

After back-breaking hours of hard work and sizeable sums of money spent to enhance our own property and the neighborhood, we are constantly harassed by destructive children.

I wonder what manner of people these are that permit their children to violate the rules of good citizenship. I blame the parents for these acts of destruction. It shouldn't be necessary to build a wall around one's property to keep trespassers off. By now the ex-city dwellers should have learned moving to the suburbs does not give them the right to permit their children and dogs to take over and ravage other people's properties.

THEY SHOULD realize the mortgage they pay covers only their particular plot . . . that their neighbors have rights for which they will fight even if it means lacking in common decency.

It could also mean the careless people might have to pay for the destruction their children and dogs manage to do, carelessly or deliberately.

Having reared one child, I don't recall ever having that child lack respect for another's property or she would have been adequately corrected.

WE ABHOR having to complain to parents when it is evident the parents are not concerned with our rights and make light of our complaints to their children as it appears when those same children come back for another sneak attack on what we regard as our happy home . . . Ha!

We are not at present able to reinvest in a home in a more remote spot, but the day will come when we will be able to escape being subjected to unfair practices by neighbors and their offspirng —we hope.

German Song

Listening to the German program of Franz Gerstenberg, I was reminded of a nice Christmas song. As children in school we took such songs for granted, like other subjects, but now, after more than 50 years, they seem to have more meaning.

So I wondered if some of the English speaking spirits would en joy such song too. This particula one is as follows, in translation.

Every year, at Christmas time,
Comes the Christ Child
Back to Earth again
Where we Humans are.

Turns with His blessings
Into every House.
Takes us by the hand,
Goes with us in and out.

He is on my side too,
Still and unnoticed.
Guides me in all ways
With His loving hand.

Tell all the Children
That a Father is in Heaven
Who is pleased with them
And will not forget.

W. Noelle,
Biesterfeld rd., Roselle.

Need More Help For Christmas Seals

An appeal to Chicagoans and suburbanites to give a little more for Christmas Seals so that tuberculosis can be sooner conquered came from the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county.

More than $500,000 had been received at the Institute one week before the end of the Seal Sale on December 25. This is some $235,00 short of the goal and Institute officials are hopeful that this amount can be reached by Christmas Day.

Puffer Tells Of White House Meeting

Suburban Schools Need Help; Delegates Endorse U. S. Aid

There's more to come, suburbia!

That was the grim analysis offered by Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, in reporting on the school finance chaos in suburban communities.

ference on education, saw a silver lining, however.

Puffer, recently returned from the White House con-

He cited equalized assessed valuations on a state-wide, uniform basis as an important step forward.

The county official saw hope in enlightened attitudes toward federal aid to education.

BUT, WARNED PUFFER, communities must face the reality of:

—school housing as a major problem for some time;

—expanding school needs providing rough sledding for suburban communities already hard-pressed; —children already born who will provide steadily increased enrollments in both elementary and high schools; and —growing necessities for continuing to provide sufficiently high salaries to attract quality teachers into the profession.

COMMENTING ON the White House conference, Puffer made these personal observations:

"I came away with a deep respect for the fine planning which produced one of the most constructive and interesting conferences I have ever attended.

"Delegates present represented of life. They were not cowed by outstanding lay citizens in all walks anyone and expressed their opinions freely, frankly, and in friendly fashion.

"The results, I think, indicated that the American people are doing a great deal of constructive, forward-looking thinking on the problems of education.

"Delegates expressed no political philosophy, or if they had one when they arrived, discarded it in the interests of trying to present solutions to our current pressing school problems which were in the best interests of all the children in the nation.

"THE ENDORSEMENT of federal aid for school buildings was based upon the proposition that it should be extended to school districts in any state which had exhausted its local resources. It was meant to be, as I interpreted it, an emergency program to be continued only as long as the present school emergency lasts.

"I should like to venture this observation, based upon my experience here in Cook county, that where we have exhausted our own bonding power for the purpose of building school buildings, that district is also in a critical financial position with regard to the operation of its schools. If federal aid were to be given for the purpose of building only classrooms, without any money with which to start, heat, and operate the classrooms, the program could not be of any assistance. Buildings without heat, supplies or teachers would be of no help whatsoever.

"There was no question but that the conference recommendation on federal aid to education was also definitely tied in with the understanding that there must be no federal control of education if aid is to be given.

"IT IS MY BELIEF that these conferences on education should be continued in the next 10 years, perhaps on a biennial basis, both at the state and national level. I see no decrease in the needs of our schools for school housing nor any increase at the local level in our ability to meet these needs, in many of our suburban communities. The solution to the problem in Illinois lies in providing a broader, more modern and effective base for the support of not only schools, but village, city, township, and county governments. The present method of putting the major or sole cost on real and personal property is antiquated," concluded Puffer.

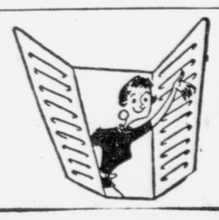
Confidential Loan Service

Arlington Heights, Park Ridge

JUST from Patty McArdle AROUND THE CORNER



Dear Peg:

Megan is "officially" six years old. She became so last Friday at 1:03 a. m. and how well I remember that icy, snowy night, six years ago, when Bob and I drove leisurely the eight blacks to the hospital. My little overnight case had been packed for weeks, in anticipation of a fast trip to the hospital and there we were making a very calm, undramatic trip, having even waited until we finished our canasta game to get started! Just to "pep" things up a little we decided to be daring and go through a red light—hoping that somewhere, lurking in the midnight shadows a policeman would see us and we could say, "But, officer, my wife's having a baby!" No such luck—there wasn't a car or person in sight.

I can remember expecting a little drama when we arrived at the hospital—surely someone would meet us at the door, maybe even with a wheelchair in case I couldn't walk. No one paid any attention as we walked the long corridor to the lobby and admittinng office and when we told the lady behind the desk who we were, I was afraid for a minute that she was going to say that she was sorry but we had no reservation! However, she finally checked with another person and, as it turned out, they were expecting us after all. The rest of the story is like any other mother's, who has had a normal, 1st (1½ hr.) delivery.

AND NOW, six years later, the baby girl has grown up to a rounded, blonde-haired, brown-eyed, little girl with a piquant face and a love for dancing and singing. Megan counted the days until her birthday. Each morning she would awaken with a grin and say "It's only eight more days 'til my birthday" or "It's only seven more days 'til my birthday." When at last the day arrived, we went into her room early in the morning, bearing our gifts and singing "Happy Birthday" — she, of course, had thoughtfully stayed in bed for the past hour, quietly waiting for us to pull ourselves together and get the "show" on the road. Bridget, naturally, had to get in on the presents too so they both received matching turquoise, cotton quilted skirts and blouses. Megan wanted "peddle-pushers," which she received in blue corduroy.

The two things she wanted most were a white, fur muff and a toe dancing doll. The white fur muff she received in the morning and the toe dancing doll was inside of one of the packages she opened in the evening. Mrs. Conder, the girls' favorite (and only) baby sitter and dear friend, was on hand for the party and gave Megan a lovely "story book" doll.

Of the many gifts from Gramma and Grampa, her favorite was a white plastic church—music box, with a light inside, which has fascinated both children. They insist on leaving the little lighted churchc on their table when they go to sleep at night—it evidently is a lovely sight to them in the dark room.

Books and unusual, tiny Christmas tree ornaments came from "Nana" and Aunt Dot.

All of our family join to wish your family a happy, happy Christmas and blessed New Year.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

One would think that after all these years we would learn never to plan anything in the way of fun for the kiddies. Every once in a while we become imbued with the spirit of seeing that the young have a good time.

We have once more discovered that they hate it and the only satisfaction derived from the project is strictly on the parent side of the ledger. By the time that the whole mob is ready to leave the house, we have settled 6 fights, told all and sundry that there is no time to run out and purchase new clothes. We have informed them that they have too got nice dresses and they do too look all right.

There is always a wail from 1 or 2 of them that their hair is just a mess and the lowliest orphan wouldn't appear in public with that curl going the wrong way. We also have one who decides at the last minute that it wasn't worth it, she will stay home and dine on a crust of bread and a glass of yogurt and not to pay any attention to her as she will be just fine.

By the time we get in the car for the safari, father is speaking to no one and, we are incliued to believe, is reliving his dear old bachelor days in his mind. We can't say that we blame him as he never had it so good as then.

When we arrived at the whing given for their pleasure, the youngest placed her little dimpled hands over her ears and proclaimed to the world in wailing tones that it was too noisy, the popping of the balloons was some kind of torture designed to drive her insane, and indicated that she would be very pleased if we would return home to the peace and quiet of Rin Tin Tin.

After this, any planning of things to do in the holidays will be left strictly up to the children. We will go and watch them shuffle around on a stage, listen to them sing White Christmas, slightly off key, tell how wonderful it all was and call it a Christmas. They like it better that way. And, so do we, now. We have learned our lesson, for this year

High Rigid Price Supports Mean High Farm Surpluses

Do high fixed price supports help control or reduce production of a particular product?

Experiences in numerous countries, besides our own, help to answer this question, reports H.C.M. Case of the agricultural economics department, University of Illinois.

If a farmer grows corn, wheat, oats and soybeans, and a price of 90 per cent of parity is guaranteed for corn alone, which crop or crops will the farmer try to produce the most of?

PROBABLY nearly every honest person will say corn, believes Case. This reasoning is strictly in keeping with the effort many farmers have made to increase their corn acreage allotments when they were in force.

Primarily, high fixed prices or price subsidies as used in Europe are designed to increase production of products in short supply.

Even before World War II, Great Britain subsidized the growing of sugar beets because there was little home sugar supply. During and since the war, prices for certain grain and livestock products have been supported the supports did increase the supply, but available supplies were still far short of domestic demand.

THESE EXPERIENCES and others can be interpreted in only one way, points out Case: High fixed prices or subsidies have been used successfully to increase production in other countries. There is no good reason why they will not give the same results here.

With this line of reasoning it is possible to see why products receiving high fixed price supports have developed the largest surplus stocks. High-price-supported cotton, wheat, corn and butter, for example, are the ones in greatest surplus.

The large surpluses of these commodities now tend to depress market prices. A just conclusion seems to be that the more of these commodities that are stored up because of high fixed price supports, the more the market will be depressed by the increased supplies in storage. (Fm

Give Hints On How To Have Happier Tenants On Farms

Some of the best and most secure farmers are tenants. On the other hand, we know that the average tenant is much less secure than the average owner and that he suffers certain social and economic disadvantages because of that fact. This is important because stability and the things it brings about are the foundations upon which a satisfactory family life and progressive communities are built.

If we agree that our farm tenancy system has some shortcomings, we should be interested in how to remove them. This assumes that the tenancy system is essential to our scheme of property rights and that refinements in it are possible.

ONE PRINCIPLE involved in farm tenancy that sometimes causes trouble is that, if a tenant increases the value of the farm by adding physical improvements, he should receive fair payment for them when or before he leaves the farm. Such improvements include limestone, phosphate, buildings, plumbing fences, tile lines, permanent pasture, fall plowing and any other addition that increases the value of the farm.

The question arises, "When and how should a tenant be repaid for improvements?" Usually settlement at the end of the leasing period is desirable. At that time the tenant should be paid for he value of unexhausted improvements.

IT IS EASY to compute the unused value if the landlord and tenant agree to the cost and depreciation rate when the improvement was made. If this was not done, the best guide on value is what such improvements would be worth to an incoming tenant.

Although landlord-tenant compensation legislation would be something new in Illinois and most other states, the basic principle of preventing one party from being unjustly enriched by another has been well established. For example, eminent domain and ejectment laws provide a method for determining the value of improvements made by former occupants of the land.

ABOUT 1920 the Illinois legislature considered compensation legislation but failed to enact a law. At present the only statutory protection given a tenant for improvements made by him is the right to take them with him if they are removable.

Obviously this affords little protection where the improvements consist of permanent buildings or limestone that has been spread. However, a compensation agreement in writing will take care of this deficiency in the law and promote the interests of both parties.

IAA Given 2 Farm Awards

The Illinois agricultural association received two awards for outstanding accomplishments during the 37th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau federation. The awards were for promoting increased sales of dairy products and for obtaining 1955 membership goals.

The IAA was singled out for effective dairy promotion efforts in connection with a national dairy sales promotion program conducted by Farm Bureau. The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization in Illinois.

IN ILLINOIS, farm bureau members took an active part in local, county and state programs to step up sales of milk and milk products. Receiving the award on behalf of the Association was Charles J. Elliott, Streator, IAA vice president.

For exceeding its 1955 membership quota, the IAA received a plaque for outstanding membership work.

Illinois leads all state farm bureau organizations with more than 203,000 members. Total membership in the AFBF as of December 1, 1955, totalled 1,623,222, according to Roger Fleming, AFBF secretary-treasurer.

A LARGE GROUP of Illinois farm folks attended the AFBF convention in the Sherman hotel. Heading the delegation was IAA President Otto Steffey, Stronghurst, Henderson county grain and livestock farmer, who served as a member of the AFBF resolutions committee.

Brucellosis Is Down But Not Out On Farms

Brucellosis has been knocked down in Illinois, but it hasn't been knocked out, and there's an important round yet to go, declares Dr. H. S. Bryan of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine.

Incidence of the disease in cattle has decreased steadily since a concerted drive against it was started 15 years ago. The number of reactors among blood-tested cattle has dropped from 5.1 per cent in 1943-44 to 2.1 per cent for the last fiscal year.

However, Dr. Bryan says, as long as a reservoir of brucellosis exists in some herds in the state, the threat of infection remains for neighboring herds that are clean now.

EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 1955, a state law requires all dairy herds producing Grade A milk to be certified under an accepted plan for brucellosis eradication. The deadline caused a virtual stampede on the five state laboratories doing blood tests, including the diagnostic laboratory at the veterinary college.

The next round in the fight will be July 1, 1957, when ALL milk sold in the state for human consumption must be from brucellosis-free herds. It's not too early to get dairy herds tested now.

RECENT PANELISTS at the state vegetable growers convention at Rand park including several local growers as well as state officials. Shown here are Charles Benck of Manhattan, secretary-treasurer of the group; Dr. M. B. Linn, head of plant pathology department, University of Illinois; John Nemanick of Manhattan, president of the association; and Elmer Steil of Des Plaines, assistant secretary of Cook country truck gardeners association.

Takes Farmer to Work Out Shortcuts On Chores; Here Are Some New Ideas

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers are gifted with a practical imagination. It's the sort that often leads to the development of new or improved equipment to cut down their choring time and labor.

Take the case of a Michigan farmer and his grain feeding problems in the milking parlor. Time was when the grain arrived via feed carts to be "dished" out a scoop at a time to each milker in the "parlor's" four stanchions.

Being an agricultural engineer, however, he pondered over what might be done to put this job on a more automatic basis. The answers are found in two photographs taken during a visit to the farm.

The top picture shows a view of the milking parlor setup. The "metal shield" separating the stanchion in the foreground from the one at the rear of the structure is really a feed trough. You're just looking at the back of it. The second picture provides a view from the other side. The feeder rolls on an overhead track and can be pushed into the working alley at milking time. There are four such feeders in the "parlor" —one for each stanchion.

Ground grain bins, controlled by manually operated gates, are located over the milking parlor so that feed can be chuted down to each of the feeders. One of these chutes is shown just to the right of the feed bin.

Because it occasionally gets pretty cold in Michigan, this farmer installed three 4-unit banks of 250-watt heat lamps in the ceiling. Also duplex convenience receptacles are located between each pair of stanchions for plug-in clippers and heat lamps—the latter for treatment of udders. And, you'll notice that the stanchion wall is notched so that the farmer can perform his milking chores with the least possible effort.

Law On The Farm

Until 1955, certification of agricultural seeds was not given official recognition by law. A private organization, the Illinois Crop Improvement Association, provided this service under regulations of the State Department of Agriculture and will continue to do so under the new law.

The new certified seed law requires the following:

1. Seed labeled as certified seed, certified registered seed, Illinois state certified, or similar wording, must be produced in accordance with standards set by the Illinois agricultural experiment station.

2. CERTIFIED SEED for sale must be labeled or tagged with the same information as non-certified agricultural seed plus a tag issued by the Illinois Crop Improvement Association as the appointed certifying agency.

3. The Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station is required to set standards for purity and quality — and may appoint an agent to carry out the certifying process. The Illinois Crop Improvement Association has been appointed as the agent.

4. Seeds produced out of state must be certified by the official certifying agent of that state before the seed can be sold as certified in Illinois.

All of the other laws that apply to the sale of agricultural seed also apply to the sale of certified seed. This includes the general provision requiring annual permits from the State Department of Agriculture for anyone who sells agricultural seed, except the producer who sells his own seed on his own farm. DOWN ON THE FARM with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

I attended a meeting of the carnation growers Tuesday, Dec. 13. It was an interesting meeting. I learned quite a bit about the problems that flower growers face. I also saw some very beautiful carnations.

Carnation growers have been working for years trying to develop the carnations that women desire. I think that they have done a very good job. I saw a very delicate looking bouquet of pink, white and red carnations. It would be very, very inspirational to eat your meals with a beautiful bouquet of these flowers as a centerpiece.

AS YOU READ some of the leading newspapers and magazines, look at the color sections and see the beautiful flowers they have displayed. If yo ulook at them, why don't you get the idea of surprising the family with a nice bouquet for Christmas.

The carnation growers told me that there will be a good supply of carnations for Christmas time at a reasonable cost, so as a little added present to your wife, surprise her with a dozen or two of nice red, white or pink carnations. Many women prefer flowers for the house more than anything else. Why don't you "say it with flowers" for Christmas.

Milk May Be Immunizing Agent For Many Diseases. "Protective Milk" might be another major step forward in man's never ending struggle to conquer disease, in what may be one of the most important medical advances in history. A new proposal for controlling diseases caused by bacteria or viruses has been developed.

Two University of Minnesota scientists announced the results of their almost 10 years of study which have led to their "Protective proposal in Milk" and they are confident that their new proposal will immunize human beings against such diseases as streptococcal infections, measles, smallpox, diptheria, tuberculosis and others. They also believe their "Protective Proposal" will apply not only to those diseases caused by viruses and bacteria, but also to those which result from certain molds and fungi, pollen and dust.

THESE TWO MEN, Dr. William E. Petersen, University of Minnesota, Dairyhusbandry Department and Dr. Barry Campbell, in the University Medical School Anatomy department have developed this new theory of immunizing men and animals against a wide range of diseases. The experimental work on a pilot herd of cows is now being established to test on a large scale the conclusions reached thus far. The American Dairy Association is providing the funds to carry out the present steps of the tests.

These two men in their experiments have injected vaccines for diseases caused by viruses and bacteria into the udders of cows and have received favorable results thus far. By vaccinating the cows, it will be unnecessary to vaccinate human beings who consume a stipulated amount of "Protective Milk".

The two men believe also that on the basis of the research to this time that it will be possible to immunize human beings against poliomyelitis.

Sometime in the future, I hope to give you a more detailed report of this experimental work. It has proved to be very very interesting.

I would like to wish each reader of this column a Happy Holiday Season. (Fm

Record Holsteins

Announcement has been received from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America of the completion of an official production record by 3 registered Holstein cows.

Cardoa Ty Vic Belle Fantasy, owned by Dorothy Hammerstein of Roselle, produced 12,390 pounds of milk with 514 pounds of butterfat, as she was milked twice daily for 350 days. Average daily yield was 17 quarts.

Florem Petunia, owned by Ray E. Meyer of Roselle, produced 13,351 pounds of milk with 566 pounds butterfat, as she was milked twice daily for 292 days. Average daily yield was 22 quarts.

Gypsie Posch, owned by Missionary Sisters Servants of the Holy Ghost, produced 16,682 pounds milk with 512 pounds butterfat, as she was milked twice daily for 338 days. Average daily yield was 18 quarts.

University of Illinois supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for this record and it is a part of the Herd Improvement Registry Department of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America in Brattleboro, Vt. This program is designed to give an official production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be made. (Fm

Farm Adviser Aid Resigns County Post

John Bickett, assistant farm adviser at the Arlington Heights office of the Cook county Farm Bureau, has resigned effective December 31 to accept a position as farm adviser at Carrollton, Ill.

Before coming to Arlington Heights a year ago, Bickett taught vocational agriculture at Milford, Ill. high school for 6 years and is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

In this area he directed 4-H programs and conducted adult extension projects for Farm Bureau.

AT CARROLLTON, he will become head farm adviser. Carrollton is a small farming community southwest of Springfield.

Bickett will take a brief vacation before beginning his new job January 1. He plans to move his family to Carrollton as soon as possible.

CARL MEES, farm adviser, said he hoped to find by February an assistant to replace Bickett. He added that in the interim, William Whiteside, a Farm Bureau adviser on the staff of the Tinley Park office, would direct local 4-H and extension activities. (B7

Urge Farmers To Plant Their Own Xmas Trees

Ralph Lorenz, forest researcher at the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture, grows Christmas trees in his garden in Urbana.

He spaces 16 trees four feet apart and takes up only 12 square feet of ground for his plot, which he calls his "sustained yield operation."

Every spring he plants two or three seedlings or transplants trees in the plot. In five or six years he will have two or three trees ready for harvest. He will then have a nice, fresh tree for his house every year and usually one or two left over for a friend or neighbor.

FOR VARIETY, and also to provide some of the answers to questions people are asking him about Christmas trees, Lorenz is planting several different kinds of trees. So far he has planted Scotch, white, red and jack pines, Norway spruce and Douglas fir. These are all common varieties of Christmas trees that you can find in the sales lot where you will buy your tree this year.

If you have several acres of unused land that you want to plant to Christmas trees, Lorenz believes you can find a ready and profitable market when they are ready to sell. Red, white and Scotch pine and Norway spruce will grow to about seven feet high in seven years, while jack pine grows even faster. Douglas fir and white spruce are slower growers.

The pines grow well in light, sandy soils in Illinois, while fir and spruce do better on the heavier soils. If you plant the trees four feet apart in both directions, you will need about 2,722 trees for each acre of ground.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our father, Henry Winkelmann, who passed away one year ago on Christmas eve.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
A beautiful memory he left behind.
He had a nature you could not help loving
A heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.
The Children. (*

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Kenneth Kleiner, who passed away 3 years ago Dec. 21, 1952.
Softly the stars are shining upon a precious grave,
Beneath lies one we dearly loved, but whom we could not save.
Friends may think we have forgotten when at times they see us smile,
Little do they know the heartache that our smiles hide all the while.

Moisture Found On Water Heater Can Be Fake Leak

Moisture collected at the base of a new water heater doesn't necessarily mean that the tank is leaking. It's probably nothing more than condensation, which will soon disappear.

The condensation is caused by heat coming into contact with a cold surface when the burner is first lighted, according to the Coleman company, a water heater manufacturer. The condition usually does not occur again while the heater is kept in continuous service, but where exceptionally cold water is used condensation might occasionally show up.

Kamera Korner

Photography can be a fascinating year 'round hobby and, according to Don H. Mohler, General Electric photographic specialist, some of the best picture opportunities of the whole year are just ahead.

While the triumph of successful shots of summer picnics or scenic vacation trips is still fresh in your thoughts, plan to take some really good pictures this fall and winter. Both indoors and out, the next few months are filled with excellent picture possibilities — shots of Hallowe'en parties and family gatherings at Thanksgiving and Christmas and indoor activities of every member of the family.

It's not necessary to have an expensive camera or intricate photographic equipment if you are faithful about following a few simple rules.

FLASHBULBS are one of the easiest ways to get enough light for good pictures. Indoors or outside, the easiest way to get food pictures is with flash. Many cameras, even inexpensive models, are available with flash attachments.

Biggest news today in flash photography is a tiny M2 bulb. Scarcely larger than a peanut (in the shell) they can be tucked into a coat pocket and carried off to parties, wiener roasts or parties without any trouble.

Because Halloween is a "natural" for interesting, story-telling pictures, keep your camera handy at all times.

Whether you're an experienced camera fan or taking your first picture, here are a few tips which Mr. Mohler suggests you keep in mind.

1—Keep your camera handy, particularly on Halloween eve, so that you can snap the "beggars" who come to your door.

2. HOLD CAMERA "rock steady" and press button steadily and slowly to avoid fuzziness in picture. Cameras without a focusing adjustment should not be used closer than six feet to the subject. (If you desire a larger image, plan to enlarge a snapshot taken at this distance.) Of course, a portrait attachment may be used if preferred.

3. Be sure batteries are "fresh" so there will be enough electric current to set off flashbulbs. It is usually wise to discard batteries after three months whether camera has been used or not.

4. Choose the right flash size and type of bulb. Consult your local camera shop for suggestions.

5. Don't forget, flash can be used for daytime children's parties or family gatherings as well as after dark picture taking. Use it to supplement natural daylight.

6. Last but not least — take several shots when you feel the subject material has possibility. That way you'll have a selection that allows a slight margin for minor error.

...but this Christmas give Flowers too
